The Woman's Missionary Society of Williamston have unanimously invited Rev. Dr. J. Thos Pate of this city to preach a special sermon before it on the fifth Sunday in this month. Dr. Pate has secured an excellent young preacher, Rev. J. H. Thacker, to fill his pulpit on that day and will therefore accept the invitation from the Society at Williamston. We predict that Dr Pate will delight the people that hear him, and it would be well for all that section to hear his thrilling and earnest words. His sermons attract crowds to his church every Sunday. Under his min-istry the Methodist church is growing rapidly in our city .- Greenville Democrat.

Death.

Mr. Thomas Grant died at his home in Mayesville on last Thursday evening, May 12th, aged 61 years. Mr. Grant was a native of Scotland, coming to the United States when about 25 years old. He settled in Petersburg, Va., where he resided until several years subsequent to the close of the war, when he removed to Halifax Nova Scotia. After living about 13 years in Halifax, he removed to Mayesville five years ago where he has since resided. While a resident of Petersburg, Va , he was married to Miss Sarah Mayes, who survives him. Mr. Grant was a popular man, and one universally liked and respected by all who knew him. Hundreds dler of South Carolina soldiers have cause to remember him with gratitude for his kindness to them during the war, and all such will be sincerely grieved to hear of his death. The funeral services on May 13th were largely attended, and his remains were laid to rest in Mr. Nonie Marshall, of Charleston, spent the Mayesville cemetery on the bluff of Black

Missionary Centenial. The Baptists all over the world are celebrating this as the centennial year of Foreign Missions, and the Sumter Baptists propose to unite with their brethren the world over in doing honor to the memory of those who contributed towards making the history that is so worthy of celebration.

Just one hundred years ago, in this month of May, William Carey preached at the mest- House. ing of a Baptist Association, at Kettering, A. B. The Judge, who was a shrewd fellow, winked at the iniquity of the decision, and went privily and bought up all the plants that could be had for love or Persian Mulls, 121c. money. In a few days his Lordship's townhouse was observed to be on fire; a Bedford Cords, 10c. general alarm was sounded, and the entire fire department responded. It so happened that his Lordship had his plants surrounding a huge caldron of brass that the children used as a bathtub. The fire scorching the leaves of the plants, they fell off into the caldron, which began to boil from the great heat, yet the firemen worked bard and sub-

When the firemen entered the house and approached the caldron, their nostrils were assailed with the same indescribable aroma that had so be witched Chang Fat. One, more bold than the rest, dipped his belmet into the amber liquid, and first sipping it, finally drank to his fill. Then the others followed his example, with such an exhilarating effect that they were soon dancing and singing coll re glees; so came the whole populace, and loud cries were made for Chang Fat, for they now knew that the toasted leaves that he discovered were the cause of this joy.
