The crowd of negro boys who loaf around the depot day and night to the annoyance of all who have business there had better make themselves scarce in future, for the police have received instruction to run them in.
A Newberry farmer asserts that he can produce sweet potatoes and sell them at ten cents a bushel and realize more clear money on each acre planted than he can on cotton.
If this be true, why are so few potatoes grown in this country when there is an unsupplied demand for potatoes at 40 @ 50c per bushel?

A Loss to Williamsburg.

Kingstree, 17.—Quite a gloom was cast over otowaur and county to-day when it was announced that Mr. T. M. McCutchen, of Indiantown, had breathed his last. Mr. McCutchen had been in failing health for some time, and while his death was not wholly unexpected, yet he died very suddenly. Mr. McCutchen was 71 years old, and had some affection of the heart. He was in Kingstree on Monday last, attending to his duties as usual. Some time during last night he became ill, and his physician, Dr. D. C. Scott, was summoned, but he grew rapidly worse, and died before the doctor reached him. Mr. McCutchen was a true type of South Carolina gentleman of antebellum days. He was the eldest son of Dr. Hugh McCutchen, and brother of the late Jas. McCutchen, both of Indiantown, this county. At the beginning of the war for Southern independence he volunteered and went to the front, and served as a true soldier, shirking no duty, being wounded several times, and surrendered only at the end. After the war he came home and devoted his life to agricultural pursuits. In 1876 Mr. McCutchen was elected county auditor, which position he held several years, and he had ever since been connected with the office. He was a devoted husband and father, and leaves a widow and seven children to mourn his loss. He was a life-long Presbyterian, and an elder for many years in Indiantown Church. The interment will take place at Indiantown Church to-morrow at 12 o'clock.—News and Courier.

Services in Episcopal Church.

Bishop Capers will be in the city on Thanksgiving Day, and will hold service at the Episcopal Church at 11 a. m.

The payment of state, county and municipal taxes proceeds very slowly, and the receipts are behind former years. Many property owners are hoping that an extension will be granted, but at this time there is not much reason to believe that there will be extension.
Mothers, we call your attention to Pitts' Carminative. It acts promptly, it is pleasant to the taste, and the children will take it without coaxing. It relieves promptly and permanently. If we can get you to use it, you will get others to do likewise. Your druggist sells it. J. F. W. DeLorme.

A number of Northern sportsmen are expected to spend several weeks each in this county during the winter shooting birds. Each winter the number grows as the fame of the county as a partridge country spreads.

40 lb. boxes best large lump Laundry Starch, 34c lb at Crosswell & Co's. Nov 16.
"They tell it" on some of the "Boys" who went to the Fair that they did not all get back for several days. They are about all in now, and report that the crossies are all right from Columbia to Sumter.

Overcome evil with good. Overcome your coughs and colds with One Minute Cough Cure. It is so good that children cry for it. It cures croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, gripe and all throat and lung diseases.—Hughson-Ligon Co.

The ladies of the Episcopal Church have arranged to give an opera, "The Gipsy Queen," in the near future. The Opera House has been engaged, and D. L. Rambo has undertaken to train those who will take part in the opera.

The sooner a cough or cold is cured without harm to the sufferer the better. Lingered colds are dangerous. Hacking cough is distressing. One Minute Cough Cure quickly cures it. Why suffer when such a cough cure is within reach? It is pleasant to the taste.—Hughson-Ligon Co.

Several citizens in the western part of the city had their hen roosts raided by thieves last night and Saturday night.

Many a household is saddened because of the failure to keep on hand a safe and absolutely certain cure for croup such as One Minute Cough Cure. See that your little ones are protected against emergency.—Hughson-Ligon Co.

The crowd has returned from the State Fair and despite the dampness overhead and underfoot most of them enjoyed the fair. The fair itself was not different in any material respect from the fairs of other years, but the fireworks were magnificent.

Late to bed and early to rise, prepares a man for his home in the skies. But early to bed and a Little Early Riser, the pill that makes life longer and better and wiser.—Hughson-Ligon Co.

The alley between the City Hall and the Docker & Boltman Co. store needs attention. Last week it was more like a ditch than an ally for the use of foot travelers, and unless it is drained it will be in order to provide boats for use in wet weather.

Soothing, healing, cleansing, De Witt's Witch Hazel. Salve is the implacable enemy of sores, burns and wounds. It never fails to cure Piles. You may rely upon it.—Hughson-Ligon Co.

Beginning Monday night the Reading Room of the Young Men's Christian Association will be open every night. The young men of Sumter are cordially invited to visit the rooms whenever they can and bring their friends with them.

When you ask for De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve don't accept a counterfeit or imitation. There are more cases of Piles being cured by this, than all others combined.—Hughson-Ligon Co.

The residents of the section of the city in the neighborhood of the depot are subjected nightly to needless annoyance by the blowing of locomotive whistles. Some people find it impossible to accustom themselves to the screeching of the whistles, and their rest is broken at all hours of the night. If there was any necessity for blowing the whistles it might be possible for them to endure the annoyance with a degree of resignation, but as there is no necessity nor rhyme nor reason they are kicking against it. Complaint has been made more than once, but the whistle blowing continues.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

This Week to be Observed as Such by the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church.

Throughout the Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the women composing that branch of missionary effort known as the Woman's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, South, will come together next week for prayer and thanksgiving for the blessing of God upon their efforts to carry the Gospel to all lands. Services will be held in the First Methodist Church in this city on every week day of next week, commencing at 4 o'clock p. m. Every one is invited to be present at these services which will be very interesting. The following is the programme prepared for each day:

MONDAY, NOV. 21.

Service in charge of Rev. W. Aiken Kelly, of the Mill street Methodist Church.
Hymns: Nos. 918, 915, 910, 893, 671
Scripture: Deuteronomy xxxii, 1-4; Isaiah iv, 10-13; I Corinthians iii, 6-23.
Those who plant, those who water, are nothing, except they be joined to God. We must be fellow-workers with Him. Jesus only is the foundation. Let us keep the temple fit for the Master's dwelling place!
Prayer.
Make confession of shortcomings and lukewarmness. We were redeemed with the precious blood of Christ; let us, by his grace, live worthy of the purchase.

TUESDAY, NOV. 22.

Service in charge of Rev. Y. V. A. Riser, of the Lutheran Church.
Hymns: Nos. 706, 711, 716, 721, 724.
Obedience—Alternate readings:
Luke 11, 49: "I must be about my father's business"
John iv, 34: "My meat is to do the will of him who sent me."
Joshua xxiv, 18, 24: "Therefore will we also serve the Lord, for he is our God."
"His voice will we obey."
Judges vi, 27: "Then Gideon took ten men of his servants and did as the Lord had said unto him."
Hebrews x, 19-22.
2 Corinthians viii, 5: "First gave themselves unto the Lord."
The Macedonians a little while before were strangers to God. The context explains that they were generous in supplies to the poor saints in Jerusalem. They gave themselves and the rest came easy.

Luke vi, 11: "They forsook all, and followed him."
Luke viii, 39: "Return to thine own house, and show how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went and showed throughout the city how great things Jesus had done unto him."
Luke x, 39: "Mary, which also sat at Jesus's feet, and heard his word."
Romans xvi, 3: "Priscilla and Aquila, my helpers in Christ Jesus."
Matthew xxv, 21, 34; Romans viii, 17; 1 Peter 1, 9; Revelation xxi, 7.

Prayer.
Pray for willing hands, obedient hearts; pray for our missionaries and their work; pray for all our workers at home, especially for the absent. Some were provisionally hindered, some forgot; some did not forget, but did not care; some were altogether occupied by the things that cumbered Martha; some had pleasures more to their taste. Pray for all.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 23.

Service to be conducted by Rev. C. C. Brown, D. D., of the Baptist Church:
Scripture: I Chronicles xvi, 23-36.
Hymns: Nos. 717, 725, 678, 677, 670.
Prayer.
Pray for laborers, money, and hearts altogether open to this call.

THURSDAY, NOV. 24.

Rev. J. A. Clifton, D. D., of the First Methodist Church will conduct this service.
Scripture: Psalm cxxi; ciii, 20-22; cl.
Hymns: Nos. 4, 6, 3, 14, 23, 59, 132.
Prayer.
Offer thanks to the God of all grace for the crowning mercies of the year. We have passed through the awful horrors of war, and we live and still love the last words that Jesus spoke to his disciples. Have our boys returned home? Thank God! Have some of them entered the everlasting habitation? Thank God for their few years of life given to us. Place all interests in those wise hands that we have chosen shall direct us—all interests, whether of the past or the future. Thank God, he is able to keep all that we commit to him!
Thanksgiving Day! Let the meeting close with testimony. Let every lady recount the mercies of the year—better still, the mercies of one week. Choose the week of greatest care, and see if God's goodness during the time did not more than repay you for your suffering.
"They that feared the Lord spake often one to the other." Let the testimony hour turn upon what we have received and what we owe God.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25.

This service will be conducted by Rev. T. J. Clyde, Presiding Elder of the Sumter District.
Hymns: Nos. 139, 141, 145, 152, 153, 156, 678.
Scripture: Psalm xcix.
(See verse 6.) If the Lord answered Moses, Aaron, Samuel, will he not likewise answer us?
Scripture: Psalm c.
Let us rejoice in our work. We do not stand alone. We and God together are to do it. This is our motto: "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me."
Prayer.
Pray that God may use us for a blessing to-day, for a successful year, and great enlargement of our hearts.
Hymn: No. 918.
Read together Numbers vi, 24-27.

SATURDAY, NOV. 26.

This will be a consecration service, and will be in charge of Rev. N. W. Edmunds, D. D., of the Presbyterian church.
A collection will be taken at each service, and the amounts contributed will go into the treasury of the local society to be used in prosecuting their work.
Seven little girls, aged from seven to eleven years, sometime last spring, formed themselves into a sewing society to help the poor. They decided to make a bed-quilt, and since then have met regularly and worked faithfully, with the result that they have made the squares, and sewed them together, and now have the quilt ready to be lined and quilted, which they are proceeding with, and expect to have the quilt ready for presentation to some needy family by Christmas.

The time to advertise is when business is dull. When money is plentiful and trade is brisk anybody and everybody can do business, but when money is scarce and trade dull only the hustlers can hope to do a large business. Here is where advertising comes to the assistance of the hustler and aids him in attracting trade. It is necessary to place before the public the inducements offered to buyers, and newspaper advertising is the only certain and reliable means of reaching those who have money to spend. Newspaper advertising when systematically and energetically done is the surest means of building up a business and making it profitable in dull seasons as well as in prosperous times.

Change of Schedule.

By reference to the A. C. L. schedules published in this paper, our readers will find important changes in the time of arrival and departure of some of the trains.
