

The Watchman and Southerner.

TUESDAY, JUNE 10.

EXAMINE YOUR PAPERS.

We request each of our subscribers to examine the address on his paper, and particularly to observe the date upon it. This date shows the time up to which the paper has been paid for.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

M. Moise, Administrator-Sale, Est. G. Richardson. M. Moise, Administrator-Estate J. S. G. Richardson. Ed. H. McCutchan, Guardian-Estate Maggie J. Murphy, Minor.

Personal.

Gen. Moise and family have gone to Sullivan Island. Miss Lula Harst was advertised to show in Camden Saturday night.

OUR GUESSING BOTTLE.

A Sewing Machine to be Given Away.

Premium to Cash-Paying Subscribers.

We will, on the first of July, present to our subscribers who are paid up six months in advance from that date.

A New No. 1 Sewing Machine.

We will, on the first of July, present to our subscribers who are paid up six months in advance from that date.

GUESSING BOTTLE.

It holds a quart, and is filled mostly with corn and peas, some watermelon seed and a spoonful of white mustard seed being added.

Deaths.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mosley, of Wedgefield, had the misfortune to lose their little son Benjamin, on last Friday night.

Children's Day.

The celebration of the Methodist Sunday School of Sumter, has been postponed until next fall. Rev. R. N. Wells, who was elected to preach the sermon, has declined.

Push.

It is not often that Sumter has as many solid buildings in course of erection as at present. Mr. Bogin's store approaching completion, the large double store of the Messrs. Hoyt and Mr. Stubbs, and last, though by no means least, Mr. Moran's large store on Liberty Street, all of brick, show that the business enterprise of the people here is buoyant and hopeful.

Dime Reading.

The Dime Reading at Mr. A. A. Solomon's last Wednesday evening had a large attendance. We have abstained from making any complimentary personal reference to the readers, in speaking of these agreeable entertainments in the past, but break that rule for this one, and mention Miss Sue Wilson for her judicious selection and fine reading. We enjoyed it very much.

Generosity.

We publish elsewhere a local from the Richmond Dispatch concerning a donation made by the Columbus Buggy Company and its employees, for the benefit of the Confederate Soldiers' Home. Our readers may remember that, some years ago, this company gave the committee who were raising funds for repairs upon the Baptist Church in Sumter, a splendid gift, so that benevolence seems quite in their line, and we take pleasure in reporting such generous donations.

Fine Cattle.

We had a peep at Mr. A. A. Solomon's Jersey Cattle yesterday morning, and they are well worth seeing. He has two heifer calves, one under thirteen and the other a few days over thirteen months old; and both here, for calves, well developed bags, and can be milked. In fact we saw both of them milked, and while the quantity was small, it was good, rich milk. Who can beat that?

New Orleans Exposition.

We have just seen a letter to Col. J. J. Dargan from the Commissioner of Agriculture, urging the importance of a full meeting of all who are interested in having the resources of Sumter County well represented at New Orleans.

The Columbia Female College.

We are under obligation to Miss Anna B. Smith for an invitation to the 17th Annual Commencement of the Columbia Female College, June 15th to 19th.

Commencement Sermon by Rev. W. C. Lindsay of Columbia; Address to College Students by Rev. W. D. Kirkland of Cokesbury, S. C., and the Literary Address by Rev. A. C. Smith, Columbia, S. C.

We see among the names of the Graduating Class, Miss Leila Melton, Bishopville, S. C.; Misses Emma and Zella Moore, Wedgefield, S. C.; and Miss Anna Smith, Lynchburg, S. C.

The Sumter Post Office.

Several occurrences of late have convinced us that red tape is more abundant at the Post Office in Sumter than the spirit of accommodation. It is right and fitting that there should be a definite hour for opening and closing the office, but the rule which makes it a criminal offense (apparently) for the Postmaster to open the Post Office one minute before eight in the morning, or keep it open two seconds after five in the afternoon, is stupid.

The Pratt Gin.

Mr. R. F. Hoyt still represents this popular gin, and will be pleased to take orders from those who desire to be supplied with a first class machine.

Cotton.

There is very little of the staple now coming to this market, but those who have any yet on hand can get the cash from the Factory at the following figures:

Good Ordinary, 10; Low Middling, 10; Middling, 10; Good Middling, 10.

Go to D. J. Auld's for the best Striped and White. He has a new fangled ice shaver and will fill your glass with ice like snow—if you like it that way. Dr. Auld makes all the flavoring extracts used at his soda fountain, and warms them pure and of the best quality.

Sunday in Sumter.

Rev. S. A. Weber, who filled the Methodist pulpit last Sunday, has this to say in his paper, the Southern Christian Advocate, June 7th. "It was my privilege and great pleasure to spend last Sunday in Sumter, the guest of my good friends, Brother and Sister J. D. Craig. The purpose of my visit was to supply the Methodist pulpit in the absence of the pastor, who was in Washington, D. C., in attendance upon the 'Right Worthy Grand Lodge of the Good Templars of the World,' of which at its recent session he was elected Right Worthy Grand Chaplain. Bro. Chritzberg is most highly appreciated at Sumter, and is doing a good work. I preached and administered the sacrament on Sunday morning. The congregation was not large, but quite attentive. I was over-persuaded to conduct the union service at our Church at night. The congregation was much larger. The plan is to hold such a service on the first Sunday night of each month, the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist parsons taking it turn about in the different Churches—no preacher occupying his own pulpit. The plan seems to work well, and to promote good feeling. Brothers Edmunds (Presbyterian) and Brown (Baptist) were both present on Sunday night, and took part in the services. The Methodist brethren are making haste slowly to build a new Church, and the probability is that the District Parsonage will be erected here during the coming fall. A short call on my good friends at the Parsonage was the only opportunity I had of accepting the hospitalities of my Sumter friends outside of the delightful home to which I was so thoughtfully assigned."

Our Exchanges.

The Aiken Journal and Review came out last week in a nice, new outfit. The table of contents in the June Electra was unusually good. It occupies a most desirable mean between the extreme, erudite affected by some magazines, and the sloppy nonsense in others.

The New Era.

The New Era, the colored man's paper of Charleston, S. C., has suspended publication. We are sorry, for it was always conservative in politics and its influence was certainly beneficial to its readers.

Privateer Items.

PRIVATER, S. C., June 2, 1884. Mr. Editor: Not having seen anything in your paper in a long time, relating to the farming interests in Privater, I will try to let you know that old Privater is making gratifying progress toward getting square with the world next fall. Oats are getting ripe, and the low, good heads. Dr. Furman and Mr. W. A. Nettles have cut their fall corn.

Cotton is more promising than it has been in several years at this season; the grass has been easy to get control of. Nearly all the cotton is chopped out, and large part has been hoed the second time.

One of our best farmers says that the corn is small for the time of year; but we venture to say that with a few exceptions, it is in better condition than usual, and we think more mature has been applied to corn than ever before.

Mr. T. H. Osteen says he will begin planting peas in his corn on Tuesday, by running shovel furrow side of corn, drop peas in it, and cover by breaking out middles with a twister or turn shov, "and let her rip." He says more corn is raised by too much plowing than by not enough. Will watch the result with interest. If some of us don't bestir ourselves, he will make so many sweet potatoes that we will envy him; he says "I have got two acres planted, and will put out one acre more and expect to make about one thousand bushels."

Blackberries and Whortleberries are getting ripe, and troops of half grown darkeys (in fact all sizes that can walk) are marching about hunting berries. Not much more work will they do for awhile, at least. The crop of berries of all the wild kinds is large; strawberries have not done well.

The prospect for grapes, both wild and cultivated, is encouraging; and we think there will be a fine peach crop.

A push of work during the fine weather lately has prevented me from putting on paper "Eye as a forage crop," but will do so as soon as possible, and give the many readers of your paper my experience with it.

And now if you will be with me I will give you other than farming items.

Miss Kate and Sallie Furman, left on Friday evening for Middleburg, Ga., where they will visit Mr. Farish Furman.

Past Grand Worthy (7) Financial Secretary H. O. H. Osteen, of Carolina Lodge, 173, I. O. G. T., made an eloquent speech on Temperance before the Osteen Sunday School, Sunday before last. He is an earnest advocate of the cause. He says Lodge 173 at St. James Church in Charleston, is gaining steadily; and that at the last meeting "the good deal from exhaustion," brought on by initiating so many new members.

And now Mr. Editor, with this query which I hope some one will answer, I will close: Why is it that, in this land of Churches, Bibles, and Newspapers, and in all of the light of the nineteenth century, Temperance societies have to be organized to do the work that the churches are divinely commanded to perform? Are Christians doing their duty to let this state of affairs exist—especially in view of the fact that there is scarcely any perceptible diminution of drunkenness? I think this question should receive the thoughtful and prayerful consideration of every thinking person.

From Macon.

In August, 1881, it was discovered that my son's wife was in the last stages of consumption. She was coughing incessantly and at times would discharge quantities of pus from her stomach, and we thought it only a question of time when life would be compelled to give way to the fell destroyer. After all remedies had failed, we got Brewer's Lung Restorer and began it in very small doses, as she was very weak. She soon began to improve; continued the remedy and was restored to life and health, and is today better than she has ever been before. I regard her restoration as nearly a miracle, for which she is indebted to Brewer's Lung Restorer.

Brewer's Lung Restorer, the great lung and throat remedy, is for sale by Dr. D. J. Auld, Agent.

Why suffer with Malaria? Emory's Standard Cure Pills are infallible, never fail to cure the most obstinate cases; purely vegetable—25 Cents.

Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) has cured me entirely of bad Blood Poison. I sent 100 miles to get it, and it made me as sound as a new dollar.

How the Young Grant's Stand.

The individual schedules in the assignments of Frederick D. Grant and Jesse R. Grant having been filed in court, it is learned that the debts and liabilities of Frederick amount to $2,215,066 and of Jessie to $95,429. Frederick's assets, of which the actual value is unknown, amount to the nominal sum of $1,990,013, and Jessie's to the nominal sum of $181,950. A striking feature in Frederick's schedule is the item of $140,800 for securities borrowed from the obliging firm of Grant & Ward, without security. The amount due to preferred creditors is $23,966; to other creditors, $820,800.

The Senate passed the House bill June 2, fixing the rate of postage on mail matter of the second class, when sent by persons other than the publisher or news agent. This bill, as it came from the House, fixed one cent as the rate of postage on newspapers weighing three ounces or less. Mr. Marcy explained that the Senate Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads had found that some of the large newspapers weighed a little over three ounces, and had therefore extended the newspaper limit of weight for one cent postage to four ounces. The bill passed the Senate with this amendment.

The Carolina Spartan says: "J. U. Adenbrook, wife and eight children, and H. M. Scott, wife and three children, were registered at the Central Hotel last Friday. They were from Warwickshire, England, having left there on the 4th and reached here on the 10th. They went to Hendersonville, where they expect to settle if they like the country. They are sturdy, intelligent people, and we are glad to see such settlers coming to this section."

OBITUARY.

Died, at her home in Sumter, S. C., April 8th, 1884, Mrs. SARAH EMMETT WIX, wife of D. James Wix, Esq., and daughter of the late Francis H. Kennedy, Esq., and Mrs. Ada E. Kennedy, aged 35 years, lacking two days.

In the death of this excellent lady, society has lost a refined, genial, and useful member; the Church one who loved it with singular devotion, which beginning in her girlhood, grew and strengthened to the close of her life; the family circle, a loving daughter, the only remaining child of her mother and she a widow, a true wife, and herself the tender mother of five children, the eldest a boy of eleven years, and the youngest, a girl of sixteen months. But this loss is not without its compensations, such as are possible in cases of this sort. The fragrance of her memory remains as sweet incense in all these circles, to remind them of her virtues; and the force of her example to teach them what they may become. The fullest and the sweetest compensation of all, however, is the assurance left them of her happiness, in the new sphere into which she has entered. It was interesting and comforting to observe, in her last sickness, the fulfillment of the promise that God gives his saints grace according to their day. At first, when she became to realize that her disease was fatal, there was a shuddering horror at the prospect of death, that made her question her title to the heavenly inheritance. But when reminded that the promise was only grace for the day, there was a spirit of resignation, and then one of joyful acquiescence which enabled her to say, "Though the attractions of earth are many and strong, yet, to depart and be with Christ, I feel to be better." Her last end was perfect peace. When the cold hand of death first grasped her heart, there was a convulsive shiver. But the consciousness of the presence of one stronger than death, soon diffused its glow, and then amidst tender farewell kisses to all the dearest ones of earth who pressed around her, and dying testimonies to the faithfulness and constancy of a Saviour's love, she breathed out her life on her husband's bosom, so gently that ere she was aware, she was asleep.

So fades a summer cloud away, So sinks the gale when storms are o'er; So gently shuts the eye of day, So dies a ware along the shore.

Her body was committed to the dust on her thirty-fifth birthday, the large attendance at the church and the grave manifesting the love and respect with which she was regarded by all classes, and their sense of the loss sustained in her early death.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

Powhatan, Va., March 1st, 1884. Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., Gentlemen:—I have used several bottles of your Kendall's Spavin Cure and have found it to be all that it is recommended to be. I have used it both in my family and for my horses with great success. I consider it an excellent medicine and recommend it to all. I saw one of your fine pictures the other day and was told it could get one by writing to you. If so I would like you to send me one. DAVID S. OXFORD.

His Slippery Glass Eye.

"The Squire," says the author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," "wore one glass eye and a wig. The glass eye was constantly slipping out of focus, and the wig turning around sideways on his head whenever he addressed the people of the Flat Creek District." Said spectacle, Parker's Hair Balsam preserves and promotes the growth of the natural hair. It also restores the natural color to hair which has faded or become gray. Clean, elegant, beneficial, highly perfumed.

WOMAN (THE BEST FRIEND!) DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR.

This famous remedy most happily meets the demand of the age for woman's peculiar and multifarious ailments. It is a remedy for WOMAN ONLY, and for ONE SPECIAL CLASS of her diseases. It is a specific for certain disordered conditions of the womb, and proposes to so control the Menstrual Function as to regulate all the disarrangements and irregularities of Woman's MONTHLY SICKNESS. Her physician claims for it no other medicinal property; and to doubt the fact that this medicine does positively possess such controlling and regulating powers is simply to discredit the voluntary testimony of thousands of living witnesses who are to-day exhibiting their restoration to sound health and happiness.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR is strictly a vegetable compound, and is the product of medical science and practical experience directed towards the benefit of SUFFERING WOMAN! It is the studied prescription of a learned physician whose speciality was WOMAN, and whose fame became entire and boundless because of his wonderful success in the treatment and cure of female complaints.

THE REGULATOR is the GRANDEST REMEDY known, and richly deserves the name of WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND; because it controls a class of functions the various disarrangements of which cause more ill health than all other causes combined, and thus rescues her from a long train of ailments which sorely embitter her life, and prostrate and ruin her domestic name.

Oh! what a multitude of living witnesses can testify to its charming effects. WOMAN! take to your confidence this PRECIOUS BOON OF HEALTH! It will relieve you of nearly all the complaints peculiar to your sex. Rely upon it for your safeguard for health, happiness and long life. Price—Small size, 75 cents; Large size, $1.00. Sold
