STOCKHOLDERS MEETING. Officers of Cotten Mill Elected-Profit of Twelve and One-Half

Per Cent. Net.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Sumter Cotton Mill was held on Friday. The reports of the various officers were re-ceived and from these the stockholders obtained full information in reference to the condition of the mill and a clear idea of the

The mill has had a prosperous year, having carned 121 per cent. net, notwithstanding the beavy interest account. There are a large number of orders on band at profitable prices and the cotton to make the yarn to fill these orders is in the mill's warehouses.

The following directors were re-elected : R. M. Wallace, E. W. Moise, R. D. Lee, Altamont Moses, M. G. Ryttenberg, Marion Moise and D. James Winn.

The afficers elected are : R. M. Wallace, President. Altamont Moses, Secretary. D. James Winn, Superintendent. Commencing to-day the mill will ron balf extra time, the running time heretofore having been 11 hours per day, and the mill will now run 16 hours per day, and the min with now run 16 hours per day, teginping at 5 a. m and shutting down at 10 p. m. All ne-cessary labor has been obtained, and, in fact, the extra time was added to furnish employ-ment to the large number of hands who have Serious Danger in the Alum Baking Powder.

The increased cost of cream of tartar, the chief iogredient of a pure baking powder, has induced some manufacturers to substitute burnt alum (which costs but three cents a pound) largely or wholly in lieu thereof. making a very low cost, but unwholesome baking powder; and efforts are made to sell these inferior powders by the inducement of a lower price, and by false representation as to their ingredients and comparative value

Our most eminent physicians are continuously warning the public against the use of alum baking powders, because of the nowholesome qualities which they impart to the food. Dr. J. W. Mallet, Prof. of Chemistry at the University of Virginis, a scientist of the very highest reputation both in this country and abroad, who has made an elaborate and exhaustive investigation of the subject, says : "I am decidedly of opinion filled with large possibilities of usefulness that both the substance (alum) itself and the products to which it gives rise in course of making bread, are injurious to health, and on that account fall into the list of such food accessories as should on sanitary grounds be prohibited by law."

When an authority so well known and highly respected as Dr. Mallet makes this statement, it behooves every housewife to take every means in her power iosure her family against the use of these dangerous goods.

It would be quite impossible to give the names of the alum baking powders in the market, but the danger from alum would seem to be serious and alarming, because of their prominence in almost every grocer's stock. Generally speaking, they are sold at a lower price. Sometimes, because of their tendency to cake and spoil, they are put up in bottles. Under the circumsnances and as a matter of safety, Prof. Mallet fovors the use of the well known brand of baking powder, Royal. which his tests have shown, he says, to be made from the most bealthful materials, entirely free from alum and every adulteration.

Two Negroes Clearly Shown to be Affected With the Disease-

Prompt Measures Against Spread.

Special to The State.

Orangeburg, Jan 9 -There is now little if any doubt as to the existence of smallpox here. So far, all the suspicious cases are confined to the colored people-all except one being at the State Colored College where there are several hundred students.

After positive statements yesterday morning that there was no smallpox cases here, a more thorough investigation was made at the colored college, and student Montague, the first case, who is now up, was questioned as to where he had been just prior to his return here and the development of the disease, and it was ascertaiced that he had been to Greenville and Spartanburg, and had been with the Stenhouse family. These facts caused the health authorities to have the college goarded last night.

Yesterday afternoon another case developnppealed for labor. The size of the business of this mill is not ed in another portion of the city, which is prosounced smallpox, and this has caused stricter regulations to be put in force, and a stricter regulations to be put in force, and a

A MASONIC BANQUET. The Annual Supper at Spring Hill Editor Sumter Daily Item :

Lodge a Pieasant Event.

The annual banquet of Spring Hill Lodge A. F. M., was held on Wednesday evening last in the lodge room at Smithville. The lodge met in regular communication that night with a large attendance of members and several visitors from other lodges present. The officers elected to serve during the ensuing Masonic year, and who had been installed at the last meeting, entered upon the discharge of their duties

The suppor that was spread in the lodge room was bountiful and in variety of good things for the inner man put to shame many a more pretentious and more formal barquet. Good cheer and good fellowship graced the occasion, and the visitors were made to feel as welcome and as much at home as if they were regular attendants at Spring Hill. All things considered the evening was a pleasant and auspicious occasion. Spring Hill Lodge has done good work in the past and the future is that the members have the ability to grasp and utilize to the fullest extent, and it is their duty to do so for their own benefit and for the credit and advancement of the craft.

The editor was priviliged to attend the banquet, and for himself can say that he spent a very pleasant evening, gaining instruction and profit from what he saw and heard, and he takes this opportunity to extend congratulations and best wishes for fature prosperity of Spring Hill Lodge.

ideas present themselves, that may or may not strike others favorably. So at the risk of being thought a fool, on one hand, for ring advice where it is not wanted or on the other, for casting pearls before beasts that will turn and rend you, according to the standpoint or view of the critic, I offer the following through the medium of your favor and your columns.

The crime and condition of bloodguiltiness-so widely and to such a degree prevailing, that it has recently, in concert, been conspicuously noticed, discussed, condemned and deplored in the pulpit and by the press-is, I think, the result of our application and practice (but not the theory) of government in this country.

Our fathers fled from oppression and injustice of the powers that were in that place-which means wealth controlled by selfish and ambitious men-and founded a government on the declaration of a foundation principle, "the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Year by year the variation of our compass has grown so great that it points to mammon as the star of our guiding and worship ; and the pursuit or acquisition of wealth is thought to be what is meant by "happiness" in that declaration, and abstractly.

Take a man's life-a few, a very few dollars, perhaps 25 in some cases, will clear the blood-guilty one ! But touch bis property-and how different ! Laws are made strong for protection of property, and in the interest and encouragement of wealth, and weak for protection of life. The first we should have done, and not leave the other undone. Your editorial of Dec. 23, which I quote, is the more immediate cause of this article. It is needless to sa that house. When the woman attempted you are exactly right as far as you express yourself, but your suggestion, it is proven in practice, will not work; and it is because of the impotence of courts

Indians Burned at the Stake Gressy and Palmer Samson, twe young for Murder of Mrs.

Simmons.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 9 -- Charred and burned beyond all ali semblance of human beings the frames of Markus McGeisey and Palmer Simpson, the two Seminole Indians, who a few days ago murdered Mrs. James Simmons, are still resting in chains against the blackened trunk of an oak tree in the Seminole ostion, where on Friday night they met their death in the most awful manner conceivable at the hands of a mob. The flesh is burnt from the bones. The fingers and hands are burned from the frames and the ghastly skeletons, bereft of feet and ankles, stand on blackened bones in the ashes on the ground. Every vestige of hair and flesh is burned from the heads and the clinched teeth of the men show their determination to endure their awfal punishment in silence with which the Red men die. The place has been visited by many people since yesterday morning.

Additional details of the horrible work of the mob were received here today. According to this information, the mob's work is not yet finished and will only be completed when four more Indians have been dealth with in the same manner as were McGeisey and Simpson. The citizens' posse was scouring the country for the four men when the messenger left Maud, and it is probable that at least part of the quartette have by this time paid the penalty decreed by the maddened populace.

The crime which ied to the burning of the two men was committed on last Thursday. Markus McGeisey was the owner of some property. On his land lived a white family named Simons. During the absence of the husband on Thursday. McGeisey went to the Simmons cabin and asked for a drink of water. Mrs. Simons was at home with her four children. The Indian was given the water and he then asked for a saddle. On being refused the saddle McGeisey grabbed the woman, who had her baby in her arms, and dragged her out of the to run away the Indian seized a Winohester and dealt her a deadly blow on the head, crushing the skull. The woman died instantly. The murdered woman's husband did not return home Thursday evening and the children were unable to remove the body into the house from where it had fallen in the Seminoles Both the Indians came from respectable Seminole families, and their fearful death has roused their friends and relatives to frenzy. Dr. Linn has just arrived from the scene of the burning, and states that both bodies were burned and mutilated in a most borrible manner and are unrecognizable.

All the authorities here recognize that the situation is nearer bordering upon a dangerous Indian uprising than any in recent years, and are taking prompt measures to quell it.

CHIFT & LEAEK

SNOSNHOL SABT SMALLPOX SCOURGE.

Gov. Ellerbe Hears From Dr. Evans on the Subject.

Reports from Orangeburg disagree as to whether the disease in that city is small or chickenpox, but the general impression is that there is genuine smallpox in the city.

Governor Ellerbe has received a letter from Dr. Evans in reference to the case in Beaufort county. The board of health sent Dr. Stewart of that county to investigate the case and he pronounces it a genuine case of smallpox. This negro was a student of the state college at Orangeburg.

Dr. Evans has received a letter from Dr. Lowman of Orangeburg who says that there are four cases of chickenpox which originated at the college. One of the cases was that of a roommate of the Beaufort student. Dr. Jeffords of Orangeburg agrees with Dr. Lowman's diagnosis, but Dr. Evans thinks that as the Beaufort case is undoubtedly smallpox that it would be best for Dr. Stewart to go there and investigate, which will be done. The doctor is an expert on the disease, having gone through an epidemic of it.

The state board of health has furnished him with sufficient virus to incoulate four or five hundred people and all who have been exposed to infection will be vaccinated .- Columbia Register.

There were two drunks and disorderlies before the Mayor's Court Monday morning and as they admitted their guilt the court did not

Brevard made his escape and up to the present time has not been captured.

Johnson's Chill and Fever order class on January 3.

When we know the cause of our troubles we must apply some adequate remedy if we would see them cease. Sermons and moralizing do very well in their way. They may be a little better for this purpose than "passing resolutions," but if we would see any improvement we must do something. Juries (that will try the cases) can hardly be expected to be composed of men who are capable and will do their whole duty, while the rules and practice of courts continue as they are. Society instituted courts for its protection, but those who live by the courts twist the laws and make the rules of courts protect criminals. Let us reform the court. We can hardly get worse results. Why should not the State employ a paid solicitor to defend, as well as one to prosecute? It would be in every way better for the ends of justice, and there would be no packing of juries, subornation of witnesses, quibbles of to a post tree. Fence rails and dry law and improper delays. Hired attorneys would "not be in it" in the criminal court, and very properly. If the Government undertakes to dispense jastice, she should see to it herself from all sides, that justice is done and no injustice done to any of the parties at interest. It is no place for interested, but for disinterested parties when we go to seek truth. We need not expect lawyers to favor or speak of this reform, but society, if not satisfied with the way we are going. must look out

The news of the murder spread rapidly Friday night and the whole populace for 20 miles around was aroused. About 20 Indians were arrested. The oldest child told the crowd that Mc-Geisey was the guilty man and a posse of 20 determined men went to arrest him, Simpson was at McGeisey's home when the posse arrived, and both were taken into custody. A rope was procured and the prisoners were strung up by the neck. On being let down and given an opportubity to talk both confessed to the crime and named four others, who they declared were equally guilty. It developed that the Indians desired to get rid of certain white settlers and that McGeisey had been hired to do the murder. Posses were at once sent in search of the other four Indians and it was decided to have a wholesale lynching as soon as they could be captured. As night came on, however, and the other four were not captured, the citizens changed their plan and determined to dispose of McGeisey and Simpson without further delay. The feeling against them was so bitter that the crowd would not be satisfied with the ordinary method of lynching and it was voted to burn them at the stake. The victims were accordingly chained wood, was then piled about them and in a few minutes the Indians were wrapped in roaring flames while the timbers crackled beneath their feet. Never a word did the Indians utter while being roasted alive They apparently saw that they were powerless to resist and endured their death like stoics. The crowd was composed of not over 30 men, and the work was done in a quiet but thoroughly determined manner.

Posses continue the search for the other four Indians, and it is very probable that if captured they will be
