Dodging the Lynchers.

Sunday last, Maj. Lesesne, who was spending the day with relatives in Sumter, received a telegram from Solicitor Gilland, telling him that it was probable that an effort would be made to lynch Thos. E. Shannon who shot and killed W. W. Barrow last week near Brewington. The Sheriff took the evening train for Manning, and brought the prisoner through to Sumter in his buggy, reaching town before day, Monday morning. Judge Cothran promptly signed the order releasing Sheriff Lesesne from the custody of Shannon. and giving him in charge to Sheriff Sanders. -We do not suppose that the lynchers will make an effort to follow the prisoner to Sumter; and if they did we are very confident they would fail in their lawless intentions. We ask them, though, not to make the attempt. Some valuable lives might be sacrificed, and all for an unrighteous purpose.

SUMTER COUNTY, May 31, 1886. Mr. Editor: While much has been said and s being said about the Farmers organizing in many portions of our State, there seems to be nothing doing in our county. The Sumter Park and Agricultural Association, the Sumter County Agricultural Association as well some of the Township Farmers' Clubs had delegates at the State Convention of Farmers, held at Columbia, on the 29th April, which was acknowledged to be the largest and most intelligent body of Farmers ever assembled in the State. It remained in session two days; the Sumter Agricultural Asociation has since met, and delegates who sttended the State Convention were present at this meeting of the County Association. The proceedings of this meeting have been published and we failed to find one word of eference to the State Convention, leaving us in total darkness as to whether our brother farmers, who attended the State Convention as delegates, found anything in its action to approve or to condemn. Many of us have waited long and patiently for a hearing from our delegation, and cannot account for so The General Sessions lasted until Thursday prolonged silence. We would also ask what of last week, and the following cases were has become of the champion of the down trodden farmer, Mr. H. R. Thomas, who was appointed by the State Convention to organize the County into Farmers Clubs, and whose voice has been heard long and often pleading for their rights. NUMBER 16. In November, 1861, a thorough canvass was made among the members, to ascertain why so many absented themselves from Church. The result doubtless was beneficial. The monthly concert of prayer was continued, and good reports were made now and then concerning these meetings. The mis-Reardon, c. f sionary contribution in 1861 amounted to one hundred and nineteen dollars. A large part of the minutes of meetings held in 1862 is taken up in reporting the trials of negro members. Gambling, profanity and adultery, were the leading of-

The pastor stated that he felt it to be his duty to minister to the spirit- Mitchell, r. f..... nal wants of the soldiers who are engaged in the defence of our country, and asked leave to devote himself to that work for a season." His request was granted. The patriotism of the people was rising. Having given up their pastor, they were willing to do still more; so, on March 22nd, "the Church bell was tendered to the Confederate authorities to be large circle of interested and sympathizing used in casting a cannon for the use of Capt. Garden's Artillery Company." The pastor returned to the care of the Church in June, and the year 1862 drew to a close without any special development in the Church. The heart of the people was on the field of battle, and Zion greatly languished.

Dec. 20, 1863. At a called meeting of the Church, the pastor stated his conviction concerning his duty to labor among the soldiers, and tendered his resignation to the Church. Bro. W. F. B. Haynsworth was requested to prepare a series of resolutions, expressing the high appreciation in which the Church held Mr. Chambliss and the regret felt at the prospect of his departure. Bro. Haynsworth's paper resolved itself into an argument in which the pastor was urged to remain with the Church. He was asked to suspend his final decision until the unanimous wish of the Church could be ascertwined, and it was suggested that a wish so unanimous and strong might indicate the will of God in the matter. Resolution 4 reads thus: "That notwithstanding our strong wishes that Bro. Chambliss may not leave us, and notwithstanding we are not sure that the Providence of God points him to another field, yet we accord to him the entire right to decide the question according to his own convictions of duty." And the report wound up by saying ; "That in the event our pastor shall determine after this plea to elect another field of labor, he is entitled to our love and respect because we believe that he is influenced only by conscientions convictions as to his duty." The appeal to Mr. Chambliss was unavailing, and on Dec. 27th, 1863, he preached his

In March, 1864, Dr. Richard Furman was Feb. '86-N B Scarborough to Margaengaged to supply the pulpit two Sabbaths in each month. In July, Dr. Furman, Mrs. Mary Forman, Miss Sarah E. Forman and Samuel Furman, were received by letter from the High Hills Church. On March 3, 1866, the following resolutions on dancing were offered by Bro. W. F. B. Havnsworth, and were adopted, and on Last Saturday was set apart by the Railroad | the following day were read from the pulpit

Though not by name condemned as sinful in the Scriptures, yet the amusement of dancing is nowhere approved of or mentioned in them as having been at any time participated in by God's people, while it is stated with emphasis that the children of the world dance. History tells us that it has always been a favorite enjoyment of the ungodly. It is one of the most common and universal modes of dissipation. The ballroom is the haust of thoughtlessness, folly and vanity. Seriousness, gravity, concern for the soul would be out of place there. When is the name of God mentioned there except with lightness or even profanity? Its scenes are in unison with the world only; its tendency is to promote idleness, extravagance and dissipation. The great body of serious, spiritual Christians condemn it, and even the world marks and comments upon a participation in such amusements by professors of religion as inconsistent with their profession. But the opinion seems to be entertained by some Christians that while it would be improper for them to mingle in the scenes of the ballroom, dancing may be so divested of its objectionable accompaniments as to be a harmless amusement. But were this so, who can draw the line wherein propriety begins? Who shall say how much of levity and folly gloss by using Parker's Hair Balsam while is sufficient to convert that into sin which, far is it safe to go with the world in its It is fine. amusements and where does danger begin know that he is arranging for getting up a Can any one even attempt to fix that point circular to be sent to the leading farmers of without peril to his spiritual safety and his the County proposing plans for this organiza- Christian reputation and usefulness?
