Will You Help Us.

A few weeks ago we mailed cards to a large number of our subscribers notifying them that their subscription to The County Record had already expired or was about to expire and requested each to call and make renewal. We knew that most of those to whom notices were sent were selling tobacco, getting a good price for it and would want to pay up. We are not very well pleased with the result so far, as not more than 20 per cent of our readers have responded to the notices sent out, therefore their names must and will be stricken from our mailing lists within the next week or two.

To those who are several years in arrears, we must say that being old subscribers, many of them having taken the Record since it was started thirty odd years ago, that we must have what is due us now. We have carried you on our list, for the reason that you were an old subscriber and felt that you wanted the paper continued. We knew of the misfortunes that have befallen you the past three years and reasoned that it would be ingratitude on our part to discontinue the paper to an old and faithful subscriber when he was in hard luck and failed to pay—simply because he couldn't. This case doesn't hold good with the majority of you at this time, and is a final word before discontinuing the paper, we ask you to settle up.

Mind you, paper, ink, and in fact everything used in the production of The Record during the time it has been going to you regularly without pay, has cost us from 100 to 300 per cent more than it cost us before the war began, and yet there is no abatement in these enormous increases in sight, and we need the money that is justly due us to carry on our business and keep the old Record—the peoples paper—going.

Only, this week we have had an additional expense that was like a stiff blow on the solar plexus. We had to buy and install a new engine, for we can't operate without power, and our old engine gave way—worn out from usage.

Come across, friends, with what you owe us. If you can't bring it to our office, then send it—we will appreciate it.

Who's Selling Intoxicants in Kingstree?

Complaint was made to us some time ago that a certain man from the country goes home drunk every-time he comes to Kingstree. Other instances have been called to our attention which cause us to conclude that intoxicating drinks, in some form, are being dealt out to people here illegally. This thing ought to stop. It is to be regretted that we have any citizens in this town—white or black—who have such utter disregard for the law as to be guilty of doing such a dirty crime. We ought to have enough respect for the moral welfare of the young manhood of the community to refuse to stoop to such a thing. We hate to admit that the law is being violated in this respect; but it is true nevertheless.

If any person or persons, business concern, corporation or whosoever the violator may be, has no more self-respect or interest in the welfare of the young manhood of the town and county, we hope that the authorities will get busy and bring such offenders to justice.

Kingstree has the reputation for the enforcement of law. We have a good police force, who do everything they can for the welfare of the town but if this thing is not stopped, we shall soon lose our good reputation. So we hope the proper authorities will get busy, catch the guilty party or parties and bring them to justice and to a term on the chain-gang.

BELIEVES IT BETTER THAN ANY OTHER USED

MRS. McALISTER, OF GREENVILLE, MAKES INTERESTING STATEMENT.

Daughter Aided Much. Troubles Gone. Her Daughter "Is Back at Work Now," She Says.

"Tanlac is a good medicine, and I am glad to say I think it as good or better than any other remedy I have ever used," declared Mrs. J. T. McAlister, of No. 9 Bryant St., Brandon, Greenville, in a statement she gave June 2. "My daughter took Tanlac because she was suffering from a badly weakened condition, and she was so sick she was just able to be out of bed. Her appetite had left her and she didn't eat anything at all hardly. All the time she complained of pains in her side and of headaches.

"But the Tanlac soon had her strong and well and she went back to work and is working regularly now. It gave her a good appetite and built up her entire system. Her strength increased rapidly after she began taking Tanlac, and now she never complains of those pains in her side nor of headaches."

Tanlac, the master medicine, is sold by Kingstree Drug Co., Kingstree; Mallard Lumber Co., Greelyville; Farmers' Drug Co., Hemingway; S. S. Aronson, Lane; R. P. Hinant, Suttons; W. D. Bryan, Bryan.

For several weeks past The Record has been late in getting out on account of a contrary old gasoline engine. This week it is late because of having to install a new kerosene engine. The combination of difficulties has pretty sorely tried our patience.
