

BIG REWARD FOR DYNAMITERS

$100,000 FOR CAPTURE OF LOS ANGELES FIENDS.

Authorities Believe at Least Three Men Implicated in Destruction of Times Newspaper Building and Killing of More than a Score of Employees—Police Chief Has Clue and Expects to Apprehend Guilty Parties.

Los Angeles, Cal. Oct. 3.—Under the stimulus of proffered rewards aggregating $100,000, hundreds of policemen and private citizens here and in coast cities are searching for clues that may lead to the arrest of the conspirators responsible for the blowing up of the Times building last Saturday and the attempted destruction of the homes of Gen. Harrison Gray Otis and F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association.

Police and civil officials believe that at least three were concerned in the outrage, which cost the lives of more than a score of Times employees, and the city has placed a price of $10,000 upon the head of each. The county today voted an additional reward of $5,000 for every man captured and convicted, and, on top of all members of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association decided to offer a reward of $50,000.

Twenty-five thousand of the amount already has been subscribed. The rest, it is predicted, will be contributed tomorrow. Upon the assumption that at least three men were responsible for the explosion, the combined offers of reward thus far approximate $100,000.

The entire city has been thoroughly aroused. One newspaper that has been friendly to union labor printed a first page editorial today, demanding that, in view of the strictures directed at the unions in connection with the explosion, the strikes now on be called off.

The State Federation of Labor, which met in Convention here, probably will take action tomorrow looking toward the appointment of investigators, who will work in connection with the committee named by the officials.

Chief of Police Galloway said today that he expected to have one or all of the conspirators in custody within a few hours, and later he stated he expected news from San Francisco, whence has come the most promising clue so far developed.

William J. Burns, former head of the detective force engaged in the graft cases in San Francisco, is at work tonight in that city with Los Angeles detectives, who were sent North upon receipt of notification that the dynamite believed to have been the same as that found in the bomb at the Zeehandelaar home had been purchased near San Francisco by men named Leonard, Bryson and Morris, Burns and the other detectives, with Attorney Earl Rogers and a powder expert, left San Francisco last night after reports concerning Leonard, Bryson and Morris were received.

Forty additional patrolmen were ordered enrolled by the council, which met in special session today. Ten additional sergeants and another lieutenant will be authorized. These men are now being enrolled and placed on guard about places where the strike troubles recently were. Two at Long Beach, the Alexandria Hotel, now in course of construction, and several other large steel buildings are heavily guarded.

TWENTY-NINE DROWNED.

That Number Missing From Crew of Battleship.

New York, Oct. 2.—There was given out at the battleship New Hampshire tonight a list of 29 men who were supposed to have perished by the swamping of a barge or whale-boat which was being towed to the vessel at anchor in the Hudson River last night. Appended to the list are the names of 18 men who are still absent, but who were not recognized as having been in the swamped boat.

Capt. Thomas S. Rodgers, in command of the New Hampshire, gave out the list with this brief introduction:

"The following is a list of the men missing from yesterday's liberty party, who are thought to have been in the boat that swamped last night: 'Only two Southern men are in the list. They are: A. Mampley, coal passer, Richmond, Va., and M. T. Seals, electrician, first class, Columbus, Ga.

"It is not certain," comments Capt. Rodgers, "that these men were lost, as two of them originally on the list returned today."

The employers submitted a counter proposal which the operatives rejected this evening. It is now believed that a protracted struggle is inevitable.

WEATHER FOR THE WEEK.

Bureau Predicts Rain and Unsettled Weather.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Rains are predicted by the United States weather bureau to spread this week from the Northwest to the middle Atlantic and the New England States caused by an extensive barometric depression from Alaska. Beginning tonight in the extreme Northwest, the downpour will extend Monday and Tuesday over the greater portion of the coast belt, spreading over the lower Lake region and Ohio Valley Wednesday and Thursday to the middle Atlantic States and New England. Another period of low pressure and unsettled weather is likely to set in after the middle of the week.

Higher temperatures are expected early in the week in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, which will reach the Eastern States by Tuesday, and after the indicated rains there will be a return of more seasonable conditions. On the whole, temperatures over the country for the week will be above the normal.

WOULD ABOLISH QUEUE.

Minister Wu So Recommends to Chinese Throne.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Memorializing the throne at Peking in favor of abolishing the queue, Wu Ting Fang, the former minister to Washington, who kept Americans busy answering his questions while he was at his post, has explained how he happened to take that attitude.

In his memorial, the text of which has just reached Washington, Mr. Wu says Chinese residents in North, South and Central America have been mocked and teased for foreigners until they employed him to seek an Imperial edict, giving official sanction to cropping the hair and changing their costumes to accord with Western ideas.

Meeting of County Board.

The regular meeting of the county board, which was held Tuesday at the office of the county supervisor, was the shortest on record. What little business that came before the board was soon transacted and the meeting was quickly adjourned.

MURDERERS OF WILLIAMS.

TEN CIRCUS EMPLOYEES HELD IN AUGUSTA JAIL.

Augusta Chief Says He Has Indisputable Evidence Which Will Convict Each of the Eleven of Being Implicated in Robbery and Killing of Paul Williams.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 3.—"I have indisputable evidence," said George P. Elliott, chief of the Augusta police department, "which will convict each of the 11 employes of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, whom I now have under arrest, of being implicated in the robbery and murder of Paul A. Williams of Columbia."

Chief Elliott gave out his statement tonight after a busy day spent in ferreting out the facts connected with the murder of Paul Williams, the 18-year-old report clerk at the freight depot of the Southern railroad in Columbia, who was shot and robbed while riding on the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus train between Columbia and Augusta early Sunday morning.

"I admit," continued Chief Elliott "that I have been up against one of the hardest propositions I ever tackled. The circus employes know each other merely by nicknames and sometimes three or four men have the same name. Their ignorance of each other is astonishing. Trying to find a circus man is like going down into an ant hill and searching for a particular ant."

Chief Elliott has practically all the facts about the riot on the circus train, but could give out very little for publication tonight on account of the peculiar character of the situation with which he is dealing. He now has in the Richmond county jail ten employes of the circus, three white men and seven negroes. He is convinced that one of them fired the shot which killed Paul Williams.

In regard to the part which the Augusta police played in the capture of the ten suspects, Chief Elliott said last night:

"The first intimation of the affair which I had was a telegram sent from Warrentonville and signed by J. C. Weekley, telling me to search the first section of the circus train for the body of Paul A. Williams. I got a list of the men on this train, which showed where they slept. When the train arrived I had 21 men arrested who had slept Sunday night on the flat cars, on one of which young Williams was murdered. After an examination I let all the men except eight go free. I wanted three more men, two of them white and the other one a negro. I located one of the white men in Aiken and the other between Aiken and North Augusta. They were arrested this afternoon. I expect to get the negro."

Both of the two white men arrested had blood on their clothing. One wore a battered and blood-stained straw hat. One of the pair was a smooth-shaven man, with a pointed nose and chin, which corresponded to the description given by J. C. Weekley of the man who invited young Williams and him to go to Augusta on the circus train.

P. H. Corley, sheriff of Lexington county, with his special deputy, E. E. Corley, is in Augusta. Sheriff Corley will bring the prisoners back to Lexington tomorrow afternoon.

A white employe of the circus named Harrison, who was knocked on the head by a negro in the riot on the circus train, is being cared for at police headquarters. He claims that he was robbed of $12.50.

The circus officials and the special agents of the Southern railway have all assisted the Augusta police department in drawing the drag net.

One of the employes of the circus said today that the negroes in a riot similar to the one Sunday morning killed a railroad man at Greensboro, Ind., while he was protecting the property of his company from the marauders.

BURIAL OF PAUL WILLIAMS.

Funeral Services Held at Church of the Good Shepherd.

Columbia, Oct. 4.—From the church of the Good Shepherd this morning were conducted the funeral services over the remains of Paul Williams, the young Southern Railway clerk, who was foully murdered Sunday morning on the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus train several miles below Columbia. The Rev. Chas. A. Woodson, pastor of the church of the Good Shepherd, conducted the services, assisted by the Rev. O. E. Watson, pastor of Washington Street Methodist church.

Many of the young man's friends were present to pay the last tribute, and the church was crowded. The awfulness of the calamity, together with the bereavement of two families, caused much sorrow in the entire city. Mr. Williams, had he lived, would have soon married Miss Marie Weaver of Charleston. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Weaver, parents of the young woman, arrived in the city yesterday, and were present at the funeral today, together with Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Athens, Ga.

Miss Weaver, it was learned, had just finished writing a letter to Mr. Williams, when the message came informing the family of his death. "I did not know how to tell my daughter of it," said Mrs. Weaver, who is in Columbia, "and when she was told, it made her ill." The young woman was so prostrated with grief that she was unable to attend the funeral.

The Georgetown Plan.

Enterprising Georgetown county will bear watching. Georgetown's land development idea is going to succeed, and its success means valuable results to Georgetown's growth. Because of Charleston's superior location and greater progress in drainage work, Georgetown's success will leave this county little excuse for not taking up the farm settlement scheme and making it flourish here. Georgetown needs smaller farming communities honeycombed in its timber denuded territory, and so does Charleston. Steady growth within our limits appears to be an assured fact, for an intelligent and energetic campaign will soon be opened by a trained commercial secretary to accelerate the pace already set by our awakened spirit of progress. But if our suburban territory be not peopled with prosperous agriculturists, industrious and in strong numbers, we must remain more or less isolated, and we may hardly hope to increase in population so rapidly as our superb natural advantages warrant.

There is ample territory in Charleston county just as there is in Georgetown county suited admirably for small farming. Charleston has the advantage over Georgetown of a well developed drainage system, and more railroad facilities. What Charleston lacks at present is a united effort to advertise our farm lands and a disposition to provide capital to help a good class of settlers start on a solid financial basis.

Georgetown business men have advanced necessary money, they have secured special rates into their territory, and they have covered a wide territory with advertising matter. Moreover, 7,000 acres of land have been set aside for farm development, and this land is being surveyed and drained. Georgetown banks stand ready to lend money to the newcomers, and Georgetown citizens wait to welcome the strangers to promised prosperity. In a few months the fruit of this enterprise will ripen. Charleston should keep in close touch with its quality and value.—Charleston Post.

Mr. E. T. Turner, of Memphis, Tenn., representing the Commercial Appeal was in the city Tuesday. He spent the morning driving in the country inspecting the cotton crop, and in collecting statistics for a special report on the crop in this section. He is making a tour of the Southeastern cotton States and will be in South Carolina a week or ten days, visiting a number of counties in that time. The cotton crop reports of the Commercial Appeal, which are published each week throughout the crop growing season, are collected by several thousand correspondents—one in each cotton growing county—and are regarded as the most complete and authoritative published in this country. Mr. Turner was much interested in the heavy receipts on this market and asked for full information as to the big cotton day and concerning the average cotton receipts in Sumter.
