Mr. B. H. Smith, of Philadelphia, was in the city last week inspecting the water works, and expressed himself as much pleased with the plant in general and Sumter in particular. He visited the tobacco warehouse while a sale was in progress and was completely carried away.

General Manager Kenly, of the Coast Line was in the city on Monday. While here several members of the Board of Trade interviewed him in regard to the attitude of the Coast Line towards the people of the city of Sumter. Mr. Kenly said it was the desire of his people to do all they could for Sumter, and in the near future he hoped to give Sumter better railroad facilities than exist at present. The schedules of the trains will be changed as soon as possible, so as to give Sumter the benefit of the schedule.

A light frost was observed in some sections of the county on Monday morning.

The Wide Awake reel was badly broken up at the fire Monday night.

Golden Rod is the popular and seasonable flower at present.

Chief of the fire department Bloom is organizing another reel squad. It will be composed of whites.

Judge Watts presides with dignity and ease, and has a way of pushing things that is very pleasing to court officials.

The cold wave struck us Sunday night, but the rain we need so much has not yet arrived. The weather prophets predict rain on or about the full of the moon.

The crowd seen in the dispensary these days is an indication that the State monopoly is benefited by the rise in the price of cotton as well as other lines of business.

Samuel J. Wilson, who killed George Mims is still at large, and no particular efforts have been made to capture him, as far as can be learned.

John McLeod, who was arrested as an accessory to the murder of Mims, had a preliminary hearing before Trial Justice E. J. Goodman, and was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000.

The schedule on the M. & A. and C. S. & N. R. R., changed Monday. We have received no correction of the schedule, and consequently are unable to give our readers the correct time of arrival and departure of trains on these branches.

A six year old son of Rev. Job Jackson, colored, of Bossards, was killed about one week ago by the door of a cotton press falling upon him. He was so badly crushed that death ensued in a short time.

Two dogs were fighting in front of Mr. R. F. Hoyt's place on Main Street, a few days ago, and Mr. Hoyt desiring that they should not block the sidewalk kicked one of the animals. For this offense he received a sprained ankle, from effects of which he was temporarily confined at home several days.

Mr. Nixon, the hustling proprietor of the Nixon House, has purchased a handsome wagonette and a beautiful pair of horses to be used to convey his patrons to and from the depot. Hereafter persons stopping at the hotels in this city had to pay their hack fare, but hereafter they will ride free. The Jersey House also rides its patrons free.

Removed.

R. M. Jenkins has removed from the Opera House store to the stand next to Schwerin & Co., in the White store, where he has a full line of Groceries, all choice and fresh, and at bottom prices.

Deaths.

Miss Rebecca Hicks died at the residence of the late Wm. S. Ellerbe, Hagood, S. C., on the 26th. She was probably 90 years old—no one knows exactly what her age was, but she remembered the war of 1812. She was born in England while her parents were traveling in that country, and shortly after their return both of them died, leaving her an orphan of a few years—hence the date of her birth was lost.

After the death of her parents she came to this county and was the charge of her grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Bracy, until 1822, when Mr. Wm. Sanders gave her a home. She lived with him until his death in 1875. Since that event the daughters of Mr. Sanders have cared for her. For fifteen years or more she was an invalid, but at all times was cheerful and happy. A devoted member of the Baptist church for sixty years, she passed away with every assurance that to her a crown of rejoicing would be given when she entered the pearly gates.

Mr. W. W. Boykin died at his home in Providence township, last Thursday morning. He was 70 years old, and leaves six sons and a daughter to mourn his departure. His wife preceded him to the grave three months ago. The funeral services will be held at Providence church this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Chandler will officiate.

Fire

About a quarter of ten o'clock Monday night a fire was discovered in a small building in the rear of Miss McDonald's millinery store. The alarm was given and the fire department was out in a hurry, and before a great many found out where the blaze was, the fire had been extinguished and the reel squads were reeling up the hose. The fire was among a lot of wooden buildings, and had it gained much headway before being discovered, would have resulted in a big fire.

A small, careless boy put a pan of ashes in a house that was used by Miss McDonald for storing empty hat boxes. The ashes fell on a coat to them—the fire was the result. A building adjoining this one and used as a store room, was damaged slightly. The loss is small. No insurance on stock. The buildings are the property of Miss McElhose and were insured.

Bank Statement.

The statement of the business of the Bank of Sumter for the quarter ending September 30th, is published to-day. The amount of deposit account shows that the bank has the confidence of our people, and the amount of loans and discounts shows that the bank is doing its full duty in accommodating its patrons.

An Oil Mill for Sumter.

We have been informed, and our informant is the best of authority, that a cotton seed oil mill will surely be erected in time for next year's crop. The only reason that it is not here now is because the machinery could not be procured. The gentlemen who will embark in this enterprise are among our best business men and are working for the up-building of our city.

There is a dearth of small change in the city, and every day the demand grows greater for it. Our banks would accommodate their patrons if they would bring enough in the city to relieve the pressure.

The police have received stringent instructions to arrest all bicyclists who have not obtained the license for the year beginning September 1st, 1895. The ordinance requires that the license tag be attached to the bicycle, and not carried in the pocket of the holder.

The new bicycle license tag is diamond shaped, and last year's tag cannot be mistaken for the new tag.

The advance in the price of cotton has caused a jump in the price of all cotton fabrics. Merchants who gave orders for cotton goods several weeks ago, are informed that they will have to pay the advance in price if they wish to receive the goods.

The freight receipts at the A. C. L. depot are very heavy now, and the force of clerks are being worked pretty hard. All day and a greater part of the night is the way they are working down there.

There is now under consideration by several business men a plan to build another tobacco warehouse at once. The plan has not been fully matured, but it is asserted that the warehouse will positively be built, and that within the next 30 days. It is said that the new warehouse will be large and conveniently located, and that every facility for the sale, handling and shipment of tobacco will be afforded. As soon as the plans of the new warehouse company have been definitely settled, all the facts in relation to the new tobacco warehouse will be published.

The Southern States Magazine for September gives a brief but comprehensive notice of the tobacco crop and market in South Carolina. The three markets mentioned are Sumter, Darlington and Florence, and the highest price mentioned as having been paid for tobacco this season was $2.50, which was paid here in Sumter for a choice lot of wrappers. The Magazine estimates the value of the product at $1,569,130 and the net profit to the farmers at $875,000.

The Citadel cadets left for Charleston on Monday to resume the daily round of drills and recitations. Mr. Kinney Foster, who was the Alumni Cadetship has also gone down to enter the Citadel. Mr. Foster is another addition to the long list of young men who have been prepared by Mr. T. P. McQueen. There has never been a boy sent from this county as a beneficiary cadet in the Citadel who was not prepared by Mr. McQueen. And in several instances boys from other counties have come to Sumter to study under Mr. McQueen and his preparation was so thorough that they won the coveted scholarship over numbers of competitors who had not had the benefit of Mr. McQueen's tuition.

Go to R. M. Jenkins, for Groceries of all kinds, at the lowest prices. Has removed to the A. White store, next to Schwerin & Co.
