The missionary address delivered on last Sunday afternoon, by Mrs Samuel Fulton of Kobe, Japan, was received with great interest and attention by the ladies and children of the Presbyterian church.

The Kingstree and Williamsburg boys who volunteered for duty on the Mexican border are expected to reach home within the next few days and a movement is on foot to give them a reception in the form of a barbecue or smoker. Our citizens should see to it that these young men, who so readily offered their service to the country, receive a hearty welcome upon their homecoming.

We must have money! Won't you pay us what you owe us without further delay, so that we can pay OUR obligations to others? We have tried not to harangue our readers with calls for money, but just now we need it, and we have faith enough in the good people who compose The Record's family of readers to believe that they are going to send us what they owe us without further delay.

The Kingstree Home Demonstration club held a profitable meeting at the demonstration office, on Monday afternoon, March 5. Miss Edwards delivered a very instructive lecture and Miss Logan, the retiring president of the club, presided at the meeting. As the club was re-organized, a new set of officers were elected. The result of the election was as follows: President, Miss Mamie Jacobs; vice president, Mrs A C Swails; Secretary, Miss Lula Brockinton. Miss Logan will assist Miss Edwards this week in conducting some of her country clubs.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs W E Nesmith Tuesday. A mission study class was organized for the purpose of studying the new book on missions, "World Missions and World Peace." Mrs J F McFadden was elected delegate, and Mrs M A Ross alternate, to the annual State Missionary conference to be held at Georgetown in April. At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments, consisting of sliced cream and cake, were served by Mrs Nesmith and Miss Edwards.

The revival meetings at the Baptist church conducted by Evangelist D P Montgomery began last Sunday and continue to attract large congregations composed of members of all churches. Like Apollos of old, Mr Montgomery is an eloquent man and mighty in the Scriptures and is listened to with rapt attention. Morning and evening services are held in the church, and afternoon home prayer meetings are being conducted over town by both men and women. The men's afternoon prayer meetings, however, are held in the Kingstree Furniture Co's store.

The Mission Study class of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs L W Gilland Tuesday afternoon. Those present were: Mesdames R J McCabe, Sue T Ervin, D C Scott, L C Dove, A C Swails, E C Burgess, W K McIntosh, P G Gourdin, W V Brockington, W T Wilkins, S P Harper, P S McChesney, Miss Olive Montgomery and Mrs Day, who is visiting her former schoolmate, Mrs Louise Gilland. At this meeting the study of the home mission book, "The South Today," was completed. At the next meeting, to be held at the residence of Mrs R J McCabe Tuesday, the study of the foreign mission work, "The Living Christ for Latin America," will be taken up.

The regular monthly meeting of the U D C chapter was held Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Beulah Nelson. The report of the committee on the preparation of the year book, Mrs L W Gilland and Misses Agness Erckmann and Maude Logan, was received and approved. An excellent paper on "Georgian Heroes Who Aided in Making Confederate History" prepared by Mrs W L Taylor was read by Miss Maud Logan. Mrs P G Gourdin, Rev G T Harmon and M A Shuler, Esq. were appointed as judges of the competitive essays to be prepared by pupils of the high school, the award to be made Memorial day, May 10. Mrs T S Hemingway and Miss Agness Erckmann were named as the committee on the care of the monument grounds for this month. Tempting refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Men Wanted on Pawley's Island.

There is a fine opportunity for able bodied men to earn from $1 to $1.50 per day as laborers on this famous island where fish and oysters are easily obtained at practically no cost beyond a little effort, thus making food cheap. The locality is perfectly healthy, and is in reality a summer resort for those who take life more easily. Mr J C Kellahan is operating a lumber camp there and needs men to help him with his work, in getting out logs, etc. It is an excellent opportunity for any man or set of men who want work and are willing to work when on the job. Applicants may apply at the Winyah Lumber Co's office at Georgetown and free transportation will be provided to and from the Island.

Pushing Forward the Cannery.

Mr H A Miller, a live wire factor in the promotion of a canning factory here, and a member of the board of directors of the Williamsburg Canning and Pickling Co, a concern that has long been advocated here and recently organized and chartered, is getting ready to call on subscribers to the capital stock of the company for a first payment, one-half, on the amount subscribed by each individual.

Mr Miller has worked hard in the interest of the enterprise, and is still putting forth every effort to make it a success. He has that old German stickability about him which we are inclined to believe means a great deal towards that end. He and the other directors hope to have the plant ready for operation by the time the canning season opens. J D O'Bryan, Esq, president of the organization, is also a young hustler and is doing good work toward pushing forward the plans of the company.

Every subscriber to stock should be ready to hand over his money when Mr Miller or any member of the directorate calls for it.

Luttrell-Watts.

Mr Eugene A Watts and Miss Effie Luttrell were married on Tuesday, March 6, in Savannah, at the home of Mrs Claude Felton, an intimate friend of the bride, who, after the ceremony, tendered a reception to the happy couple, at which the beautiful array of wedding presents were displayed.

The bride is a native of Tennessee and is a most charming young lady. She first met Mr Watts while he was engaged in business at Dublin, Ga. The groom is well known in Kingstree, where he made his home for several years and was a member of the jewelry firm of Watts & Watts. He is now in the jewelry business at Lake City, where he and his wife will make their future home.
