BRYAN IN NEW YORK.

FOUR SPEECHES MADE IN AS MANY PLACES

New York, Oct 16 -The crowd that surged about the open air stand at Madison Square avenue and 24th smothering those who were so tightly packed that the air, which reeked with the fumes of Greek fire, could buy votes, on trust magnates to not reach them, may have numbered intimidate. We leave the result to you 20,000, and there was not in that crowd anybody who cared to hear anvone else but Bryan Half a dozen speakers attempted to keep | The majority in this city and State and them quiet until the presidential nation will be so large as to demoucandidate came from the garden, but strate the fact that no money can the most successful speaker had a corrupt, no force can defeat, the peohard job of it when the cavalcade heading the gress." Bryan party rode down Madison avenue to the stand. The carriages could not drive within 50 feet of it, and Col Bryan, Mr Croker, Mr Hearst and James Shelvin, of Brooklyn, who were in the carriages, waiked to the

The ovation to the candidate was deafeningly loud and proionged. After shaking hands with Mr Keller, and those on the stand who could stretch their hands to him, Col Bryan stood facing the crowd in front on the stand. He uncovered his head, but the bombs were exploding in the air overhead and the fire from one almost struck him Bryan drew away as if to dodge it. The band was still playing "Hail to the Chief' when Col Bryan outstretched his hand to the audience to command quiet He said : "We want to make this Government what the fathers intended to make of it and give equal rights to all and special privileges to none If by your suffrages I am made President I will not try to get your hands in other people's pockets I shall be satisfied to keep other people's hands out of your pockets. If you believe the trust a good thing vote the Republican ticket and get all you want of it If you believe trusts are bad vote our ticket. If you believe in a large army vote the Republican ticket and get it If you believe in a small army we promise that you ehall have a small army and a government so good that every citizen will be willing to become a soldier to preserve the Government to posterity. If you want imperialism vote the Republican ticket If our party is entrusted with power we will say to the Filipino and all the world that our purpose is not to govern the Filipino, but establish a government for them that will be theirs and not ours. We will say to the world: 'Hands off. Let that Republic live and work out its own destiny.' "

The minute Col Bryan stopped speaking Mr. Croker took his arm and led him to the rear of the stand to see the crowd assembled there He waved his hand to them and Mr. Croker asked him: "Did you ever see anything like it?" "Wonderful, wonderful," Col.

Bryan said Then the party after band-shaking all round left the stand and got into the carriages THEN TO TAMMANY HALL

The trip to Tammany Hall was made through streets lined with cheering thousands. Col Bryan and his party arrived at 9 25 Sepator Mackey was speaking, but as soon as the crowd recognized Bryan it rose to its feet and cheered for several minutes. Richard

Cooper Union. His appearance on the platform was the signal for one of the most enthusiastic greetings ever given to any one man in Copper Union. It was fully five minutes before the enthusiasm subsided and the audience resumed its normal quietude. Then John De Witt Warner, chairman of the meeting, introduced Col Bryan, who spoke in part as follows: "This is the fourth meeting for to night that I have spoken at It concludes the ratification held under the auspices of the Democratic party in this city and county and I am prepared to say that great is Tammany and Croker as its prophet. I rejoice that I have lived in the land where the people can choose a man for their leader and make of him their servant, and when they do that he becomes the greatest man in the world. Yet we can never forget that he is their servant, acting for them as their representative. He is the instrument by which they Wilson. accomplish their sovereign will "

Col Bryan then branched off on to the subject of "imperialism" and went street, crushing the weakest and into it thoroughly. He wound up by

Costs and Fees.

In regard to the matter of fees, costs, etc, that county officers may charge, Attorney General Bellinger has prepared the following opinion of interest to every county in the State. It is in reply to a letter from Will K. Jones, Esq., of Holly Hill:

Dear Sir: In your letter of the 15th inst. you ask, for publication, my opinion as to the construction of the law of 1899 relative to the fees, costs, etc., of your county officers.

Without quoting in full your letter, proceed to answer as follows: It seems to be very clear, under the act of 1899, D 169, and the acts thereby amended, that your county officers are absolutely prohibited from receiving any "costs, commis sions, charges and fees," except the cierk of court, who is permitted to receive "the fees now allowed by law as register of mesne conveyance," and the sheriff, who is to receive special compensation therein mentioned for his duties in connection with the collection of tax executions, and "such fees derived from civil business as now prescribed by

I can find nothing in the act allowing the probate judge to retain any fees of office, but the salary, in lieu of all fees, etc, is fixed at $200.00 As to the compensation of the sheriff and the clerk of court for services rendered in drawing and serving jurors, I will say that in my opinion this not being one of the duties of the clerk as "register of mesne conveyance," his remuneration therefor is included in the $400 stated as his salary, and when the sheriff performs his duties in this connection it may be considered as "civil business" in the court of common pleas" and as "criminal business" if they are to

I cannot see any reason for a dif ference of opinion as to the meaning of the act when it comes to the salary of the auditor, as the law distinctly says that he shall pay into the county treasury such commissions as he may now be entitled to from the State, so that his total compensation shall not exceed $800, as it is clear to me that this $800 must be in full of all money received by him from the public by way of compensa-

As a last question, you ask wheth er the $1 fee collections by the treas are is to be turned over to the county treasury and wheter the county treasurer has a right to rebate that dollar fee to deliquent taxpayers?" In reply I will say that this fee is to be turned into the county treasury Croker, who accompanied Col Bryan, and the County Treasurer has took a seat on the rear end of the no right to make this rebate to platform, while the candidate went to any one, the money being as soon as the front and acknowledged the greet collected, public funds, which he holds as trustees, and he violates the When the cheering had continued conditions of his bond if he makes

At this interesting stage the spectacle of an American presidential campaign reminds one of nothing quite so much as rival gangs of cowcattle in opposite directions. The postage thunder, and that the men who morning are making it are simply stage hands, who harl thunderbolts for the same reason that they turn the calcium light on the hero, or obeer Mark Antony's oration-because it is all in the play. The rival candidates do not bate each other nearly so much as might be supposed It is even possible that Mr Hanna would consent to dine with Mr Bryan-behind the scenes. Gov Roosevelt charges the Democrats with so bluntly about plutocracy's sins that to be on friendly terms when they chance to meet, -and that fact tends to keep your choler down. Several varying accounts came from East St Bryan and Roosevelt trains at Alton, this report : Their private cars came alongside in the yards. Each stepped upon the platform and recognized the other at

"Hello," said Roosevelt, thrusting forth his hand.

"Hello," quoth Bryan, grasping the extended hand. "How is your voice?" "It's rough as the populist platform How is yours, Col Bryen ?" laughed

"Mine is as broken as Republican promises," retorted the Nebraskan, laughing, too.

Then everybody laughed and cheerserve only in the court of general ed, the Democrats with Bryan shouting 'Hurrah'' for him, and Rooseveit's followers yelling for McKinley. The meeting came wholly by chance and was as cheerful as it was picturesque.
