A Meeting of "Representors."

There was a Convention of some sort held just across the way, by our Republican friends vesterday, and we tried to get in and give our readers the benefit of the political Glean Springs, and will go North in a few wisdom which would be so lavishly dispensed during the session, but was informed the meeting was private, and we sadly wended our way back to our office; but the speakers had good lungs, the fires of patriotism were Miss Belle Caldwell of Wedgefield is in town visiting friends but will leave shortly burning brightly in their souls, and their with Miss Beck Blanding for a trip to the eloquence flowed out of the open windows and permeated all the neighboring space. From what we could gather, it was a pre-

Shiver had the floor when we first had time to listen: "Mr. Chairmans, does bast week in Mayesville, but will return to the first remark we heard. Andrews made a good Republican speech, basing his claims for the office on the work he had done for the party; he had made the first Republican speech in Sumter in January, 1866, and never faitered since. We think he also claimed to be one of the Rafton Creek martyrs.

Zack Walker was next called on; but did not seem disposed to talk. Another scene of confusion arose in which Cap. Shiver held the floor for a considerable while. One of the speakers during the hubbub said: "We are in a bad fix. Most of you don't know it, and if-you did, you haven't moral courage to say it. WEDGEFIELD, S. C. Arc. 8, 1884.

We notice in your issue of the 5th inst. that a resolution was passed by the Wedgefield Democratic Club, endorsing Capt. E. M. Cooper as a candidate for the next Legislature. This action of the club is news to a large majority of its members, and has caused an investigation of the matter resulting in CONTAINS showing it to be the action of seven members of a club with a membership of one hundred and forty-four, the basis taken for representation in last County Convention. Several members of the tlub live in close proximity to the place of meeting, who heard of no such meeting, and for no such purpose. We have nothing personally against Capt. Cooper, nor do we doubt his qualifications as set forth in said resolutions, but we are opposed to the action of the small minority for the following reason: It is taking undue advantage of other gentlemen candidates, whose claims as soldiers are as good, and whose deportment after defeat-had they been candi-
