In the great Centenary drive by the Methodist Episcopal church it appears from reports so far in, that the whole country has oversubscribed its quota. In the South, South Carolina and New Orleans were the first states to "go over the top" with their quotas. Kingstree district went over ahead of time with a surplus of over $7,000 to the credit of its people. It is probable that the total amount called for by the church will be doubled.

It is expected that the units of this division will be debarked at Charleston and proceed to Camp Jackson for demobilization. There are a number of Kingstree and Williamsburg boys in the 81st division and it is hoped that the report of its early sailing for home is not mere rumor.

SCHOLARSHIP AT ANNAPOLIS

Son of Former Williamsburg Lady Gets Appointment

Walter Erdman Love, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Love, who stood examinations for Congressional appointment in Shelby, N. C., in December, and was made principal to Annapolis. Before entering Annapolis, after being made principal, it is necessary to stand Annapolis entrance examinations. Mr. Love stood those three weeks ago, and was notified May 17, that he had passed. He will enter Annapolis in June. Mr. Love was a graduate of the class of 1916, Charlotte high school, and was one of the brightest boys in the class. His motto has always been "Success." He has splendidly lived up to it, or may be the fact that he is named for two of the most eminent divines of the day, Rev. Dr. Walter W. Moore, President of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., and Rev. Dr. Erdman, of Philadelphia, may have been an incentive to him to live up to the ideals which these distinguished men would have him. He was not unmindful, either of high examples in his own family, on both sides of the house. Mr. Love will leave within a few days for Annapolis.

The young man mentioned above is a grandson of the late Jno. R. Bryan of this county, and who lived and died in the Salters community. His mother before marriage, was Miss Sallie A. Bryan and was raised in the Salters neighborhood. She has extensive kinship in this county who will be delighted to learn that her young son, has received an appointment to Annapolis. Accompanying the newspaper notice of the young man's appointment is an electrotype picture of himself in the uniform of a sailor, and was received here by Miss Lula Brockinton.

EGGS

The "boss" hen eggs, of this splendid laying season, so far brought to our attention are now on our desk. Mr. M. A. Ross brought them in a few days ago with the remark: "Here's something, for your breakfast". The four eggs weigh exactly three quarters of a pound, 12 ounces or 4 ounces more than an equal number of the average eggs. One of the lot measures 4 inches from end to end and is six inches in circumference. These eggs were laid by Rhode Island red hens of which breed Mrs. Ross has a lot of very pretty and serviceable birds. She is justly proud of them, and if she will advocate the sale of eggs by the pound instead of by the dozen, we will back her up, for, as everyone knows, it is unfair to buy or sell at the same price per dozen, undersized eggs from mongrel birds that one gets or pays per dozen for larger eggs from well bred hens.

This egg question was the subject of a lengthy article in the Literary Digest a few weeks ago, illustrating the difference in the sizes of eggs and stressing the unfairness that is practiced in buying and selling eggs at so much the dozen without discrimination as to size and quality. It is quite true that occasionally a mongrel hen will lay an unusually large egg, but this is rather an exception than a rule. Only recently one of these unusual specimens was brought to the Record office by Mr. W. H. Matthews, who regarded it as a curiosity simply because it was laid by an old hen without the least entitlements to distinction or genealogy.

We once knew a very wealthy though miserly old doctor who did all the family buying, and to be sure that he got his money's worth when buying eggs, he got a shingle and cut a hole in it about the size of a large size hens egg. When he went to market he carried this shingle and selected only such eggs as could not be passed through the hole.

THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

Horse Sense About Tobacco

Good tobacco ought to be like a well-bred hoss—all th' kick taken out but all th' sperit left in.

You see, half the secret of makin' a good hoss is in the breedin' an' half in the breakin'. Selectin' tobacco that's grown right is only half of makin' Velvet. The agein' is the other half.

Thar's only one kind of agein' that gets th' right results—Nature's own. Nature's no clock watcher. She does a job right whether it takes two years or two thousand.

So when she gets through with the fine Kentucky Burley that we put away in wooden hogsheads for two years, it's just right.

It ain't been hurried none, or short-cutted. It's a Nature-done job.

All kinds of things are packed in tobacco tins, but your good neighbor will tell you "Velvet is the real pipe tobacco." Prove it for yourself.
