The Watchman and Southron.

TUESDAY, JUNE 29.

The Sumter Watchman was founded in 1850 and the True Southron in 1866. The Watchman and Southron now has the combined circulation and influence of both of the old papers, and medium in Sumter.

It is rumored that extensive changes will be made in the personnel of the Washington officials, at the end of this fiscal year-June 30. The Republicans are quaking with terror, and well they may. "Uneasy lies the head" of the office holder, especially when a cyclone is about to strike it.

The Gubernatorial contest in Georgia is still booming. Gordon seems to be in the lead, but we hardly think he deserves to be. His principal stock in trade-ecoms to be his war record, and the work he did for South Carolina in 1876. We fail to see how either of those things, meritorious though they be, give him any claim to the Governor's office. However, Georgia is perfectly able to settle her own affairs.

South Carolina in 1876 was not more excited over politics than England and Scotland now are. And well they may be, for the result of the election will determine the peace and harmony of the the students had better forego the lux-British Empire. Gladstone is holding strength are granted him for a few months longer, will in all probability achieve a victory over the malcontents who are now opposing him.

The decree for the banishment of the French Princes who have been aspirants to the throne, has been carried into effect, and they are now sojourning in the surrounding countries. We think that France has made a mistake in this thing, and has given a prominence and importance to these nonentities which nothing else could have

He was not permitted to pass through Russian territory, in Asia, and therefore was compelled to go over the mountains into India, where he now is if his usual good fortune has not deserted him.

A dispatch from Columbia to the Augusta Chronicle says: A prominent and well informed statistician, assured me to-day that the South Carolina farmers are in a better financial condition than those of any other Southern State. Now that is bad for the other States, for while we are not near so poor as we imagine ourselves to be, our financial surroundings are unquestionably blue, and we don't like to think that our sister States are worse off than ourselves.

We wish we had space to publish Dr Battle's magnificent address before the S. C. College. It is seldom that such addresses can condescend to the intellectual limit of ordinary individuals, but Dr. Battle's did. UNCALLED FOR.

A late article in the Collegian makes an uncalled for attack upon Mr. Tillman, and the farmers who are in sympathy with the so-called Tillman movement. We think the attack was in very bad taste, and, if the expressions of opinion by the young gentlemen who contribute to the Collegian have any effect in moulding public sentiment in regard to the College, it will also prove unfortunate. They are receiving the advantages of college training through the votes and taxes of the men whom they ridicule, and it is imprudent, to say the least, to provoke fresh antagonisms. WAKING UP THE FARMERS.

The Chairman of one of the important committees at the late Farmers Convention, writes the following open letter to the News and Courier, and we think it can be read by many with great profit. There is an undefined idea that the Farmers' Convention concocted a huge conspiracy to destroy the Democracy, and this letter may help to dissipate that idea.

To the Editor of the News and Courier: As chairman of the committee on organization of the late Farmers' Convention I am in receipt of a number of letters in reference to the fature conduct of said organization, and as aged in his preparation for the duties of another member of the committee is in receipt of similar inquiries, I ask space in your columns for a short open letter of answer and explanation, and it is beville about two years ago, and who due both to the parties writing to me has been tried several times, each re- and to myself to say that my delay in
