

PIGGAH HAPPENINGS.

Christmas Celebrated by Shooting Guns and Getting Drunk.

Christmas day brought the coldest weather of the season. It was too cold to be out, though several ventured for miles to dine with friends.

There were no casualties in this section as far as heard. Several of our people were fortunate enough to make a raise large enough to buy some powder, and the morning was ushered in by the continued popping of the fire guns, which lasted until the powder gave out.

Miss Adele McLeod had a pretty Christmas tree on the 24th for her school. All the children got something nice, and their little hearts were made glad.

The writer was sorry to see and learn, that so many indulged in "red eye," or in that stuff which makes the eyes red. What pleasure there is in getting drunk is certainly an unknown quantity except to those who experience it.

The many friends of Mr. Jos M. Cooper have heard with sorrow of his death. He was a pleasant young man to come in contact with.

Two Pointed Questions Answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

The Bishopville Masons.

After the installation the members then repaired to the hospitable residence of Mr. Henry G. Scarborough where the degrees of "Mason's Wife and Daughter," and "Faith and Religion" were conferred upon a number of fair maidens and matrons, the daughters and wives of Master Masons, Worshipful Master Corbett conferring the degrees.

Letter From Ionia.

Ionia, S. C., Dec. 27, '97.—Christmas has come and gone, and we are one year older. Oh, how time does fly! We used to think Christmas never would come, but not so now; we only have time to turn around a few times and it is Christmas again.

Cleveland Grange elected the following officers at its last regular meeting: J. M. Bevin, W. M.; J. F. Boykin, O. S.; H. J. Boykin, Chaplain; J. F. Matthews, Lecturer; Lawson Mathis, Steward; D. N. Matthews, A. S.; Duffie Boykin, Treasurer; Janie R. Boykin, Secretary; J. W. Huggins, O. G.

There are several new buildings going up in this section. There is a general moving here now. Looks like almost everybody is moving or getting ready to move.

We are hard at work trying to get our new county (Lee) in shape to go before the coming Legislature. We want a new county and want it bad. We have good hopes that the Legislature will give us Lee county.

It is reported here that Mr. Milbern Moseley's horse ran away and threw him out of his buggy and killed him on the 23d, a few miles above here. We have not heard the particulars.

Miss Annie Burkett, who is teaching the Rock Hill school, is spending the holidays at home. J. F. M.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. Sold by Dr. A. J. China.

A word of caution. When you go to buy goods advertised in this paper, be sure that you get just what you ask for, and nothing else.

Mayor's Court.

A Merry Christmas and a spirituous celebration of the joyous season wrought forth an abundant harvest of drunks and disorders on Saturday, and the blue coated reapers of the police force gathered in the sheaves, as brands from the burning, and shackled them in the guard house, against the day of reckoning.

On Monday Mayor Bosard sat in the judgment seat with a bench full of sober and repentant mourners before him. The experience meeting was not unduly prolonged, for there was no conflicting testimony of any weight.

The docket was as follows: Burro Hargrove, drunk, disorderly and cursing on the streets; $2 or four days. David Bostick, drunk, disorderly and cursing on the streets; $2 or four days. Thomas Mack, carrying concealed weapons, $5 or 10 days.

W. H. Comander, drunk, disorderly and cursing on the streets; $2 or four days. James Singleton, drunk, disorderly and fighting on the streets; $3 or six days. Walter Dickson, drunk and disorderly; $2 or four days.

The Christmas dance of the Sumter Club will be given on this evening, Dec. 29th. No invitations have been issued, but all members are expected with their lady friends, and all visiting young ladies are invited.

Drayton Jones, the 13-year-old son of policeman Jones had one of his hands badly injured on Monday by the explosion of a cannon cracker which he was holding in his hand. The little fellow will have to carry his arm in a sling for several weeks.

The trustees of School District No. 7, (Providence) met a few days ago for the purpose of electing a teacher for the Tirzah school. In response to the advertisement for a teacher there were a number of applications before the board.

After meals you should have simply a feeling of comfort and satisfaction. You should not feel any special indications that digestion is going on. If you do, you have indigestion, which means not-digestion. This may be the beginning of so many dangerous diseases, that it is best to take it in hand at once and treat it with Shaker Digestive Cordial.

The receipts from fines imposed in the Mayor's Court during the term of Mayor Bosard aggregate, up to the 15th instant, the sum of $301.93. The total receipts from fines during the year 1897-98-94-95-96 amounted to only $1089.80.

It is better to take Hood's Sarsaparilla than to experiment with unknown, untried preparations. We know Hood's Sarsaparilla actually and permanently cures.

MAYESVILLE NEWS.

Marriage of Mr. McElveen and Miss Boykin.

Mayesville, Dec. 24.—Last night at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. M. Boykin, Mr. J. Frank McElveen and Miss Pauline Boykin were united in marriage. Rev. W. J. McKay performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of invited guests.

Emancipation Day.

Emancipation Day will be celebrated by the colored people here on Monday, Jan. 3rd 1898. The oration of the day will be delivered by Rev. Richard Carroll, of Columbia, who is well-known as an orator of no mean ability. Ex-Congressman Murray will speak on farming. The Committee in charge of the celebration consists of C. F. Brogdon, M. H. Fields, E. G. Jones, Rev. J. M. Martin and others.

London, Dec 27.—A fire broke out to-night in the dry goods store of Messrs Jermyn & Perry, High street, Kings Lynn (Lynn Regis) Norfolk. The local fire engine collapsed and the flames spread rapidly, soon destroying a number of the adjoining houses. The total damage is estimated at $500,000.

New York, December 25.—At the Presbyterian Hospital to-night it was announced that Mrs. Ballington Booth's condition was somewhat improved. The physicians in charge are now more confident of her recovery.

Household Goods.

The ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of to-day is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable.

Pains in the chest when a person has a cold indicate a tendency toward pneumonia. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on to the chest over the seat of pain will promptly relieve the pain and prevent the threatened attack of pneumonia. This same treatment will cure a lame back in a few hours.

New Year's Ladies' Home Journal

Mrs. McKinley in a new portrait, seated in a luxurious chair in the White House conservatory, makes a striking cover to the January Ladies' Home Journal. It is also appropriate, as John Philip Sousa's new composition, "The Lady of the White House," which the wife of the President permitted "The March King" to dedicate to her, is given publicity for the first time in this number.

Of course, the composition will be tremendously popular. Clara Morris, the great actress, appears, for the first time, as a story-writer in a true tale taken out of her career, which she calls "John Hickey: Coachman." Lillian Bell's keen pen deals with Paris as she sees it for the first time, and with the French, who inspire her to write with a fascinating sweep and dash.

The successful feature, "The Inner Experiences of a Cabinet Member's Wife," is carried on, and discloses some astonishing phases of the highest social and official life in Washington as this wife of a Cabinet member saw them. Mrs. Rorer answers the question, "Do We Eat Too Much Meat?" and seems to prove that we do. An excellent "City Brick-House for $1800" is given with plans and drawings—comfortable as any one might wish.

San Francisco, Dec. 27.—Eli T. Sheppard, who has recently returned from China, where he held an official position, commenting upon the reported occupation of Kin Chau by Russia, said to-day: "Kin Chau is an important walled city (not an open port, and the head of the gulf of Lu Tung, and it commands the mouth of the river Yallo, where the great naval battle between the Japanese and Chinese was fought, and the other important rivers which flow into the gulf."

Significance of Russia's Occupation of Kin Chau.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 27.—The Russians have occupied Kin Chau, north of Ptharu.

San Francisco, Dec. 27.—Eli T. Sheppard, who has recently returned from China, where he held an official position, commenting upon the reported occupation of Kin Chau by Russia, said to-day: "Kin Chau is an important walled city (not an open port, and the head of the gulf of Lu Tung, and it commands the mouth of the river Yallo, where the great naval battle between the Japanese and Chinese was fought, and the other important rivers which flow into the gulf."

It is about equi-distant between the mouth of the Yaloo river and the terminus of the great wall of China. It commands the railway system recently constructed from Tien Tsin to the capital of Manchuria, and is of pre-eminent importance as a strategic point. "The seizure of the port shows that Russia has practically taken possession of Korea, Manchuria and the gulf of Lu Tung and possesses a significance which will cause consternation among the diplomats in the old world. Its situation is such that its possession practically places Russia in a position to defy the world."

Columbia, December 25.—The celebration of Christmas in Columbia opened with what may prove to be a murder, as the result of a long standing feud between two colored men. Early this morning Daniel Gibson walked into the kitchen of a resident of the city and began firing on Allen Foster. His pistol was emptied, and although only one bullet took effect, that may result seriously. It entered the neck and came out of the left jaw. Gibson was arrested by the police and is being held at the police station to await the result of the injury inflicted.

Cheraw, Dec 25.—Last night William Richards came near cutting Burdine Grant to death. Grant and Henry Quinn were having a friendly tussle, and Richards, thinking Grant was mad with Quinn, slipped up behind him and cut two fearful gashes across his throat. Grant was taken to the doctor, who succeeded staunching the blood. Nine stitches were required to sew up the gashes, besides quantities of sticking plaster. Richards ran as soon as he cut Grant and has not been seen yet.

The Homicide Record.

The shocking record of "homicides" in South Carolina during the year that is now closing, which was printed in The News and Courier last Monday, showed among other things, that the list was headed by Charleston County, with eighteen such crimes, followed by Aiken with sixteen, and by Saluda and Sumter with fourteen each, the proportion for these four counties being very far above the average for the remaining counties. It is an evil pre-eminence for the counties, named of course, and the Sumter Item naturally and properly deprecates the advertisement so given to the county which it represents, and is disposed to find some fault with us for not giving certain details which would have modified in a way the bad impression which it is calculated to produce as to the conditions in the State. We cannot do better for our purpose than to quote the Item's remarks on the subject in full.

We need say only, in reply to these general suggestions and reflections, that the exhibit was not of our making. It was compiled, as was carefully explained when it was printed, from the only official data that was accessible for the purpose—the reports of the solicitors on file in the Attorney General's office. It was also noted that the great majority of the homicides were known to have been committed by negroes. That the "particulars" in each case, as to the color of the slayers, and the circumstances of the crime, were not given was solely due, as was also duly stated, to the fact that these particulars were not obtainable from the official reports on which the exhibit was based. And it was further noted that the return were "incomplete," as two of the solicitors had refused or failed to report the cases in their respective circuits, and that the information which was desired could not be obtained from official sources. The task of compilation, said our Columbia correspondent in the introduction to the exhibit, "has been a most tedious and vexatious" one, "because of the lack of records, and the apparent indifference to requests for information."

With this explanation of the partial character of the record, it is interesting and instructive to note the Item's analysis of the record for Sumter County.

"Grant Davis, colored, was killed in a free fight at an Emancipation celebration by Simon Cooper, colored. Benjamin Wilson, Wesley Wilson and Mrs. Wesley Wilson, all white, killed by Simon Cooper, colored. Motive supposed to have robbery and a desire to escape from officers who had been pursuing him for the murder of Grant Davis. Preston Smith, colored, killed by Simon Cooper, colored, while escaping from the scene of the Wilson murder. Simon Cooper, colored, lynched by a mob of white people. Henry Cooper, colored, killed by John W. McCoy, white. Verdict of coroner's jury, justifiable homicide, as Cooper attacked McCoy after having made threats on several occasions to kill him. McCoy did not shoot Cooper with intent to kill, but in the thigh, and he did not die from the effects of the wound until several weeks had elapsed. Jerry Mack, colored, killed by John Blaylock, colored, while at work in a field. Mack was the aggressor and had the reputation of being a desperate man. Blaylock was acquitted after a fair trial. Jim Boone, colored, killed by Henry Carter, colored. Carter was convicted of murder, with a recommendation to the mercy of the Court. Penitentiary for life. Harvey Taylor, colored, killed by Lymus Williams, colored, who was acquitted on the plea of insanity. Ben H. Hill, white, killed by Ben Britton, white, in a row about Hill's wife. Britton fled the country and is still at large. Aleck Haysworth, colored, killed by Henry Burrows, colored, with a billet of wood. In jail awaiting trial. J. W. Lee, white, killed by Charles Williams, a trusted negro servant, robbery the motive. In jail awaiting trial. Mingo Thompson, colored, killed by unknown parties. George Elliott and Wallace Brown, both negroes, in jail under suspicion."

New York, December 25.—Jimmy Michael, of Wales, the recognized middle distance champion of this country, met Arthur A. Chase, the middle distance champion of England, to night at Madison Square Garden, in a thirty-mile race over a ten lap track and won so easily, despite a bad spell, that the bicycle experts are guessing just how good the little "rarebit" is. Pluck, endurance, stamina and every other quality that goes to establish the possession of grit seem to be embodied in every inch of the Welshman. Nothing seems to tire him.

We reprint so much of the Item's article as a matter of justice to Sumter County, and for the sake of the important fact it emphasizes so strongly, that the white people of the State are subject by the criminal record of the State to a measure of condemnation which does not justly attach to them. Fourteen homicides are credited to Sumter County by the record of the year, and of this number, as is seen, ten were certainly committed by colored men. Of the remaining four one was committed by "unknown" parties" probably colored. Of the remaining three, one was the lynching of the freed Cooper, who was killed at the time of his arrest with the blood of three white people and two colored people whom he had murdered in detail, fresh on his hands. Of the remaining two cases one was the killing of a white man by a colored man, and the other the killing of a white man by a white man. In the whole list, it is to be noted, there are only two cases of the killing of colored men by white men—one of these cases being that of the lynching of Cooper—and only one of the killing of a white man by a black man. In all the rest the slayer was colored and the victims were both white and colored. It is a most instructive showing that the Item has made in behalf of the white people of Sumter County and it goes very far to enforce the suggestion we have urged on the State authorities that some effective steps should be taken to secure a similarly complete record for the State at large. Too many homicides are committed by white men in the State, undoubtedly. We should not, however, accept and bear the condemnation of the world for the very many which we do not commit—The News and Courier

Why Modern Bricks Are Hollow.

The use of paper in the manufacture of high grades of bricks for interior housework, trimmings, facings and for decorative purposes is evidently much on the increase. Already some very good samples of enameled paper brick have been shown. In the latest process of making and enameling the paper bricks the bricks are made on the hollow principle. The object of making the brick hollow is practically the same as sought in the making of hollow forged steel shafting. Not only is a defective center removed, but it is possible to put a mandrel into the hollow, and by applying pressure the walls are operated upon both from the inside and the outside.

When a solid body is heated, the temperature of the interior always varies from that of the outer portion at first, often resulting in an expansion of one or the other that causes defects. For these reasons the plan of forming the bricks upon the hollow principle, plugging them afterward, is recommended. Sawdust is found to be a good filler. It is first fireproofed, as is also the paper pulp used in the bricks. Then it is mixed with cement and pressed into the hollow of the bricks, smoothed and enameled over, making a perfect shape.—Philadelphia Record.

New York, Dec. 27.—Mayor-elect Van Wyck has selected John W. Keller for commissioner of the department of charities. The place is worth $7,500 a year. Mr. Keller was the editor of Truth at the time of the appearance of the famous Morey letter in the Garfield campaign. Later he became the managing editor of the Recorder, and when that paper suspended he went on the staff of the Journal and Advertiser, writing the column signed "Cholly Knickerbocker."
