The Calisthenic Entertainment at

the Sumter Institute

An evening of enjoyment was spent by those who were fortunate enough to attend the Calisthenic exercises at the Sumter Institute, last Tuesday evening. The programme opened with an Instrumental Duett, "Pearl of Love." which was well rendered by Misses

Ewell and Spann, and was followed by a beautiful recitation from Longfellow, "Children's Home," by Miss Mary Miller. The andience was then highly entertained by the Free Hand Class in Calisthenics. Then came an Instrumental Duett by Misses McKagen and lowed by a Dialogue, "The Gray Swan," by Misses Solomons and Harriet Kershaw, and Happiness as It Is in Youth and Maturity. Isn't it a little queer that as we grow from youth to manhood the objects change which bring us pleasure? The amount of happiness realized varies but little? There seems to be a certain amount of the article implanted in us; no more, no less. The boy's sled gives place to the richly caparisoned sleigh, the toy house to the imposing residence, the toy watch to a real one, the toy boat to an ocean yacht-but the first yielded quite as much pleasure as the last.

The Christmas gifts and pleasures of youth | Conference. brought as much happiness as houses and lands, honors and fame do in after years. Our happiness is all relative, anyway. We Edmunds. "March Militere," which was fol- enjoy by comparison. The boy's sled is big enough to fill his mind. The man's vacht is merely a toy, which has its use for a time and then ceases to amuse. Christmas is a reality to the young-a definite pleasure point. To the full grown boys and girls it is an attempt to arouse the old enthusiasm, the The Calisthenics class with rings and belief in Santa Claus, the enjoyment in gift wreathes then marched in, and for some time giving and gift receiving. It comes and goes, and they try hard to persuade themselver that they enjoyed it with an old time zest.

About this time the newspapers teem with advice to husbands-how to treat wives, what to buy for them, and to be sure to buy something. Immediately following mandatory articles of this kind come suggestions to wives to make home pleasant for husbands done for infants that a little gentle reminder to the big married children may not come amiss; but is the editorial mind a safe one to go to for hints on how to maintain connubial felicity? Marry! I know not, forare nonplussed. Every one must work out the problem for himself.

Harper's Young People. An Illustrated Weekly: HARPER'S Young Propie has been called 'the model of what a periodical for young readers ought to be,' and the justice of this commenda on is amply sustained by the large circulation it has attained both at home and in Great Britain. This success has been reached by methods that must commend themselves to the judgment of parents, no less than to the tastes of children-namely, by an earnest and well sustained effort to provide the best and most attractive reading for young people at a low price.

The illustrations are copious and of a conspicuously high standard of excellence. An epitome of everything that is attractive and desirable in juverile literature .- Boston A weekly feast of good things to the boys and girls in every family which it visits .- Brooklyn

It is wonderful in its wealth of pictures, information, and interest .- Christian Advocate, N.Y. TERMS: POSTAGE PREPAID, $2 A YEAR. Vol. VIII commences November 2, 1886. SINGLE NUMBERS, Five Cents each. Remittances should be made by Post Office
