

The Watchman and Southron.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21.

Entered at the Post Office at Sumter, S. C., as Second Class Matter.

EXAMINE YOUR DATES.

We request each of our subscribers to examine the date on his paper, and particularly to observe the date upon it. This date shows the time up to which the paper has been paid for.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

R. F. Hoyt—Cox Strayed. Peter Ouzens—Taken up. J. Rytenberg & Sons—Our High Flyer. D. J. Wins, President—Be Comfortable. C. M. Hunt, Clerk and Treasurer—Public Notice.

Personal.

Mr. E. H. Holman, of Mechanicville, is in the city on a visit.

Mr. M. E. Gies, of Florence, is in the city for the purpose of stopping.

Miss Agnes Dick, is spending a few days in Charleston, visiting her sister, Mrs. Cordes.

Messrs. Willie Bogin and Rosendorf, of Sumter, were in town last Thursday—Hunting Fishes.

Miss Irene Pierson has returned to Sumter after a very pleasant visit of several months to relatives and friends in Jessup, Ga.

Col. James D. Graham, who has been sick, we are glad to say is out again and at his post of duty.

Mr. A. A. Solomon, who went to New York several weeks ago to purchase his Spring stock, has returned to Sumter.

Messrs. George D. Shores and W. W. Farish from Winston, N. C., have been added to the clerical force at J. Rytenberg & Son's store.

Mr. S. D. Pierson, formerly of Clarendon county, has been elected Superintendent of the Orange farm at Columbia in place of Mr. J. S. Farner, who died recently.

Clifton Galluchat, of the Charleston Bar, was in the city yesterday on legal business.

Mr. Galluchat is rising and promising young lawyer and will soon make his mark as an able lawyer.

Mr. J. H. Bice, Superintendent of Education, Col. J. H. Bice was in Sumter on last Friday on his way to Mayesville where he made a speech in behalf of education.

Miss Daisie Moore, who went to Georgetown about two weeks ago, is expected home in a few days.

Miss Moore's many social graces and charming accomplishments have won an abiding place in the hearts of the Georgetown people for her.

General H. B. Bie, eldest son of Attorney General Bie, called himself with language at the recent examination in Charleston for the appointment of a cadetship at West Point.

Major David B. Anderson was in town for several days during the past week, the guest of Joseph Dor, Esq.

The Major is a candidate for Solicitor, and has considerable backing in his Sumter home, and elsewhere. The race promises to be lively—Georgetown Times.

Handsome assortment of Easter Cards at DeLorme's Drug Store.

There is some talk of having a Dancing School in Sumter soon. A first class dancing master has been written to and efforts are being made to get him up a school.

An excellent plat of the Aycock plantation in Wedgefield Township has been recently made by Mr. R. S. Bradwell, the efficient clerk in the Clerk's Office, and it is worth looking at.

The weather last night was on its mettle. It was rain, thunder, lightning and wind in superabundance. We are informed that the cotton fields in this county look like small size mill ponds.

Mr. Sidney Morris, of Privater Post Office, sustained quite a severe loss on last Friday in the death of a fine horse which accidentally fell in a ditch near Mr. Frank Winkles' place and broke its neck.

Mr. J. W. Windham showed us quite a quantity in the shape of a four-legged chicken on last Saturday. It had too many legs for a healthy growth and consequently it died young.

Our progressive young merchant, Chas. Kingman of the firm of Kingman & Co., is one of the best judges of goods in this section of the State, and you can always find in his establishment just what you are looking for.

On last Thursday night the members of the S. L. I. serenaded Col. D. J. Auld, Capt. H. Wilson, and Lieut. R. A. Brown, Lieut. Aaron Phelps, Dr. John S. Huggson, and Rev. John Kershaw, and in return they were treated to soul-stirring speeches and a grand "hay out."

Mr. S. E. Brown has bought from Mr. Colman Wilson the brick store occupied by Mr. Altamont Moss, which he will remodel and make a thing of beauty this summer.

He has also purchased the old Methodist Church parsonage on the corner of Church and Republican Streets, which handsome piece of property he intends to improve very much by the erection of a two story residence on the same after a while.

Base Ball! Base Ball!! A full line of Base Ball goods can be found at T. C. Scaffe's.

Cold Wave. Mr. Hurst, City Clerk, received the following telegram from the Weather Bureau this morning: Hoist cold wave signal. The temperature will fall about twenty degrees by seven A. M. Thursday, 22d.

Privater Post Office. A new Post Office has been opened at Tindall's store a few miles from Old Privater, with Mr. H. Drane Tindall Postmaster, and with the name of Privater. Those of our patrons who want their papers sent there will please notify us.

"Sawyer." Where is Sawyer. The Augusta Chronicle says: A conductor poked his head in the door of a car and called out the station "Sawyer," whereupon a young man on his wedding tour, who was about to kiss his bride, yelled back: "I don't care if you do, sir; she's my wife."

Easter Cards! Easter Cards! DeLorme's. A new lot of Fancy Goods, and just supplied, of those cheap Tin Bed-room sets, just received, at T. C. Scaffe's.

Ladies' all silk gloves sold at 35c. in all colors good value, 50c. Leather Handkerchiefs—great slaughter—from 24 cents up, at Levi's.

Finest selection Easter Cards ever seen in the City at DeLorme's. Just arrived, a nice lot of Zephyr Gingham, at F. Levi's.

Ladies' and children's Hose at 5c., good value, 10c. F. Levi.

5-Cent Counter. Can be found at Scaffe's, and new goods being placed on it every week.

To Close Out. A lot of light-weight jackets suitable for Spring wear at $3.00; former price $5.00, at Bed's.

Fifty dozen Messrs Lisle Hose reduced from 35c to 20c, at R. W. D.

Phymoth Rock Eggs. A few eggs for setting, from pure bred fowls. Apply at this office.

Soda Water. Dr. Sealy's Soda Fountain is in operation, and all the popular drinks can be had.

Fruit of Loom at 9c. at F. Levi's. Dr. Warner's Health Corset for $1.25 at F. Levi's. Ladies' ready made dresses a specialty at Levi's. Ladies' Kid Gloves at 69c.—good value 75c.—at F. Levi's. Ladies' Kid Gloves at $1.00, guaranteed best make, at F. Levi's. Best Hams at 10c. at Levi's. Easter Cards and Booklets at DeLorme's Drug Store.

Married.

By Rev. Wm. W. Mood, March 12th, 1888, Mr. Wm. R. Howell and Miss S. S. Spaul, daughter of the late John Cepell, all of Sumter Co., S. C.

By Rev. Wm. W. Mood, March 14th, 1888, at the home of Mrs. Edmund Stuckey, near Bishopville, S. C., Mr. Jesse S. Thole and Miss Kate P. Crosswell, daughter of the late Dr. Adelle L. Crosswell, all of Sumter Co., S. C.

By Rev. Wm. W. Mood, March 14th, 1888, Dr. Henry T. Abbott and Miss Sallie R. Heriot, daughter of the late Col. R. L. Heriot, all of Sumter Co., S. C.

Death.

Harriet Angelina, about 11 years old, daughter of Lawrence B. Lackey, of Manchester, died on the morning of the 16th inst., being the second child he has lost in four days, one (a son) on the 12th.

Miss Florence Wassanmaker, daughter of Rev. E. Wassanmaker, died at Sumterton on the 17th instant. The body was taken to Orangeburg for interment.

Mr. W. H. Bailey died at his home in this city on last Wednesday, 14th instant. He has lived here for about 20 years, and for a number of years carried the mail from here to Manning. He was a native of North Carolina.

Mrs. Joseph R. Singleton, daughter of the late G. W. Bradford, died at the home of her husband on last Saturday from pneumonia.

After an illness of about ten days with pneumonia, Mr. Paul McElveen, a young man of about 19 summers, died at Cartersville last Monday morning. Deceased was a native of Sumter County, but for some time previous to his death he had been employed as clerk for Mr. W. B. Morris, at Cartersville. His remains were removed to his home in Sumter County for burial—Timmonsville Farmer's Friend, March 15.

A Brilliant and Typical Wedding.

Under the canopy, amongst the roses and the lilies of the valley in their pride, All the kingdom of Flora in glory arrayed, To grace such a fair and charming bride.

For the lovely bride was fairer by far than the lilies, That smiled around the altar of Love, And sanctified the vows of two trusting hearts, While the angels recorded above.

Sweet rang the wedding bells, and "come, haste to the wedding!" Was the song that o'er the ruby lips of the bridemaids flowed.

As they journeyed to the feast prepared for the fair young bride.

The lovely and balmy weather only added to the brilliancy of the DeLorme-China wedding on last Wednesday evening. Nature was most gracious on this occasion, and the magic and witchery of her subtle influences were intoxicating indeed; and everything proved to be as it was anticipated, a most elegant and brilliant affair.

The details of this wedding were so magnificent that no fitting short of glorious panegyric of praise is due to those who arranged it. There was nothing left undone that could have been done.

The most trifling detail was most charmingly carried out. In the ceremony of the nuptial feast which followed there was nothing that the most fastidious could have criticized. The same exquisite taste and original conception was every where apparent. It was displayed in the arrangement of the flowers, in the elaborate and elegant toilets and in all the charming accessories. Perfection in all things is always grand and this was most certainly a grand wedding.

The Methodist Church never looked lovelier than it did in its bridal robes on last Wednesday evening. The floral decorations were of the choicest and rarest kind. The pillars of this temple of worship, whose shrine the bride and groom were to occupy, were made of beautiful and festooned with original and original in design. The presence of evergreens and box-wood flowers in every nook and corner was suggestive of Spring and the Land of Flowers. But amidst all this loveliness the thing of beauty was to be seen in the canopy prepared by the delicate fingers of friends as a token of their love and, also, appropriate to the many graces of the bride. This canopy was made of lace, ribbons, lilies of the valley and roses. From the corners of this fairy-like structure, the emblems of good-luck could be seen, and thus the "lover's knot," and the horseshoe of pure white flowers were there waiting for the bride too. The effect of all this was most inspiring, and the large and fashionable audience which had assembled to witness the ceremony were intoxicated with delight.

This wedding has been looked forward to with the brightest anticipations and great interest has been manifested in all of its preparations for obvious reasons. Mr. B. K. DeLorme is a young man of the finest business qualities and sobriety of habits; and Mrs. DeLorme, the lovely bride, is a young lady of rare social graces, and is admired, honored and loved by all who know her for her sweet and gentle disposition and other noble qualities which, like the fabled Rose of Paradise, time only increases in loveliness.

At 8:30 o'clock, in the presence of the soft and skillfully rendered music by Mrs. C. E. Stubbs, Messrs. W. M. Graham, Chas. Kingman, Hazel Sanders and Henry Whilden, the ushers, elegantly attired in full dress, led the bride and groom to the altar, and then the bride proceeded. Next followed the two little flower girls, sisters of the bride, Bertie and Fannie; and who were most artistically dressed in cream Valenciennes lace, over-cream satin, with sashes of cream satin ribbon. Next came the ten bridesmaids and groomsmen in the following order:

Miss Clem China and Cadet Arthur DeLorme.

Miss Lillie DeLorme and Dr. Archie China.

Miss Lula White and Mr. Victor Barbot.

Miss Lizzie Corbett and Mr. Westworth Crosswell.

Miss Sue Corbett and Mr. Eddie Green.

Miss Maud Solomon and Mr. Lee Scarborough.

Miss Nina Graham and Mr. Moultrie DeLorme.

Miss Katie Anderson and Mr. William Melwane.

Miss Eva Cordes and Mr. Willie Rice.

Miss Eva Cordes and Mr. John Dargan, Jr.

Next came Dr. A. J. China, with the bride gracefully leaning on his arm, up one aisle and Mrs. A. J. China up the other accompanied by the gallant groom. As they reached the center of the altar the bride was given to the groom by her father and then the ceremony was under the lovely canopy where the ceremony was most tenderly, eloquently and impressively performed by the Rev. H. F. Chretzberg, who had come all the way from Chester to be the lover's pastor for the groom and his former Sunday School scholar, the charming bride. He was assisted in the execution of this delightful task by the Rev. J. M. Pike, and at its conclusion the bride and groom were pronounced man and wife.

At half past nine o'clock the party were invited to the supper room, where a sumptuous feast was served in the most approved style. The artistic arrangements of the tables beggars description. Everything that could have pleased the palate was in superabundance and the science of gastronomy was completely exhausted in the preparation for this grand affair.

The wedding presents, over a hundred in all, were elegant and costly, and it could be seen at a glance that they would not only be ornamental but useful when the period for housekeeping shall have succeeded that of the delicious Honey Moon.

Description of the costumes: The exquisitely rounded figure of the bride formed an admirable setting in her bridal costume, which was a beautiful combination of rare elegance and charming simplicity. It was of white Moire antique with full Renaissance train draped with illusion. Corsage cut square in front and back, laced in front and was beautifully outlined by a heavy white silk cord. The sleeves were short and elegantly finished with point duchesse lace. Gloves were long, and dress white kids. The corsage bouquet was a superb cluster of March calli and white roses and orange blossoms were worn with the bridal veil of silk illusion, which covered the face and fell to the full length of the train in the back. The ornaments worn by the bride were costly and of the most simplicity and delicate beauty. They were peculiarly Southern and typical of the occasion—the orange blossoms and white pansies.

Miss Clem China—Cream surah gracefully draped with Valenciennes, ribbons and pond lilies.

Miss Lillie DeLorme—Cream albatross trimmed with velvet and natural flowers.

Miss Lula White—Cream albatross, with Miss Lulu White—Cream albatross, with

Miss Lizzie Corbett—Cream albatross, with

Miss Sue Corbett—Cream albatross, with

Miss Maud Solomon and Mr. Lee Scarborough.

Miss Nina Graham and Mr. Moultrie DeLorme.

Miss Katie Anderson and Mr. William Melwane.

Miss Eva Cordes and Mr. Willie Rice.

Miss Eva Cordes and Mr. John Dargan, Jr.

Next came Dr. A. J. China, with the bride gracefully leaning on his arm, up one aisle and Mrs. A. J. China up the other accompanied by the gallant groom. As they reached the center of the altar the bride was given to the groom by her father and then the ceremony was under the lovely canopy where the ceremony was most tenderly, eloquently and impressively performed by the Rev. H. F. Chretzberg, who had come all the way from Chester to be the lover's pastor for the groom and his former Sunday School scholar, the charming bride. He was assisted in the execution of this delightful task by the Rev. J. M. Pike, and at its conclusion the bride and groom were pronounced man and wife.

At half past nine o'clock the party were invited to the supper room, where a sumptuous feast was served in the most approved style. The artistic arrangements of the tables beggars description. Everything that could have pleased the palate was in superabundance and the science of gastronomy was completely exhausted in the preparation for this grand affair.

The wedding presents, over a hundred in all, were elegant and costly, and it could be seen at a glance that they would not only be ornamental but useful when the period for housekeeping shall have succeeded that of the delicious Honey Moon.

Description of the costumes: The exquisitely rounded figure of the bride formed an admirable setting in her bridal costume, which was a beautiful combination of rare elegance and charming simplicity. It was of white Moire antique with full Renaissance train draped with illusion. Corsage cut square in front and back, laced in front and was beautifully outlined by a heavy white silk cord. The sleeves were short and elegantly finished with point duchesse lace. Gloves were long, and dress white kids. The corsage bouquet was a superb cluster of March calli and white roses and orange blossoms were worn with the bridal veil of silk illusion, which covered the face and fell to the full length of the train in the back. The ornaments worn by the bride were costly and of the most simplicity and delicate beauty. They were peculiarly Southern and typical of the occasion—the orange blossoms and white pansies.

Spring and Summer.

lace skirt, cream Moire silk waist trimmed with lace and roses.

Miss Lizzie Corbett—Cream albatross skirt trimmed with oriental lace. White lilac flowers and diamonds.

Miss Maud Solomon—Cream albatross skirt trimmed with real lace. Natural flowers and diamonds.

Miss Nina Graham—Cream albatross, surah and white crepe. Diamonds.

Miss Sue Corbett—Cream albatross, surah and white crepe. Diamonds.

Miss Eva Cordes—Cream cashmere and surah silk. Natural flowers and pearls.

Groomsmen—Full dress, latest cut.

Mrs. A. J. China—Dark green satin, chadame silk and Moire corsage. Bouquet of pannies. Light tan gloves.

Miss Hattie Barnett—Black surah satin elaborately trimmed with cut jet and real lace.

Mrs. D. J. Auld, handsome black silk. Mrs. J. M. Pike, broze silk with plush trimmings. Mrs. J. S. Beasley, black silk and passementerie. Mrs. J. A. Mood, cashmere, velvet and bugles. Mrs. Eason, of Charleston, handsome crimson surah silk with black lace over. Mrs. Chas. Hurst, Jr., a superb sage green surah silk, elaborately trimmed with plush and bugles. Mrs. R. M. Wallace, black satin and passementerie. Mrs. White, handsome black cashmere. Mrs. Chas. Mason, Jr., elegant black silk with jet and diamonds. Mrs. W. D. Blanding, an elegant and beautiful brown silk. Mrs. H. C. Moses, a handsome black silk most elaborately trimmed with jet. Miss Lena Solomon, green surah silk, veiling exquisitely trimmed with lace and flowers.

The groom and bride left that evening on the 11:45 train for the Land of Flowers and from thence they will go North. They are now in Washington.

Altogether it was one of the most charming weddings ever seen in our city.

"O, blessings on that happy day, the happiest of my life.

When, thanks to God, your low, sweet "Yes" made you my loving wife!

Your heart will say the same, I know, and that day will be dear to you—That day that made me yours, dear wife."

Jesting with Scripture.

Mr. Editor: Your correspondent, "Guy," quotes and misapplies the reference to the work of the Apostle Paul and Apollus, 1st Corinthians, 3rd Chapter, and in a light and proper manner that grates harshly upon the feelings of serious people who reverence the Sacred Scriptures. Dr. Johnson, the great Christian moralist says: "It is applicable to words of Scripture in a mode of meritment, Sir, which a good man dreads for its profanity, and a witty man disdains for its easiness and vulgarity."

A Fable.

Mr. Editor: I have been trying my hand at writing Latin, and the result is herewith submitted for the criticism of your readers. If you see fit, you may append a translation of the fable for the benefit of those persons who have not kept up the study of the so-called "dead language." Many of your readers, however, will doubtless spurn the translation, just as the boys at school spurn a "poopy."

In writing the fable, I have sought to base it upon facts of such a sort as are familiar to all, and the moral deduced is one to which we have had some recent and striking acquaintance. Any further statement would be a reflection upon the good sense of your readers, and hence I desist.

THE FABLE.

Canis, ovem laetatus, multis diebus in silvis erravit. Lupus cum congressu, rogavit: Cur sic in densis silvis vagaris? Canis respondit: Dominus meus multique sili mag-nopere propter scelus quod commisi irati sunt.

Propositum est mihi, antequam domum redeo, ritum postpositum probare.

Haece fabula docet, criminalis esse malam rem differre.

TRANSLATION.

A dog having devoured a sheep, wandered in the forest many days. A wolf having met him, asked: Why do you wander thus in the dense woods? To whom the dog replied: My master and many others are greatly annoyed with me because of a crime I have committed. I purpose to test the virtue of delay before I return home.

This fable teaches, it is characteristic of the guilty to postpone a bad case.

Elenora Calhoun Tobacco.

Finest chew on the market. Try it and be convinced. Manufactured by R. J. Reynolds, Winston, N. C. Sold in Sumter by E. C. Green & Son.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday Esq., County Atty., Cla. Co., Tex. says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Dr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters.

This remedy will stand off as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 25c. and $1. at Dr. J. F. W. DeLorme's.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. Not sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall-st., N. Y.

"CENTEMER" KID GLOVES.

THE UNDERSIGNED having the sole control of the genuine "Centemer" Kid Gloves for this market, would advise the ladies to call and make their selections for Spring and Summer wear. All colors in lovely shades, now in stock.

Feb. 29 O'DONNELL & CO.

Beef, Pork and Sausages.

Our Fine Goods are lined with genuine Pongee Silk, the most elegant summer material in use.

State of South Carolina, COUNTY OF SUMTER, By T. V. Walsh, Esq., Probate Judge.

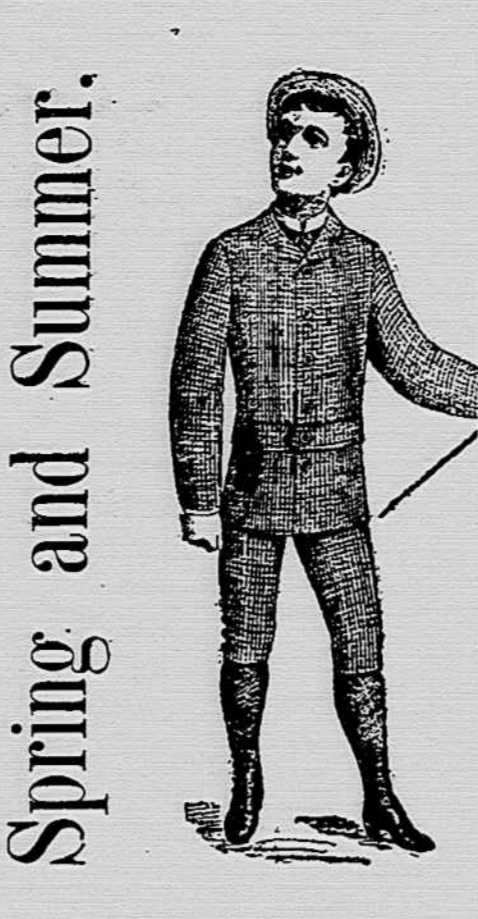

WHEREAS, Mrs. KEZIA J. CARSON, Widow, has died, and she has left a large amount of real estate and effects of JAMES M. CARSON, deceased.

These are therefore to cite and admonish all and singular the kindred and creditors of the said JAMES M. CARSON, deceased, that they appear before me, in the Court of Probate to be held at Sumter, C. H., on March 29th, 1888, next after publication hereof, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any they have, why the said Administration should not be granted.

Given under my hand, this 14th day of March, A. D., 1888. T. V. WALSH, Judge of Probate.

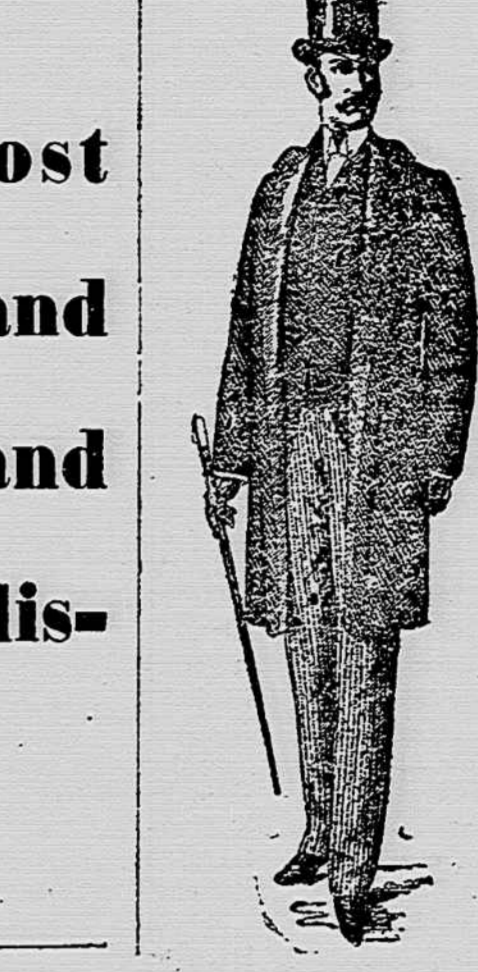

Large variety of Child's Knee Pants Suits, ages 4 to 13, from $1.25 up.

Boys' Suits, ages 13 to 18, from $3.75 up.

BROWN & CHANDLER, COR. MAIN AND LIBERTY STS., SUMTER, S. C.

The largest and most varied line of Spring and Summer Clothing, Hats and Furnishing Goods ever displayed in Sumter.

BROWN & CHANDLER, Corner Main and Liberty Streets, Sumter, S. C.

Our High Flyer.

SPRING STYLES. THIS SEASON Promises to be a "High Flyer" with Us. The Highest Kind of a Flyer that has ever flown in this city.

We have more goods, finer goods, and more fashionable goods than ever, and we'll make the prices lower than ever. Fine Goods and Low Prices are the team that pull us to the front. "Superiority" is the hub, and Low Prices the spokes that form the wheel upon which we roll successfully along, and Honest Dealing is the axle grease.

Full line of Extra Pants in all qualities. 100 doz. Cheap Pants for jobbing trade.

We have added a line of Clerical Suits, and will make liberal deduction in prices of same to clergymen.

Our Custom Department is doing better than we anticipated, so call early and get the choice selections ere they go.

Largest Display of HATS ever shown, consisting of PEARL AND BLACK BEAVERS, STIFF HATS AND CRUSHERS in all shapes and colors, and full line of STRAW ones in all the nobby styles, for MEN, BOYS and CHILDREN.

Now if You Want to See: A real live-up to present time concern—Then just come in at Headquarters—We will treat you to a sight—Show you more stock—(No trash of any kind)—Than any other retail store—And we do not hide values from you—We tell you just what the goods are—Not ashamed of them—as some hereabouts are—And ought to be.

J. RYTTENBERG & SONS, SUMTER, S. C.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE.

The only fine calf $3 Seamless Shoe in the world made without laces or nails. As stylish and durable as those costing $5 or $6, and having no laces or nails to wear the stockings or hurt the feet, makes them as comfortable and well-fitting as a hand sewed shoe. Buy the best. None genuine unless stamped on bottom "W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE."

W. L. DOUGLAS, $2.50 SHOE is unequalled for heavy wear.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE is worn by all boys, and is the best school shoe in the world.

All the above goods are made in Georgetown, Button and Lace, and if not sold by you, dealer, write W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

J. Rytenberg & Sons, Agents, Jan. 25 SUMTER, S. C.

State of South Carolina, COUNTY OF SUMTER.

By T. V. Walsh, Esq., Probate Judge. WHEREAS, JAMES D. GRAHAM, C. C. P. & G. S. for Sumter County in said State, made suit to me to grant him Letters of Administration of the Estate and Effects of SAMUEL W. GILLESPIE, deceased.

These are therefore to cite and admonish all and singular the kindred and creditors of the said Samuel W. Gillespie, late of said County and State, deceased, that they appear before me, in the Court of Probate, to be held at Sumter, C. H., on April 2d, 1888, next, after publication hereof, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any they have, why the said Administration should not be granted.

Given under my hand, this 22nd day of February, Anno Domini, 1888. T. V. WALSH, [L. S.] Judge of Probate Sumter Co.

Feb.