Rev. D. M. Fulton, pastor of the Darlington Presbyterian church, filled the pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and that of the First Methodist church at the night service. On both occasions Mr. Fulton addressed large congregations and the impression he made was distinctly and decidedly favorable. He is an earnest, forcible and eloquent speaker, and his discourse bears the marks of mature thought, sincerity of conviction and zealous purpose. It is hoped that during Mr. Edmunds' leave of absence that Mr. Fulton will be able to fill the Presbyterian pulpit again. Mr. Fulton spent Monday in the city and went to Columbia next morning.

Lots of folks are beginning to think that macadam is not good enough for Main street and are talking about putting down vitrified brick. Perhaps vitrified brick will be put down in the course of time.

The Farmers' Bank and Trust Company opened for business Monday morning, and Cashier Edmunds was kept busy for quite awhile after the doors were opened receiving deposits. The bank began business under the most favorable auspices and so confident are the people generally of its success that a premium is being offered for stock in it.

MARRIAGES.

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock a quiet home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Tindal on Levi street, when their daughter, Inez, was united in marriage to Mr. Gill. The ceremony was performed by Pastor Small in the presence of friends and relatives. The bride is a lovable young woman and the groom is an upright young Englishman.

At the conclusion of the Christian church services Sunday night at the Hall of Music, Pastor Small united in marriage, Miss Kennedy and Mr. Jeffords. During the playing of Mendelssohn's wedding march by Mrs. Small the bridal pair marched down the aisle and in the presence of about 150 witnesses were made husband and wife. The bride is an amiable young lady and the groom a worthy, promising young man.

DEATH.

From the Daily Item March 16.

Major William F. B. Haynsworth, the senior member of the bar of Sumter, president of the Bank of Sumter and Sumter's most honored citizen, died at his home on East Calhoun street at 8:45 o'clock this morning, aged eighty years, three months and twenty-five days. He had been slightly indisposed for a few days but not the least apprehension was felt of a fatal termination of his illness. He attended church on Sunday but on Monday was not able to be out. Yesterday he was feeling much better and expected to attend a meeting of the directors of the Bank of Sumter in the afternoon, but decided not to do so as he was suffering with a slight touch of rheumatism. Last night he had quite a severe attack of indigestion and it was necessary to call in a physician. This morning, however, he was apparently much better although quite weak. At 8:45 o'clock, while sitting up he suddenly expired, the immediate cause of his death being heart failure brought on by the attack last night and the consequent weakness.

Mr. Haynsworth was born in this city November 27, 1824 and Sumter was his home throughout his life. He attended the South Carolina college and was graduated in the class of 1844. He studied law and was shortly after his graduation admitted to the bar and began the practice of his profession. He continued in active practice up to the time of his death. For many years he was associated with the late T. B. Fraser, the firm being dissolved when the latter was elevated to the bench. For some years he was associated with Mr. R. L. Cooper and more recently the firm has been Haynsworth & Haynsworth, his sons, Messrs. Edgar C. and Hugh C. Haynsworth, having been admitted to membership in the firm.

Mr. Haynsworth was justly regarded one of the ablest and most erudite lawyers in the state, his opinion being valued by both bench and bar.

He was for many years commissioner of equity for Sumter county, acceptably filling the office until it was abolished subsequently to the war. Following the redemption of the State in 1876 he was for years treasurer of Sumter county.

When the Bank of Sumter was organized in 1888 he was elected president, which office he occupied continuously up to his death.

He was a member of the Baptist church and was ever an influential member and foremost in works of charity and benevolence.

Mr. Haynsworth leaves six children, Messrs. Edgar C., John R. and Hugh C., of this city, Rev. William Haynsworth of Darlington and Misses Fannie and Lulla Haynsworth of this city.

MR. R. D. CUTTINO

Dies in Arizona Where He Went in Search of Health.

A telegram from Tucson, Arizona, brought the sad intelligence to this city that Mr. R. D. Cuttino died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. His remains will arrive in this city the 26th or 27th.

Mr. Cuttino was a very prosperous and popular young business man, and had numerous friends in the city who were grieved to hear of his sudden death. He leaves three young children who are not old enough to realize their heavy loss.

Mrs. Samuel Boykin Dead.

Camden, March 19.—Many homes in this community are deeply saddened on account of the death of Mrs. Samuel Boykin, which occurred at her home, a few miles below Camden, yesterday evening. The funeral services were held at the cemetery in Camden this evening. A large family circle mourned her death. No purer, sweeter life ever blessed any community than that of this sainted mother in Israel.

FOUNDRY IN OPERATION.

Edgar Skinner Has Added Important Department to His Plant.

The foundry at Skinner's machine shops which was recently erected is now in successful operation and a first class line of miscellaneous castings is being turned out. The first run was made a few days ago and the second this morning. On neither occasion was there a single mishap, every casting turning out perfect. An experienced foundryman is in charge of this department and any work in iron or brass casting or machine repairing that can be done in a well equipped machine shop and foundry can be done by Skinner's Machine shop.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. R. H. Bigham, who is offering great inducements in the furniture line in order to make room for his new stock of goods which is arriving daily.

FUNERAL OF MR. HAYNSWORTH.

All Business Suspended During the Hours of Service.

The funeral of Maj. W. F. B. Haynsworth was held at the Bartlett Street Baptist Church at 12 o'clock Friday, and during the hour of the service all the stores and business offices of the city were closed as a mark of respect.

The church was crowded until there was not standing room, and gathered around the church there were hundreds who could not gain admission. The entire community sought to do honor to the memory of a man who had the confidence, respect and love of the people of Sumter. His death is regarded as a personal bereavement by all who knew him and the cessation of business while his body was being borne to its last resting place was but an outward sign of the grief that his death has caused.

The services which were conducted by Rev. F. M. Satterwhite, assisted by Rev. C. C. Brown, were of the simplest description, and the remarks were confined to the briefest but most sincere testimonials to the character and worth of the deceased. For such an one eulogies would have been out of place, his life having been the best and truest index of his character and worth. His mortal body was tenderly borne to its last earthly resting place by the hands of sorrowing friends, there to await the final summons.

THE MEMORIAL SERVICE.

A memorial service in honor of the late Maj. William F. B. Haynsworth held in the First Baptist Church Sunday night was attended by a congregation that taxed the seating capacity of the church. The address delivered by Dr. Brown was a worthy tribute to a man whose worth this community knew full well. It gave a complete and admirable sketch of Mr. Haynsworth's life and an appreciation of his character as a citizen and Christian. This address will be published in full in this paper in the near future.

Local Art Exhibition in Sumter.

The Sumter Dry Goods Co., in their large ad. of this issue invite the ladies to visit their "Art Exhibit" as they style their spring stock this season. No doubt it is correctly named, too, as this firm always shows many novel conceptions exclusively their own. To those who admire pretty wearing apparel we would say don't slight this invitation.

The music at the Presbyterian church Sunday was exceptionally good. Miss Beaufort Brand and Mr. Sweede sang a duet that charmed the large congregation.

If the Civic Improvement club succeeds in beautifying the Court House square and the Graded school square this year a most excellent start will be made. There is a great and untouched field before the club.

Frank Weston, colored, died Thursday and was buried Friday. For several years he had been a faithful employe of O'Donnell & Co., and was respected by all who knew him.

The purchase of the Episcopal Church lot by Beck Bros. Co., for $11,000 is a straw that shows how the wind is blowing. About ninety days ago, Maj. Marion Moise and several associates purchased this property for $8,500. An increase in value of $2,500 in three months is a pretty big one.

VERY STYLISH!

Have you seen our new spring suits—coats extra long, wide collars and lapels, shapely shoulders, wide trousers, with all the late kinks in the cut, and tailoring?

If you have not seen them, you're missing something.

The Swellest Suits of the Season

Are here—single and double breasted—in the new brown and gray mixtures—or in broken checks and stripes.

Our spring suit display will certainly please the man who wishes style and durability at a moderate cost, say $10 to $20.

Our $15 and $18 suits are particular favorites.
