

search for him it was necessary to go to an expense that I'd cheerfully refund it all. I waited a reasonable time but received no reply. I then wrote again, perhaps more urgently. To this I received no reply. I then waited several weeks and tried it again and perhaps again but I heard nothing from him.

This disheartened me. For years I had set my heart on finding Lieut. Waterman, and now so unexpectedly having found Gen. Potter, I felt sure that the object of my long search would soon be in communication with me, for I could not doubt that through him some clue at least for further search would present itself.

It was not until I had written to him, having kept copies, to discover if possible, if I had given him any cause of offense. Of this I became satisfied, and had simply to give up the hope, so intensified of late, of finding my friend Waterman.

About this time when I had well thought of the farm, in workshops and elsewhere—girls at home, in factories and at school had learned the art in from three to six months' study during spare moments and had been helped to put in a class by Mr. Scott-Brown where they had earned from $12 to $20, a week. Write and ask for a free sample copy of Brown's Phonographic Monthly, and full particulars. Address D. L. Scott-Brown, 23 Clinton Place, New-York, N. Y.

It proceeded to thank him for the information he had given me, but he intimated that he hadn't given me much, and then he remarked, "I hate him," rather abruptly; "though we are not unfriendly." This remark surprised me, and I said, "why do you dislike him?" His entire army, black and white who made any reference to him, were marked in their commendations of Gen. Potter. In fact, several of them told me he was a Baptist preacher.

"B-a-p-t-i-s-t-p-r-e-a-c-h-e-r-l" B-a-p-t-i-s-t-p-r-e-a-c-h-e-r-l, the h-l, who said he was a Baptist preacher? I'll tell you what he is; he is a woman-hater.

"This remark surprises me even more. He certainly was very gentlemanly to us while he was in our town." "Did you ever have any communications with him?" "Yes, the rudeness of the negro soldiers in our house forced us to seek a guard to protect us, and he gave us all we asked."

"Then you saw and conversed with him?" "No, but Mrs. — made this request of him. She saw and talked with him."
