"IAN M'CLAREN" IS DEAD.

Beloved Author, Minister and Lecturer Dies at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, of Blood Poisoning.

Burlington,, Ia., May 6 .- Dr. John Yatson ("Ian Maclaren") died at 11.15 a. m. today at Mount Pleasant, Ia. The cause was blood poisoning resulting from tonsilitis. Dr. Watson came to Mount Pleasant on April 23 from Minneapolis to deliver a lecture. En route he became ill " 1 was compelled to cancel the lecture. Last Monday and Tuesday he was able to be up and around and transact business. Wednesday an abscess formed in the right ear, and in 24 hours serious symptoms developed. Blood poisoning set in and on Saturday other abscesses formed in the left ear and throat. The patient's condition was aggravated by a bad attack of rheumatism. His wife, who was his constant companion in his last illness, left the room at 11 o'clock this morning. She was gone about fifteen minutes and returning found her husband lifeless.

The Rev. Dr. John Watson ("Ian Maclaren") was born at Morningtree, Essex, England, Nov. 3, 1850. He was ordained a minister in 1875. He was appointed Lyman Beecher lecturer at Yale University in 1876, and was made minister of Sefton Park Presbyterian Church, Liverpool, in 1880. Among the publications of "Ian Maclaren" were "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush," "The Days of Auld Lang Syne," "A Doctor of the Old School," etc., and among the works signed John Watson were "The Mind of the Master," "The Cure of Souls," "The Potter's Wheel," "The Life of the Master," "Doctrines of Grace," "The Homely Virtues" and "The Inspiration of Faith."

The dead head list has been eliminated by the new board of directors of the Baseball Association. Every man who enters the park will have to pay, and the ladies will have to pay every day except Tuesday. No charge to ladies will be made for admission the United States court, charged with ed. His decision in the matter is reto the grand stand.

Put Them in Stripes.

The importation of whiskey and wines by "blind tigers" can be stopped, but not by imposing fines. So The Sumter Watchman was founded in long as the fines do not destroy the

> The effectiveness of the method by which the wholesale tigers may be brought to their senses is simple.

The overwhelming sentiment of this city favors the enforcement of the Carey-Cothran law (unsuitable as it is to the community), so that it shall turn the largest amount of revenue into the city and county treas-

The question before the taxpayes of Charleston is whether or not they shall lose $25,000 or $50,000 a year in order that a small number of lawbreaking wholesale whiskey dealers shall amass fotunes.

Is any wholesale "blind tiger" in this city too good to wear stripes? Does any reason exist why one who impudently defies the people of Char-The usual memorial exercises will leston should not work on the chaingang?

A fine of $500 will not reform a wealthy "tiger." Thirty days on the chaingang would tame him for the remainder of his natural life.

The grand juries and the petit jurors of Charleston are what the people of Charleston make thom.

If the people of Charleston are so tender-heated that they prefer to lose $30,000 a year, or possibly twice that sum, in order that the lawbreaker may escape the law's penalty, then the situation is hopeless.

The county dispensary system is not an ally or a sub-agent for a corrupt State machine having headquarters in Columbia or elsewhere. It is controlled and operated by Charleston for Charleston. The county board of control is composed of gentlemen willing and determined to enforce the law. To succeed, they must have the active, aggressive and untiring help of the community and this help must be shown in the Court of Sessions by the jurors.

We do not expect that the Carey-Cothran law shall prove a perfect success. Ignorantly and viciously, the State constitution of 1895 has entangled and embarrassed all efforts for the sane and intelligent control of manifest purpose of the statute was the traffic in intoxicants in the larger to make all inquiry as to suicide At the conclusion of the pro- cities of South Carolina. The general wholly immaterial, except where the e all the veterans who have assembly has done the best that it insured contemplated suicide at the stitutional restriction. It has given to Charleston home rule and home regulation of this traffic. If our community falls to respond to the spirit of the legislation, more acceptable legislation in future may not be looked for.

Earnest efforts on the part of the can be caried in the pocket or purse. community to utilize the Carey-Cothran law to improve conditions, with fair results to show the legislature, will gradually bring the people of the State to a rational sympathy with the difficulties of the situation here. By such efforts the enactment of prohibition for Charleston may be averted.

Our first efforts should be to destroy the business of the wholesale importers of contraband whiskey and that may be easily accomplished by putting the wholesalers in stripes on the streets.-News and Courier.

commission did not order any accounts paid yesterday. Another meeting wil be held today.

The question as to what is to be done in regard to the $400.000 belonging to the school fund of the State is causing the whiskey houses a great deal of worry, according to a member of the commission. At least one liquor drummer was more or less worried up over the matter yes-

If the dispensary commission should decide that the State dispensary owes the public schools of the State $400,000, as the books of the late board of directors show, it would probably mean that the liquor houses will have to wait a longer time on their money and may not get so much as if their accounts are given pref-

It is thought by some that the county boards of education could mandamus the dispensary commission and recover their pro rata of he full $400,000. As yet no action has been taken by the State superintendent of education or any of the county boards.

Reinsal of Carolina's Chiefs to Maintain Record of Their Predecessors Astonishes Metropolitan Press.

The New York Herald printed Tuesday in a most prominent position, and with flaring headlines, the following special from New Haven,

Members of Connecticut's official party at the opening of the Jamestown Exposition are telling of an episode in which Governor R. S. Woodruff, of Connecticut, and the governors of North Carolina and South Carolina were figures. The three met at Governor Claude A. Swanson's reception on Thursday evening in the Virginia building. The Carolinian governors had never met, and Connecticut's governor, upon learning of the fact, brought them together, Goveror Ansel, of South Carolina, and Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, clasped hands warmly, and while they were expressing mutual gratification over the meeting Governor Woodruff stood expectantly. He remarked as they were about to sepa-

"And now, gentlemen, I presume I shall have the pleasure of hearing a repetition of the famous remark of the Governor of North Carolina to the Governor of South Carolina."

Governor Ansel responded at once. "Your Excellency, as I am a prohibition governor and a teetotaler, I cannot make it sincerely."

And to the amazement of Governor Woodruffff and Governor Ansel as well the other governor added:

"Being a prohibitionist myself I, too, must suffer the remark, at least literally, to remain a matter of history."

Insurance companies cannot refuse to pay policies on suicides ,in case the law of the State in which the suicide occurred provides that such policies must be paid. This point was decided by the supreme court in a suicide case which came up from Missouri, the lower court being overruled. It was held that the clause in the policy making suicide a defense to payment by the company was an evasion of the statute of the State. In rendering the decision Justice Harlan said: "The
