Care for Musical Instruments. Neither a piano nor an organ should be left open at night, or habitually when not in use. The changes of temperature are very hurtful to the tone of any instrument, and especially the gathering of dampness, which not only interferes with the tone and quality of the strings and reeds, but is very likely seriously to affect the works. Pianos in particular should be kept in as even a temperature as possible, since they are much affected by alternations of heat and cold, dryness and moisture; if thus exposed they require very frequent tuning, and are not satisfactory in action or tone. Care is also equally desirable in regard to other stringed instruments—the violin family. banjos, guitars and like. Bowie's Original Knife. Ten days ago Colonel John R. Davis, of Mississippi, who had been a resident of the Old Men's home since a year ago last April, received a stroke of paralysis. This was followed in a few days by another, and then a third, which proved

The deceased was a consin of Jefferson Davis, and during the war was the colonel of a Mississippi regiment known as the Tigers. Colonel Davis had in his possession the original knife constructed for Colonel Jim Bowie, who, though a native Kentuckian, moved to Texas and married the daughter of ex-Governor Veramendi. The knife was said to have been invented while Colonel Bowie was confined to his bed in Natchez, suffering from the effects of a wound he had received in a border fray. He was a man of great mechanical ingenuity, and whittled it out of white pine as a model for a hunting knife, which he sent to two brothers named Blackman, in the city of Natchez, and told them to spare no expense in making it. It was made from a large sawmill file and afterward perfected by an Arkansas blacksmith.

Davis, who was a young man at the time, was present the first time the knife, as perfected, was used in a duel, and, as he described the scene, the parties cut the underbrush down and fought to the death. The peculiar part of the knife was that the end was poisoned, an operation that cost Colonel Bowie ten dollars.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Tree Climbing Pig.

A curiosity has lately been shot by Mr. Le Mortemore, who has a selection on Tinana creek, Queensland. He says it is a sort of tree climbing pig. For a number of years the wild pigs have been numerous in this locality, and his theory is that the original or common pig must have amalgamated to a certain extent with some aboriginal animal, or that the necessities of climate, etc., have caused the variety. The captured animal weighs about 100 pounds, and is pretty fat, with bristly brown fur, small black spots, snout and ears like a pig, but the jaw is furnished with front teeth like a rodent; it has large canines and powerful back

The fore feet are furnished with hooklike claws: the hind ones have two hook claws on each hoof. The tail is thick about a foot long, and highly prehensile, and in a state of rest is usually carried in what is known as a Flemish coil. The animal is also furnished with a pouch, which it only appears to use for carrying a supply of food in while it is traveling to fresh pastures. The skin is saved and will be sent to the Maryborough exhibition. Mr. Le Mortemore says the flesh is excellent, and that it tastes just like much anxiety in his native county of veal and ham pie. He is sure there are plenty more about by the marks on the trees. In drought the animal climbs trees and hangs by its tail while it gathers its food by the hook claws. He intends capturing some live specimens and

The Liverpool Moslems Mobbed. The little building in Brougham terace, Liverpool, in which the few Moslem worshipers thereabout gather together for prayer and to listen to sermons in Arabic and English is hidden away in a garden, and it does not seem that its congregation has ever done anything to give offense, yet for more than a month past they have been exposed to persecution, and the ferment appears to be increasing. On a recent Sunday, according to a 'ocal report, the appearance of the "Muezzin" in the balcony to give the customary "Azan," or call to prayer. was the signal for a great uproar from a growd of some 400 roughs, indulging in the usual oaths and execrations and throwing of stones and filth. Several times, it is stated, the Muezzin was struck. After he had retired the disturbers burst into the mosque and threw stones, one of which fell within a few inches of where the little son of Ahmed Quiliam Bey was kneeling in prayer. These annoyances, it is added. continued during the service, and the congregation on leaving were pelted and struck.-London Public Opinion.

Money Lost on Dining Cars.

"It is imagined by nearly every traveler who pays seventy-five cents or one dollar for a meal on a dining car that the company is reaping a wonderful harvest," said a traveling passenger agent of one of the leading roads in America, "but the figures will soon convince the most skeptical that the project is a losing one to the companies, and every one would dispense with the dining car service if they only could. It is the great competition existing between the different roads and the desire on the part of the public for rapid transit that orces the companies to place dining cars on their through trains. All of the great trunk line roads are putting on faster and faster trains every few

"As soon as one company puts on a train that will cover the distance between any two important points quicker than the other roads can, then all the rest of the roads set to work to reduce the time, and inside of two or three months some other road will announce a train that will make the distance in fifteen, thirty, forty-five minutes or an hour faster than its rival. And so it goes. If any of those fast trains should stop twenty minutes at a station wherea dining hall is, then the trains with the dining cars attached would reach the point of destination all the way from forty minutes to an hour earlier, and the result would be that they would carry the majority of the traveling public. With a very sharp knife, shave off cleanly the hardened surface from the face and butt of the Ham Put it over the fire in cold water, and let it come to a moderate boil, and keep it steadily at this point. A Ham weighing 12 pounds will need to boil four hours. Many cooks serve Ham underdone

Remove the skin, which will readily peel off when boiled as directed Have ready some dried bread or cracker, of which roll fine and sift a teacup full. Break in two eggs, and stir well with one teaspoon of sugar. Use a little water if the eggs do not sufficiently moisten it. Spread this evenly over the fat, and dress with pepper and spices. Put the Ham in a pau with a wire bottom, or, if that be not at hand, block up the ham so that the flesh shall not rest on the pan. Have the oven hot, and send the Ham to the table as soon as it is browned. In carving, cut in very thin
