The Watchman and Southron

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 25.

The Sumter Watchman was founded in 1850 and the True Southron in 1866. The Watchman and Southron now has the combined circulation and influence of both of the old papers, and is manifestly the best advertising medium in

LOOK UPON THIS AND THEN UPON THAT.

We have laid before our readers in this issue, the reply made at Greenville, by Capt. Tillman, to Commissioner Butler's demand, the former having requested all the newspapers of the State publishing the Commissioner's article to give publicity, also, to his reply.

The omissions are immaterial to a clear understanding of the case. Any candid mind will readily understand the shifts and quibbles of Capt. Tillman in this arraignment and the complete and everwhelming refutation of these charges, so derogatory to the chief of the Agricultural Department of our State.

If this defense does not set at rest the most fastidious questioner, and cover those with obloquy who attempted thus to traduce him then we are ready to exclaim: "Oh Justice thou art fled."

THE CAMPAIGN.

The week just past has been an interesting and exciting one in the great political contest now agitating the State from mountain to seaboard. A trial by fire, as it were, and the lines are daily closing around the arch-political trickster, who by the employment of his talents for producing discord and confusion, threatens to throw back our beloved old commonwealth where, once before, she travailed in the throes of dissolution. The war-horses of the true Democracy are close upon Tillman's heels and winding him up slowly and steadily with telling effect, all through the up-country. General Bratton, in his calm and masterly manner, is sounding the warning notes of alarm, that we can have no lawyer or doctor democracy or held this day it was Resolved, any other, but one of the entire people, and reminds us that the Government of the United States stands ready, still, to further concentrate its power over us. But perhaps the clearest bugle-blast of following purposes : the campaign, thus far, was Gen. Earle's very able effort at Union C. H. Capt. Tillman evidently felt as though his hour had come, when dodging the question and swinging around corners would avail him rought.

In the light of quiet and intelligent consideration it is passing strange, that so large and respectable a following should lend credence and their countenance to such flimsy charges; more especially, when the eloquent pleadings of Gen. Earle, oft repeated, have signally failed to wring from Capt. Tillman and his party a word or a line of proof. But this darkness is giving place to the light of the morning. Following close in the wake of these fearless expositions on the part of our faithful champions is a steadily rising tide of inquiry and active organization that must and will sweep all before it on election day.

A cause that will not stand the pressure of investigation does not deserve the support of any people. Gens. Earle and Bratton have had to endure many annoyances, while it would appear that with the boasted strength of the opposition, it ought to have power enough to insure them a respectful hearing. These discussions are healthful educators of the people and should by no means be fettered.

THE SHELL SECRET CIRCU-LAR.

The following is a copy of this remarkable campaign document:

LAURENS, S. C., June 4, 1890. "DRAR SIR: The defeat of Kolb for Governor of Alabama by a combination of political tricksters should teach the friends of Captain Tillman that 'eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." unless they are properly vouched for.

"Very respectfully,

"G. W. SHELL, Chairman." Capt. Shell says the letter was obtained from his office surreptitiously. Suppose it was; the deeper damnation lies at the door of the man who penned an epistle so false, so monstrous in its insinuations, so inconceivably bitter in regular Democratic clubs on the Sectrue, devoid of trickery, and loyal to the State and the Democratic party. Were Shell and Tillman fighting the Republican party of 1868-76, such language might be pardoned, but it is simply monstrous when it comes from the pen of a so-called Democrat, and is directed against Democrats. A GREAT DAY FOR EARLE.

Col. Earle's arrival upon the scene threw the Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia.

January 1st, 1890.

THE COMING INVESTMENT.

The matter of investment in life insurance is now attracting the South, as it has already absorbed the Northern savings.

The matter for providing for one's family an immediate estate and accumulating a fund which will be available to one's self in cash when the working years of one's life have passed, is now recognized as a public blessing to all, and has proven a more profitable investment than government or State bonds or savings banks, especially as the leading insurance policy embodies all the elements of a savings institution.

Policies issued by the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, have printed upon the second page a table A situated on Canal Street near Harvin showing the cash values of the policies every year, so the he policy is always available. It was the first company in the world which went before the Legislature and petitioned for the non-forfeiture law of policies, which law has saved so many million dollars to helpless widows and orphans. It issues every plan of insurance, from the term "insurance," that costs a man 30 years old $12 per $1,000 up to the 6 per cent. guaranteed and annuity bonds. Terms and results of policies of any de-

FEATURES OF PENN MUTUAL.

They are Incontestable.

After two years from issue of policy there are no conditions, limitations or resrictions. The insured may travel or reside where he likes; he may engage in any avocation, no matter how hazardous; he may die from any cause or under any circumstances; the only requirement is the payment of premium as stipu-

They are Non-Forfeitable.

Every dollar paid the Company secures the member full value, in an equiable form, after three payments (in most cases after two) The Company's plans for "Extension" and "Paid-up" provide against loss to nembers who discontinue their policies.

Cash Surrender.

Many forms of policies permit a member to withdraw at any period of five years, others at the end of longer periods, as selected, taking with him in cash, the full reserve-value of his policy, inclusive of all surplus accumulation.

Cash Loans.

Certain policies contain the agreement to lend the member upon their security sixty-six per cent. (being not less than $100) of the reserve value; thus guarding against their lapse, and enhancing their value as Marketable Collateral. There is nothing which is safe and desirable in life insurance, no new and commendable feature, that is omitted from the revised forms and plans of this well-tried and enduring institution.

Are you insured by an incontestible, non-forfeitable policy, with liberal featares such as the Penn Mutual issues? Is your estate secured, is your family safe were you to die? Are your own later years provided for against want and OUR DRESS GOODS AND TRIVINING care? If not, get our plans-any form is open to you, and invest a few dollars with us annually, semi-annually or quarterly, and you may safely enjoy the balance of your income. For information apply to,
