His wound was sewed up by a doctor. His name the Item reporter cannot ascertain.

Dinkins, as W. S. Denkens, and Frank Mellett, as Frank Mellette. Chairman Keels says this makes no difference, as the ballots will all be counted, there being but one ticket in the field.

The whiskey was shipped to Commissioner D. X. Traxler, Columbia, by the Constables.

More New Counties.

In accordance with the act of the last Legislature governing the matter, maps, etc., for two more proposed new counties have been filed with the Secretary of State, making three in all up to date. One is for Greenwood County, the scheme pushed last session; the other is for Salem County. It is proposed to make this county by cutting off uneven pieces of the counties of Kershaw, Sumter, Darlington and Chesterfield, leaving Bishopville as the county seat. The county will have an area of 634 square miles.—The State.

Burglary.

The pantry of Mrs. J. A. Whittemore, connected with her residence on Main street, was entered and robbed during Saturday night, considerable groceries are said to have been taken. No clue as to the robbers so far. An entrance was effected through the kitchen in the rear of the house.

Another Dispensary.

The County Board of Control met Monday The only business under consideration was the advisability of establishing a dispensary at Waynesville.

It was decided to establish a State bar room at that place, and Mr. K. E. Wells, of St. Charles, was appointed Dispenser. He will open up as soon as he files his bond.

Trimal's store on Main street was selected as the place for the Dispensary.

More About the Railroads.

The Item reporter has been authentically informed, that there is a likelihood of the A. C. L. extending the C. S. & N. R. R. by building from Pregaris, S. C. to Yemassee, then getting control of that branch of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley R. R. from Benetville to Fayetteville N. C. This latter branch would connect the C. S. & N. under one system with the Wilson short cut of the A. C. L. to the North, and then the A. C. L. would have a shorter route from Florida to the North. The A. C. L. would however still be dependant upon the Plant System.

The minds of the Sumter people are still agitated over the prospects of the A. C. L., leaving the C. S. & N. shops here. There are many conjectures as to what will be done. Some are inclined to think the shops will be moved; others think because the A. C. L. has four lines running into Sumter, that the shops will remain and be made larger, and still others are hopeful enough to predict that the Florence shops will be moved to Sumter. No official information can be had. There is talk about Sumter offering inducements to the A. C. L., to move the shops to Sumter.

The Civil Engineers of the Three C's, R. R. were in the city last night. Just what their presence means cannot be said, but it savors of work on the Camden Branch being started soon. Let us hope so, at least.

A Lawyer Constable.

Governor Tillman yesterday made an appointment on the dispensary constabulary force, which is the first of its kind. He appointed J. D. Allbrook, Esq., who is a member of the Manning, Claremont county bar. His commission and badge have been forwarded to him. He is the first attorney in the State to be appointed on the force. A member of the "bar" is a good man to search for illicit liquor. Then he can prosecute his own cases.—The State.

Archy, John M. Martin, Fannie I. Wilson, Ada H. York.

Gin Accident.

A colored boy 16 or 17 years old, had his left arm caught in the gin of Mr. W. L. Osteen, Privateer neighborhood, Wednesday night and it was so badly lacerated as to necessitate amputation, by Dr. Richard Forman. The boy is named Billups.

Dispensary, Not Blind Tiger.

S. F. Hurst, Jr., whose place was raided by Constables Brown and Newman on Thursday morning, makes a statement in regard to the liquor seized that is given by way of explanation. He says that the liquor seized was not his, but was dispensary liquor bought by a crowd of Charleston fellows, who were stopping with John Belsler. The liquor had been bought in a dispensary demijohn and had been divided, a part being placed in another jug.

Bibles Instead of Liquor.

Dispensary Constables Sam Newman and G. McDuff Barrett went to Waynesville on the 19th to raid blind tigers. Constable Barrett says they had all closed but one, Jerry Crogan's place of business. They raided that place, but did not find any whiskey. These same constables went to Darlington, Friday night, on the north bound passenger train of the C. S. & N. Railroad, and boarded the south bound passenger train next morning, searched and remained in the express car until Sumter was reached. In the express car was a box addressed to Rev. H. H. Matthews, of Denmark, S. C. After the box was opened it was found to contain books and bibles.

St. Joseph's Concert.

The matinee and concert given last Thursday afternoon and evening by the Sisters of St. Joseph's Academy were successes in every sense of the word.

The matinee was witnessed by a large audience, which was delighted with the entertainment.

It was impossible for the editor of the Watchman and Southron to be present at the matinee concert, but from those who did attend it is learned that every number of the program was executed with the precision and grace that has marked all entertainments given under the auspices of the Sisters of St. Joseph's in years past.

The program was as follows:

Tamborine Drill with Delsartean Movement, 12 Girls.

Inst. Duet—"Polonaise"—Hoffman. Op. Song—"Wandering in the Moonlight," Glover. Guitar Accompaniment, Misses Farrell, Phillips and Rodgers.

Piano Solo, Miss A. Lynch.

Recitation—Flying Jim's Last Leap, Miss Lillie Rosendorf.

Character Song—"Under the Old Umbrella," Nellie Heiser and Charlie Bultman.

The Graces—"Dance," Misses M. McCarthy, Galvin and Phillips.

Vocal Solo—"The Prince," Miss Z. Hennagan.

Tamborine Dance, Miss Passaligue.

Vocal Solo—"Fiddle and I," Miss Teicher.

Cantata—"The Fairy Bride," Hewitt.

Adapted from Shakespeare's Mid-Summer Night's Dream—By Little Children.

The concert was given after the Trades Display and in consequence the curtain did not rise for the first number until 9 30 o'clock. The program, as will be seen, was quite long and the audience was kept until an unusually late hour, which detracted somewhat from what would otherwise have been an evening of perfect enjoyment.

Every number of the program was excellent; that is the writer's opinion, and the only distinction that could be made was in the degree of excellence.

The recitation by Miss Mattie Phillips was one of the features of the evening, and had Miss Phillip's talent as an elocutionist been well known, and appreciated, this recitation would have created more of a sensation than it did. As it was she was heartily applauded.

The singing by Misses Collins and Hennagan was exquisite, as was that of Miss Blanche Agnew, one of Sumter's favorite visitors.

The first appearance of the Sumter Choral Club was very creditable.

The program was too lengthy to particularize, and was all good. It was as follows:

PART I.

Grand Opening Chorus—"Wake! Oh Wake," Altin Verdi, Sumter Choral Club.

Piano Solo—Selected—Introducing Pie-traphone Attachment, John Weigand.

Vocal Duet—"Love Shall Guide,"—White, Misses N. Collins and Z. Hennagan.

Vocal Solo—Selected, Mr. Lucius Bultman.

Recitation—Music on the Rappahannock, Miss Phillips.

Vocal Solo—"Waiting Heart,"—Torry, Miss Blanche Agnew.

PART II.

DRAMA "ESTHER."

Vocal Solo—"Selected," Mr. T. Green.

Instrumental Duet—"Les Dames de Leville,"—Schubert, Misses Hennagan and Von Dohlen.

Vocal Solo—"Magnetic Waltz,"—Ardite, Miss Collins.

Inst. Solo—"Grand Concert Fantasie," Miss Strauss.

Piano—Selected, John Weigand.

Chorus—"Morning is breaking," (La Fille du Regiment,) Sumter Choral Club.

Grand Fall Opening.

The grand fall opening at the Millinery store of Miss Sallie E. McDonald, should have been mentioned in the last issue, but in the hurry-burly of the Carnival was omitted.

The display of millinery, was, in the first place, large and fashionable. The arrangement was exquisite and was an index of the taste of those who design the head gear of Sumter's belles. The hot house scene and the snow scene were both surrounded by crowds of admirers during both days of the opening.

See her new advertisement.
