

HEAD OF GREAT FIRM DOUBLES HIS WORK.

GARLICK AMONG NEW YORKERS DOING GREAT THINGS.

WAS "ALL RUN DOWN."

Widely Known Business Man Tells Interesting Story That Will Encourage Hundreds.

In the list of the men of New York who have done big things is the name of Morris Garlick. This man is secretary of the Down Town Taxpayers' association of Brooklyn, representing $10,000,000 in realty holdings alone in the heart of the great business district. He was largely responsible for Brooklyn's noted Flatbush extension, the great traffic artery from the new Manhattan Bridge. He is head of M Garlick & Company, of 181 Gold street.

Prominent in the real uplift work of the world's greatest city, he holds the deep respect of thousands with whom he comes in contact in business, political, church and fraternal affairs. Since boyhood, and for 47 years, he has labored. He is now 57 years old. It is only natural that, with all his activities, the strain should begin to tell.

"Maybe I have overworked," said Mr Garlick, "but, at any rate, I began to suffer from broke, rest, loss of appetite, failure to assimilate the nourishment I needed, and nervousness," he explained. "It is what the average man calls 'all run down,' and there are a lot of us in every city. I felt as if I needed something to build me up—something that would bring back the strength I was losing; something that would help take away the worries, give me a real appetite, tone up my stomach and whole system and quiet my nerves. Through friends I heard of a new medicine, Tanlac, and decided that if it could help others it ought to help me, too, so I tried Tanlac. And now," he continued—"for work is his big thought in life—" "I can do twice as much work as I could before. My nerves are quiet, I rest well, I enjoy my meals because my stomach digests my food, I am stronger and feel wonderfully better."

When men like Morris Garlick endorse a medicine, there can be no further proof asked. He felt it was his duty to tell of Tanlac to help others. No other medicine ever has won such support. Because Tanlac is the great reconstructive, system purifier and stomach tonic, supreme for weak, nervous, ailing men and women who need more strength, better digestion and revitalization of the nervous system, it receives endorsements like this.

Our Reputation for Quality and Reliability

Brings Customers to Our Store in Constantly Increasing Numbers.

In these days of scarcity of all materials, of advancing costs, of manipulated fabrics and of lowered or even discarded standards, our well-earned reputation as a reliable concern, dealing exclusively in quality merchandise, is equally as appealing to the rational, thinking mind as are our well-known business methods.

Customers do not object to paying more for their clothes—it's only a very little more they have to pay here. But they do object in greater numbers than ever before to paying for uncertainties or taking any unnecessary chances. So they turn to this store, perfectly safe in the knowledge that whatever price they pay, they are dealing with a dependable house which handles only known quality merchandise and does everything possible to please and satisfy its customers.

They pay no premium for this assurance of quality and satisfaction. On the contrary, economy goes hand in hand with safety here, and our greater value-giving is more conspicuous this season than ever.
