PERSONAL.

Mr. Arthur O'Neill, of Charleston, was in the city this week. Mrs. J. W. Aitral and children are visiting relatives in the city.

Mr. J. S. Sykes, of Ridgeway has moved his family to Sumter. Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Duncan, of Union, are visiting Col. J. S. Richardson.

Miss Annie Sykes, of Ridgeway, who has been visiting friends in the city has gone to Texas. Mr. Israel Reischer, of Philadelphia, one of the proprietors of the Sumter Planting Mills, is in the city again looking after his mills.

At the recent session of conference A. B. Stuckey Esq. was elected a delegate to the general conference which meets at St. Louis; Mo.

Mrs. N. W. Edwards, after several weeks' stay with relatives at McMillanville and Mt Pleasant, returned home last week much improved in health.

Mr. Willie Brogdon, son of the late Moss Brogdon, of Concord, and who has been living in Georgia for the past two years is in the city on a visit.

Mr. A. C. Tobias, of the firm of C. Wulbert & Co. of Charleston, spent Thanksgiving Day in the city, the guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. T. B. Curtis.

Mr. Geo. Dacker, who has been absent from the city for several months on an extended pleasure trip returned last week and spent a few days. He left Sumter again on Sunday for Charlotte, N. C., where he informs us he intends to locate.

Mr. W. V. Jennings spent several days in the city this week. Mr. Jennings now runs from Charleston to Jacksonville in the mail service, and has recently been promoted and placed in charge of a division of clerks. The duties of the position, though arduous, seem to agree with Mr. Jennings.

Mr. E. S. Booth has accepted a position with the first class grocery business of T. B. Curtis, and can in the future be found there, where it will afford him pleasure to see and to be seen by his friends when they are in and of anything in his line. Mr. C. has been fortunate in securing the services of so competent and obliging an assistant in his store.

Mr. C. T. Mason Jr., left on Monday for Chattanooga to inspect the work of the cotton harvesters which are being manufactured for next season's crop. Before returning to Sumter he will continue his trip to a point in Louisiana, where a field of cotton on the plantation of Mr. J. P. Richardson has been prepared for experimental purposes. A new style machine used especially for the cotton crop of that section, which grows six or seven feet high, will be used.

Mrs. C. F. Calson and her niece, Miss May Taylor, of Charleston, who spent a few days in Sumter last week, returned to their home on Thursday evening. Miss Taylor is noted for her fine vocal talents and while here rendered several beautiful songs on two occasions at the Episcopal Church on Sunday and at the Grand School entertainment at Academy of Music on Wednesday evening. She has been for a number of years the leading soprano of Bethel Church and is known as "Bethel's sweet singer," but she has been induced to join the Trinity choir at an increased salary.

The next meeting of the Nondisrupt Social Club will be held at the residence of Mr. Perry Moore, on to-morrow evening, Dec. 5th. Owing to a break in the wire of the electric lights caused by a falling limb during the trimming of the shade trees, the lights could not be turned on Monday night. Fortunately the moon was shining the larger part of the night and the city was not inconvenienced by the accident.

Wednesday, Nov. 27, 1889, was the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. J. E. Suarez. He still has the gloves which he used on that occasion, and showed them to us. On account of not being able to get his family all here at that time, the celebration of the golden wedding was postponed, but will be had at some time in the near future.

By observing the date opposite your name on your paper you can tell how your subscription account with the Watchman and Southron stands. It is not our policy to drop our subscribers through the columns of the paper, and this is not intended as such, but as information to those persons who we fear have lost sight of the fact that they have an account at this office.

Friday, December 13th, is the date fixed for the execution of Lafayette Woods, convicted at the last court of murdering his stepson. The law requires that the execution shall be private, only the officers of the law and the necessary witnesses being allowed admission. We understand that a report has been circulated throughout the country to the effect that the execution will be public and on this occasion a large number of persons expect to come to the city to witness it. For the information of the public we state that such is not the case and that Sheriff Carson will, of course, perform his duty in exact accordance with the requirements of the statutes.

Circus Coming.

Bills have been posted to-day for Andrew's Circus, to be here on Dec. 12th. We had a call from the Press Agent, Mr. Joe E. Carl, a very pleasant fellow.

New Postoffice.

The post office heretofore known as Brown's Bank on the Central railroad has been discontinued and a new office called Brogdon's established in the same neighborhood with Mr. Addie Brogdon as postmaster.

Judge Kershaw.

We are pleased to learn from Rev. John Kershaw, that his father, Judge Kershaw, who was suddenly seized with an attack of acute bronchitis in Orangeburg, went home on last Monday very much better.

Hot Supper.

There will be a "Hot Supper" given at the residence of Mr. T. P. Kilgore on Thursday evening, 5th of December, to aid in the collection of funds for the Bethel Baptist Church at Prudence. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

Hot Supper.

The Ladies of the Home Branch Church in Clarendon County, 14 miles from Sumter, announce a Hot Supper on Friday night, Dec. 6th. Their friends who attend will not be freed by grab-bags, raffling and other hodgepodge. The effort is made to provide an organ for the Church.

Dangerous Horses.

We copied lately, in our Clarendon news, the alarming announcement that there is in Privater Township several horses with Clavos, as they are called, in their mouths. While the horses are kept on the premises of their owners, there may be no danger to other horses, and we are reliably informed that this is the intention. The destruction of the horses (there are only three) would work hard on the owners, although unwelcome, exposing themselves and every member of their families to a horrible and hopeless disease, and it would not be amiss for the public, whose interests are so deeply affected, to take notice of the public health and to have a view to their destruction. Sumter is one of the finest horse-markets in the South, its owners being so reliable and its droves so large as to attract attention from distant countries. The City Authorities might do service to the people at large by obtaining an assurance that the infected horses shall never be allowed to come to Sumter.

Swiss Cheese, imported, at F. B. Curtis', just received at 35c. per pound. Wuburn's Gallery.

Married.

By Rev. E. O. Watson at the Methodist Church, Lynchburg, S. C., Wednesday evening, Nov. 27th, 1889, Miss Lina A. McLeod of Lynchburg, S. C. to Mr. Charlie D. Kenney, of Johnston, S. C.

On Thursday 28th instant, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. E. T. Wirthman, by Rev. J. S. Beasley, assisted by Rev. D. J. Mims, Miss Carrie L. Windham to Mr. William W. Dutton of Kershaw.

Last Wednesday Mr. A. J. Stokes, Jr., and Miss Emmie LeGrand were married at the residence of the bride's father; Rev. A. J. Wirthman officiating. Our best wishes attend them. Camden Chronicle Nov. 29.

At the Baptist Church in Bamberg, on Nov. 27th, Miss Coates, only daughter of Col. T. J. Coates of Bamberg, to Mr. S. H. Sanders of Sumter County, Mr. and Mrs. Saunders and Sumter the same evening were german complimentary to them was given on Thursday evening at the Academy of Music.

On the 27th of Nov., at the home of the bride, Mr. W. A. Stiles, of Privater, to Miss Mary Lou Cain of Wrens, Ga.

Death.

Mrs. Paxton, relict of the late Dr. W. Y. Paxton, died last night at her home in this city. Although Mrs. Paxton had been an invalid for two years her death at the time was unexpected. The funeral services will be held on Monday morning at 11:30 at the Presbyterian Church.

Religions.

During the winter months services at the Presbyterian Church will begin at 11:30 o'clock instead of 11 A. M., as heretofore. Union services were conducted in the Methodist Church last Sunday evening by Rev. J. W. Aitral, of Greenville.

During the absence of the pastor, who was in attendance at the State Convention in Florence, the Baptist Church was closed last Sunday.

Sumter Circuit Appointments. First Sunday—11 A. M., Spring Hill. 3:30 P. M., Rembert's. Second Sunday—11 A. M., Bethel. 3:30 P. M., Mayesville. Third Sunday—11 A. M., Rembert's. 3:30 P. M., Spring Hill. Fourth Sunday—11 A. M., Bethel. 3:30 P. M., Mayesville.

Rev. W. L. Watts, Pastor. A very fine specimen of Irish Potato, of the Early Rose variety, was shown at this office a few days ago, from the garden of Gen. E. W. Moise. It measured 9 1/2 inches round, 1 1/2 inches long, and was 2 1/2 inches long. It grew from a second planting, and was recently dug.

Fire. The house occupied by — Singleton, colored, near the depot was burnt this morning about 5 o'clock. An alarm was sounded and the fire department responded promptly but the flames had gained such headway that nothing could be done. The house was small and the loss slight.

More Light. City Council has placed a 25 candle power incandescent electric light in the piazza of the postoffice, and our citizens can get for that matter all day without fear of losing their temper or religion in a vain attempt to find the right box and open it in darkness so dense as to be oppressive. Several more arc lights have been put up at points in the city where they were most needed.

Crayon Portraits. For several weeks past there has been an exhibition at the store of Messrs. Durant & Bellizer a crayon portrait of Col. John J. Dargan made from a small photograph, by Mrs. E. J. Dunne. While the portrait does not do the Colonel justice, as it is made from a photograph taken several years ago, still it should not be criticised on this account as it is true to the photograph from which it is made, and as a work of art Mrs. Dunne has certainly been successful.

Mrs. Dunne also has on exhibition a portrait of a negro which is certainly a fine specimen of work.

Graded School Entertainment. As had been announced the entertainment by the pupils of the G-aded-School under the management of Prof. J. B. Duffie, was given on last Wednesday evening at the Academy of Music. The object of the entertainment was to raise funds to assist in purchasing a library for the school.

A large audience was in attendance, although the weather was very unfavorable, and we think the management should feel satisfied with the way in which the public received the programme. The acting in the charades was good, when it is remembered that the piece was presented by pupils of the school.

The part of "Lizzie Collins" by Miss Mamie Harby was especially well rendered, and the numerous compliments paid her were all deserved.

The tableaux and pantomime, "The Artist's Dream," was a striking and beautiful scene. Each of the young ladies representing the changes in the artist's dream passed in turn before the audience and then gathered in a group around him as his dream was realized.

The Big Top of twelve young ladies commanded by Prof. Duffie was executed with the utmost military precision, and as they went through numerous fancy evolutions, seeming to be in a moment all in confusion, only to return to the orderly line of march, the thoroughness of their training was apparent. After an exciting contest the prize was awarded to Miss Virginia Woodruff, best drilling, and it was presented to her by Col. James Sanders in his customary happy style.

Mrs. Kershaw, whose skill as a pianist is well known and appreciated in this community, furnished the instrumental music, assisted by Misses Earle and Strubbe, pupils of the school, and the programme was further enriched by a vocal contribution by Miss May Taylor of Charleston, who was on a visit to relatives here during the week.

The Volunteer Cornet Band. This band was organized in Sumter, Oct. 6th of the present year. They received their instruments and took their first lesson Oct. 25th. Prof. S. Scull, of Millsboro, Pa., is their instructor. Besides learning to fill their instruments and making three or four different scales, they have also been playing pieces of string music, and are practicing a seventh.

On Friday evening last the band made their debut in public. They were persuaded, much against their will, to play at the Academy of Music, before the curtain rose in "Lost in London." Their performance was amazingly good, when the inexperience of the performers is considered. A few gentlemen who have heard agree that of five music, said to the writer that he thought the troupe band had opened up. Even Prof. Scull, judging them by his own high standard, conceded that the boys had exceeded expectations very creditably for beginners. He further says that if his pupils "do not become professionals to some extent," Sumter will, in the near future, have a strictly first-class band.

Prof. Scull has twenty years experience as a musician, and for three-fourths of that time he has been a band-master. He says that he has had but three months' enforced idleness during the last five or six years. He claims to have armed with the most laudatory newspaper notices from a dozen States, North and South. He is devoted to his art, and seems to have thoroughly imbued his pupils with his own enthusiasm. The Prof. has been heard to remark that a certain member of his class has less "music in his soul" than any of his brethren, but that he will make the best performer in the band, because of his great tenacity of purpose. There is a more hidden somewhere in this statement, if we could only find it.

The boys confess that their "caused Israel to sin" against the spirit and letter of the 3rd Commandment, while they, in practicing the drill, looked timidly from their fourteen brass horns, in close proximity to ears hypercritical, but they promise, when they give their grand concert, to restore an injured and distressed public to its wonted serenity.

The Slaughter. In prices of clothing Messrs. Kingman & Co. inaugurated some time since has proven a complete success, as any announcement of new advertisements, which was intended to appear in this issue. They continue the slaughter, and have bargains throughout their store, and the public need not deprive themselves of the advantages they offer. In fact, the boys and girls appear next week, but should go now and inspect the large stock carried by this firm.

A Tramp Burglar Shot.

On last Thursday night Mr. Isaac Wilson of Wedgefield, was aroused by hearing one in his bed room. Upon investigation a man was found under his bed, and Mr. Wilson shot and then took him prisoner. The ball entered the fleshy part of the thigh, and at the time was not considered dangerous wound; but the ball ranged upward, and penetrated the abdomen, from the effects of which he died in the jail in Sumter on Sunday afternoon. The Coroner empaneled a jury and held an inquest on Monday, returning a verdict in accordance with the above facts. The man was a tramp who gave his name as Charles Carner, and stated that he was from Stokes officiating. Our best wishes attend them. Camden Chronicle Nov. 29.

While it is an unfortunate affair, and we know Mr. Wilson regrets the result of the shooting, we do not see that any blame can attach to him for his action.

Look Out for T. B. Curtis. In the way this live merchant begins his new advertisement in today's Watchman and Southron. He announces that he has but "one price and that is the lowest," and that his motto is "good quality and honest quantity." While it is a commendable motto, and his departure in conducting the grocery business here. His representative, Mr. E. S. Booth, will call at the residences in the city every morning, except Saturday, and receive orders for anything needed in his lines, the goods ordered being delivered in a few hours afterwards. This strikes us as a capital plan, and one which will save busy housekeepers considerable time and annoyance when they fit from field to field, and they learn to look out for Curtis.

Letter from Qui Vive. PISGAH S. C., Nov. 18, 1889. Mr. Editor: We are very quiet up here with nothing to disturb the stillness but the fit from field to field, and the voice of the lutes on their way to the temple of education. Prof. G. H. Bates is teaching the public school at Pisgah Church. He does not stop at the number of hours required by law, but teaches nearly all day, and his motto is "let's see how it will do." Some of the schools have been discontinued in Spring Hill Township, where they were taught last year and consolidated with the graded school at Smithville under Mr. Hasbarn.

We are having a great deal of sickness of various kinds in this section. Mr. T. P. Sanders and daughter, Mrs. B. H. Boykin, and Miss Irene Allen, have been very ill, but are now convalescing. Capt. Alexander Mosely is very sick. We hope he will soon be on his feet again.

Mr. E. E. Rembert, coming home from Camden one night last week, was assaulted on the Charleston road by robbers. The fierceness of his horse saved him from being injured or killed. I hear of a good many people who, on returning home from Camden, have been stopped on the highway by robbers. The State law against carrying concealed weapons, always puts the law-abiding citizens at the mercy of rascals who always go armed.

Alfred Reed, a negro man who recently lived in this neighborhood, cut his wife's throat one night last week while she was asleep. Cause, jealousy.

Rev. N. E. Ayers, of Wedgefield, has been expelled from a protracted meeting at Pisgah Church with the pastor, Mr. Ayer's style of preaching is "conversational," and he has the happy faculty of retaining the attention of his audience while speaking. His sermons are practical, tender and stirring, and full of the marrow of the Gospel. "Too short" is the criticism of them all. We find him a most lovable man and hope he will be constrained on the acquisition of Mr. Ayer's to roll of strong ministers.

At the annual Church Conference of the Pisgah Church on the 10th inst., the following resolution was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That the thanks of this Church are due and are hereby tendered to Mr. W. F. Rhame for the gift of land on which our Church is built, and to Col. J. P. Graham for recording and adding the title to same free of charge to the Church.

In this instance Mr. Rhame only carried out the wishes of his father.

I notice a good many of our young men and boys in this section are suffering from weak or sore eyes, judging from the spectacles and goggles they wear. They have my sympathy in their affliction. Qui Vive.

[From the Sumter Advance] "Hard Sense." Mr. Editor: Last week the people of Sumter were called together to sanction the issue of $1000 in Bonds for new school buildings and other purposes. After a full discussion they rejected the proposition; and the News and Courier, in approval of their action, headed its account of the meeting: "Hard Sense in Sumterville. The people unwilling to burden the Town with Bonds for any purpose." The speaker showed how Charleston, Savannah, Augusta, and Columbia had been injured by this Bond business, and resolved that one mill should be voted for school purposes one mill for drainage, and no additional tax should be allowed, and no Bonds in any case.

This is good "hard sense"—seen also in Augusta, where in public meeting the citizens have recently rebuked the reckless extravagance of their Council, and have reduced the number of their paid officials to their salaries. Here in Sumter, the action is to be limited to the new schemes for raising money out of the already exhausted taxpayers. Thousands for drainage and additional thousands for schools, lights, water, &c., and now fresh proffer $2,000 in Bonds to buy sundries for the city, to spread out in a boom which will chiefly benefit those who are to divide the spoils. Is this "hard sense" enough to sum up to check these schemes in their further onslaughts upon the victimized taxpayers? Our trees are being ruthlessly despoiled of their beauty and the streets lined with piles of brush which the own carts cannot remove because they have been kept busy hauling the wood to the homes of certain salaried officials who should be required to pay for it and for cart hire at least, if not for maintenance in office. A "little hard sense" is greatly needed here, and cannot show itself too soon.

LOOK AHEAD. Much interest is now being manifested in a new treatment by electricity for all diseases. The Electropoise is the name of this wonderful instrument. It has already passed the experimental stage and has proved a great success wherever and whenever used in the process of treatment is by negative electricity. Results are the best arguments, and the instrument has accomplished wonders in its treatment of all kinds of diseases. The best testimonials are in the possession of the Electro-Libration Company. Up to the present time no effort has been made to advertise the Electropoise. It has advertised itself. Wherever it has been placed orders for more have been sent in. D. B. Anderson, formerly of Sumter, S. C., but now of Wash. D. C., is one of the representatives of the Electro-Libration Company.

It is particularly recommended for dyspepsia, indigestion, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia, hay fever, asthma, heart disease, catarrh, tumors, Bright's disease, dropsy, weakness of all kinds, especially of female, sick headache, constipation, and all the body complaints. "All malarial troubles quickly vanishes, and new life and vigor are restored." Clears the complexion, gives a healthy color. Chronic indigestion is especially invited to give special notice, and cases of indigestion which are affected, or to what stage they have progressed. They make a specialty of treating physicians abandoned cases, and cure diseases the medicine will not touch. It is claimed to cure every disorder of the human system. True, it can't make new lungs, but consumption in its early stages may be checked.

The following extract is from a letter from Dr. King, of New York, to John N. Webb, President Electro-Libration Co. "I am treating experimentally a number of my well-to-do patients for brain fatigue and general debility to give them some idea of what the instrument can do in the hands of one who understands it. I am treating a case of neuritis of the optic nerve, and the patient and face with the most prompt and extraordinary results. We can do very little with medicine in this disease and I look with some disappointment at the effect of the Electro-Libration. Refer every one you like to me."

President John N. Webb, Secretary A. N. Webb, and Col. J. E. Dublin are now having the foundation to put the Electropoise in every room and corner of the world.

Mr. Anderson has an office at No. 4, lower Broadway, New York, and will take pleasure in exhibiting the Electropoise and explaining its operations. The Electropoise may be sent by mail for sale.

Clarendon News.

From the Times. Large flocks in Sumter, deer are plentiful, and the sportsmen are having a grand time. We were pleased to hear from one of Clarendon's most progressive farmers that Manning is now one of the best cotton markets in the State.

The many friends of Mr. J. W. Wells, of Danola, will be glad to learn that he is getting better, and all hopes are being entertained for his speedy recovery.

Nat. Belser, a colored man living near Danola, went to Sumter last Saturday, and while there he took on so much of Sumter's beef-droves that when he arrived home he became almost too affectionate for his wife, and in order to make him desist in his affectionate demonstrations, the wife had to smother him over the head with a good size piece of iron, which had a very soothing effect.

From the Enterprise. Hon. J. E. Todd's barn on his Mill plantation about six miles from town was destroyed by fire before day last Saturday morning. The barn contained about two hundred bushels of corn. Mr. C. R. F. Baker resides on the place and has charge of it, and he cannot account for its burning.

Written on last Thursday night, the 21st. The farm on which Mr. J. W. McLeod, by Rev. James McDowell, Mr. E. S. McIntosh, Miss Lucie A. Boyd. The bride is a sister of Mrs. J. W. McLeod, from Charleston, West Virginia, and the groom is a well known young man from Salem, this county.
