Verdict For $7 000 Against the Atlantic Coast Line.

The case of A. B. Stuckey, administrator vs the Atlantic Coast Line to recover $20,000 damages for causing the death of Mrs. Dixon was concluded Wednesday afternoon and a verdict for damages to the amount of $7,000 was rendered by the jury. The arguments for the plaintiff were made by Messrs T B. Fraser, Jr, and T. S. Moorman, and for the defendant by Mesers J. T. Barron and R O. Purdy. This is the second trial of the case and it was a legal battle from beginning to end. The first trial resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff and damages in the sum of $15,-000 were awarded, but the verdict was set aside as excessive by the presiding judge, and $5,000 damages allowed. From this decision an appeal to the supreme court was taken and when the appeal was heard the supreme court ordered a new trial. The case is by no means settled yet, however, as it will probably be appealed to the supreme court.
