"Don't Start Anything You Can't Finish"

YOU agree with that sentiment we're sure; and you also agree with the added idea—"Don't leave unfinished anything you start." That's where the Nation is today.

We had to start something; and now we've got to finish it. The fighting's over, but paying the bills isn't. We've got to finish the job.

Buy the new Victory Bonds

They'll pay you a good revenue; better than previous issues: but that isn't the point. You ought to buy them because they help "finish the job."

The war taught us economy; not simply saving money, but spending it for the right things. These bonds are one of the right things; and

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are another

YOU can buy both—bonds and clothes; both high class security. The clothes are all-wool, perfectly tailored, very smartly styled; they last long and pay a daily dividend in service and good looks; and your satisfaction is guaranteed.

The Victory Bonds are a good investment, too; they pay good interest; they are backed by our government—your money back: and they help

Finish the job!

KINGSTREE, S. C.

Bolshevism Tottering

Advising Hungarians not to make the mistake Russian Bolsheviks have made, Lenine asks the Paris peace conference for terms upon which Russia may regain recognition and standing among nations. His armies surrendered to the Ukrainians, Trotsky undertakes last desperate moves in the Archangel district and in Siberia, while enjoying momentary success in the Ural region. Thus evidence multiplies that Bolshevism is tottering, even in its strongholds.

Bolshevism fails because it is class autocracy, and the world is now committed to democracy; because in destroying accumulated wealth it makes no provision for future production beyond the bare necessities of its dependents; because in tearing down the very institutions which have given society its security, opportunity and development, it fails to supply others adequately meeting human wants under which society may safely build for the future. Bolshevism is a blight upon every thing it touches.

In this country Bolshevism is losing ground. Its appeal is to ignorance, and not to intelligence. Americans are the most intelligent people on earth. Rejected here, it is losing its appeal elsewhere. The people of these United States exert unconsciously, perhaps, a tremendous influence on the people of other countries, and their rejection of Bolshevism is a tremendous factor in the decline of this devilish ism.

A Call To Baptist

Making a final appeal to the Baptists of the South to give their financial support in the million dollar campaign being waged by the home mission board of the Southern Baptist Convention, Dr. D. B. Gray, of Atlanta, corresponding secretary and executive head of the board, has sent to Baptist ministers all over the South the following statement: "The fiscal year of the Southern Baptist home mission board ends on April 30. Tomorrow is the last Sunday of the financial campaign. We need a million dollars to close the year free of debt. To do this we must have the combined help of our people, rich and poor. Men of means must give as they have given in other great drives and the masses of the people must have a hand in the task. 'We have had the greatest year of our history in results achieved in the work of evangelism among our soldiers, among the Indians, foreigners and negroes in Cuba and Panama, in mountain missions and schools and in church extension. The crisis is serious, but with our forces united in sacrificial giving victory is certain. We can then face the imperative demands of the new year with courage and confidence.' The final report of the home mission board will be made to the Southern Baptist Convention which meets in Atlanta May 14-21.

"Gentleman From Hell"

Small Ann's mother had been disturbed to hear her using the word "devil". "My dear," said she, "that is a word we do not use in polite society, and I never want to hear you say it again.

She noticed that her admonition was carefully heeded. Then on Sunday evening, about two weeks later, the mother inquired what the day's lesson had been about.

"Why mother," was Ann's answer "it was about when our Lord was tempted by the—by—the gentleman that keeps hell!"

Mrs. J. C. Bailey of the Cedar Creek section near Andrews died Monday night of last week. She had been in ill health for some time though her death came as a shock to the community. She was a devoted Christian woman, and held in high esteem by all who knew her. The body was laid to rest at Gourdins Chapel Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Bailey is survived by five children and ten grandchildren.
