In speaking of Mr. Beard's candidacy last week, we said that a Sumter lawyer had been Solicitor ever since "reconstruction." We meant reconstruction in that office, when a Democrat was elected to succeed a Republican. Of course we did not mean the reconatruction of eighteen years ago.

We have received a neat little Volume of Poems. "Plantation Lays and Other Poems," by Belton O'Neal Townsend, of Florence, S. C., and tender our thanks for the same. Mr. Townsend's subjects are chiefly of a local nature, and as such, will interest all of our "home folks" who worship the divine goddese of poesy.
