CUBAN RECIPROCITY.

licans Discuss the Subject, But No Action is Taken.

Washington, Feb. 25 —The Republican members of the House of Representatives met in conference tonight to consider the question of Cuban reciprocity, the Republican members of the ways and means committee having reached an agreement to grant reciprocal concessions of about 20 per cent. There was an unusually large attendance, about 125 Republicans being present.

Chairman Payne, of the ways and means committee, presented a bill on the lines agreed upon by the Republican members of the committee, authorizing the President to negotiate a commercial agreement with Cuba, conditioned on the enactment by Cuba of our immigration and exclusion laws, in which agreement reciprocal tariff concessions of at least 20 per cent ad valorem may be secured to the United States and Cuba.

Mr. Payne spoke for more than an hour in support of this plan. He was frequently interrupted by questions from Representavies William A. Smith, Gardner, Weeks and Hamilton, of Michigan, and Lessler, of New York. Mr. Smith's question contained the Description of the Parabilearies assurance of protections. the Republican's assurance of protection, about $10,00,000 had been invest ed in the beet sugar industry in Michigan and this would be imperilled if the proposed concession was made.

Mr. Payne replied that, in his judgment, there would be ample protection to the American industry after the 20 per cent. concession was allowed, as the remaining protection would amount to about 57 per cent. ad valorem. He referred also to the President's recommendation of reciprocity.

Representative Tawney, of Minne-sota, a member of the ways and means committee, proposed a substi-tute providing that in return for tariff concessions granted by Cuba the United States shall pay to the Cuban government 20 per cent of the duties collected by this government on imports from Cuba and that so sugar planters.

THE ISTHMIAN CANAL.

The Mandingo Route Said to Have Advantages Over Either Panama or Nicaragua.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—The friends of the Nicaragua and Panama Canal routes are still harping on the difficulties to be met with in the construction of a tunnel. As far as the Isthmian Canal Commission is concerned it is an undisputed fact that not a single member of it has been near the line of the proposed tunnel, and therefore cannot know of what the rock is composed. Mr. George S. Lee, a distinguished mining engineer, and who has had great experience in works of importance in Central American and California, says that the proposed tunnel on the Mandingo line is the easiest part of the work to be

Instead of the tunnel costing $22,500,-000 per mile as has been publicly stated, a number of the most able contractors in the country have offered to do the work for $7,250,000 per mile. The men who make these offers are not theorists or pessimists or men who have never seen the work, but responsible gentlemen who are willing to put up a guarantee of $10,000,000 in United States bonds in the way of good faith, and to show their confidence in the practicability of the enterprise. If they fail to do the work within the specified time, and for the money argeed upon, they obligate themselves to pay forfeit. When such men as Professor Hopkins, Angus McDougall, and Charles S. Sweet put themselves on record as saying that the Mandingo hill is granite, it would seem to be the height of folly for any one who has not given the ground a closer inspection than the opponents of a tunnel have done to maintain that it is a volcanic heap of ashes. As compared with the great cut on the Panama Canal the Mandingo tunnel is simply a small affair. L. D. Sale.

Washington, Feb. 27.—At noon to-day in the great hall of representatives, in the presence of President Roosevelt, Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the German emperor, the members of the cabinet. the justices of the supreme court, the general of the army and officers of the navy who have received the thanks of congress, the ambassadors and other diplomatic representatives of foreign countries, the senators and representatives in congress and a large number of distinguished guests, Hon. John Hay, McKinley's premier, pronounced an eulogy upon his dead chief. By a strange coincidence today was the twentieth anniversary of that on which the peerless Blaine in the same hall, delivered his eulogy upon the martyred Garfield, and stranger still the subject of today's memorial service was the chairman of the committee that had charge of the arrangements on that

At 11:40 as the strains of the intermezzo from Cavaleria Rusticana floated through the hall there was a stir throughout the chamber. The doors to the right of the speakers' rostrum were flung wide and the members of the diplomatic corps marched in pro-ceeded by the sergeant at arms of the house. The foreign ambassadors and ministers did not appear in their court costumes but in sombre frock suits befitting the occasion, with the exception of the Chinese minister who was attired in his rich costume of mantle silk.

As the hands of the gold clock opposite the speaker's rostrum pointed to noon, Speaker Henderson called the assemblage to order. By the speaker's direction the clerk read the joint resolution providing for the memorial services and the order of the proceedings. Hardly had the reading been concluded and the journal approved before the doorkeeper announced the arrival of the senate. The speaker tapped three times with his gavel. The members of the house and the diplomatic body arose and remained on their feet as the grave and dignified senators, headed by President Pro Tem, Frye, were shown to their places behind the diplomats.

The doorkeeper announced the general of the army. The speaker tapped three times, the members of the house and the diplomatic body arose, and Gen. WILL NOT AFFECT PROGRAM. Charleston, Feb. 27.-It is stated here today that Lieut. Gov. Tillman's action last night in withdrawing to present a sword to Maj. Jenkins will have no effect on the exposition programme for the entertainment even if it is allowed to stand. The sword presentation was an incident only of the president's visit to Charleston and in no way connected with the exposition programme. The sword was purchased with a fund raised by subscription among the women of South Carolina and others, largely under Lieut. Gov. Tillman's stimulation. The arrangements for the presentation was left with him. It was not intended originally to have the president make the presentation but in view of his expected presence here at the epxosition, the opportunity was deemed fitting for such a feature. The invitation was extended by Lieut. Gov. Tillman and a place for the ceremony was made on the programme by the exposition committee at his request. The whole matter is outside of the exposition or Charleston control.
