

"Cardui Cured Me"

For nearly ten years, at different times, Mrs. Mary Jinks of Treadway, Tenn., suffered with womanly troubles. She says: "At last, I took down and thought I would die. I could not sleep. I couldn't eat. I had pains all over. The doctors gave me up. I read that Cardui had helped so many, and I began to take it, and it cured me. Cardui saved my life! Now, I can do anything."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, dragging-down feelings, pains in arm, side, hip or limbs, and other symptoms of womanly trouble, you should try Cardui, the woman's tonic. Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the best remedy for you to use, as it can do you nothing but good. It contains no dangerous drugs. It has no bad after-effects. Ask your druggist. He sells and recommends Cardui.

TO RESUME Y. M. C. A. WORK.

Board of Directors Decide to Take up Y. M. C. A. Work Themselves and Go on With It.

From The Daily Item, July 21.

At a called meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors held Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, it was decided upon the recommendation of the building committee that the building committee resume work on the Y. M. C. A. building and push it on to completion.

The work on the building was stopped about two months ago when the Blue Ridge Construction company went into bankruptcy. Since that time the company has been in the hands of receivers and is at present unable to go on with the work, nor is it apt to take it up at any time soon. Upon this showing a meeting of the building committee was called for Wednesday afternoon at which the architect, Mr. Sompayrac, was present and he advised that the building committee go ahead with the work. The building committee after due consideration decided to refer the matter to the Board of Directors which met yesterday afternoon to take up the recommendation which was made to them by the building committee that work be taken up by the building committee with the architect.

This recommendation was approved by the board of directors and as a result all arrangements will be made to have work begin at as soon a date as possible. It was stated yesterday that this would probably be on next Monday.

The action of the Board of Directors will generally meet with the hearty approval of the people of the city who have frequently expressed their disappointment that the building was not now nearing completion, instead of being in the condition it was in. The directors also decided to hold the bonding company liable to the amount of bonds held on them.

CAPT GONZALES INJURED.

Columbia, July 21.—Capt. Gonzales, editor of The State, who left here this morning in his automobile, en route to Asheville, to join Mrs. Gonzales and their son Robert, was injured at Fountain Inn when his machine was wrecked. It is said here that the car was ditched by a wire stretched across the road. This has not been confirmed. Capt. Gonzales was taken to a hospital in Greenville. His injuries are not dangerous.

TO INVESTIGATE EXPRESS COMPANIES.

Order Issued by Railroad Commission Precedes Hearing in Express Rates Case.

Columbia, July 21.—An order has been issued by the Railroad Commission calling on the Southern Express Company for comprehensive information and precedes a searching investigation, the first ever made in this State, into the whole express situation.

The purpose of the inquiry is to determine whether express rates, rules and practices are unreasonable, as alleged in various complaints lodged from time to time. The commission has been gathering data quietly for some time. The order calling for information is returnable September 4th, after that date the data secured will be digested and a hearing, or series of hearings, will be ordered. This is to be, it is said, one of the most thorough and sweeping investigations ever made in this State of many and various investigations.

Escured With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Fort Harrison, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." ALDRICH CONTRADICTS HINES.

Former Senator Testifies that Taft Did Not Urge Lorimer Election.

Washington, July 20.—The story of the Administration's attitude toward the election of Senator Lorimer as told by former Senator Aldrich and R. J. Shields, of Superior, Wis., featured the Lorimer hearing today.

Instead of sending Edward Hines, the Chicago lumber man to Springfield, with word from the Washington Administration that Lorimer should be elected, Mr. Aldrich testified that he told Hines President Taft was not supporting the candidate, but that Lorimer was not objectionable to him. The former Senator said he told Hines previously that the President had no objection to Albert J. Hopkins or Henry S. Boutell for the Senatorship.

A statement from the White House last March in regard to the election was read to the witness. The only point concerning which he said he knew nothing was the declaration that a request had been made on the President to sign a telegram stating his views on Lorimer's candidacy.

The White House statement given out March 29 was as follows: "That facts with reference to the President's relation to Senator Lorimer's election is this:

"That during the tariff fight gentlemen came to him and expressed their interests in the passage of the tariff bill and said that it had been suggested from Illinois that it would be wise for the President to express an opinion in favor of the election of Lorimer. He did not know Mr. Lorimer well, although he knew that he was an influential member of Congress, but he did know Hopkins. He knew very little about Illinois politics, but expressed a desire that there should be two Republican Senators from Illinois, but when asked to put that in the form of a telegram urging Lorimer's election he declined to do so.

"The statement by Hines that the President was anxious for, and urging the election of, Mr. Lorimer is unfounded."

C. F. Wiehe, secretary of the Edward Hines Lumber Company, said that R. J. Shields had connected the affidavits of witnesses who testified yesterday, that Wiehe did not make known some of the conversation on the "Winnipeg special." Wiehe said no arrangement had been made to pay Shields anything, but that he had asked him to collect the affidavits "just as I would ask the Senator to hand me a fan."

He said Shields spent two weeks travelling in Kansas, Iowa, Northwest Canada and Washington to find the witnesses.

For an hour Wiehe was questioned as to whether Shields represented the Hines Company in Wisconsin politics, and how it happened that Shields would leave his own business to hunt up evidence for others without some kind of an arrangement about compensation. Wiehe knew nothing of Shield's personal activities for the company, but called attention to the statement that Shields got about $5,000 out of the Hines Company as insurance premiums. He said he expected to pay Shields if he presented a bill.

Wiehe said he could not assist the committee in locating Shields.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Four Negro Women Injured When Bread Wagon is Knocked over on Them.

Four negro women, Addie McCray, Red Springs, N. C., Josephine Green, Frogmore, S. C., Virginia Ellerbe, Dovesville, S. C., Mary B. Melver, Sandford, N. C., were injured in an automobile accident which occurred Wednesday afternoon on Manning avenue. The automobile was run by C. C. Wooten, the manager of the Strauss Garage.

It seems from what can be learned of the occurrence that Mr. Wooten and Mr. Dittler were riding in the car which was going very slowly. When they came to this place a wagon was on one side of the street and a horse and buggy was standing on the other side of the street. The horse, which was hitched to the buggy came opposite the buggy and was directly between the two vehicles, and started to backing and to prevent its running the buggy into the car he turned the car towards the other side. As he did it struck the bread wagon, which belonged to Mr. Frank Grier, and overturned it upon the negro women who were standing at the door of a store at that place. Mary Melver was cut on the arm and hand when she tried to get out of the way of the falling wagon by jumping back and breaking the glass in the store window. Virginia Ellerbe was hurt on the hip and one leg and Addie McCray and Josephine Green were injured on the legs where the top of the wagon struck them.

A doctor was summoned immediately and the women were given medical treatment. Two of them were able to leave Thursday afternoon for their homes while the other two were kept over for a few days until they were somewhat recovered. All of the women were delegates to the Ladies of the Knights of King David Convention which met here Thursday.

WEASEL VANQUISHES SNAKE.

Farmer's Opinion of Combat Is That It Beats Bull Fight.

Mr. Robert Pumphrey, a farmer of Marley Station, Anne Arundel county, witnessed a combat to the death Monday between a large black snake and a weasel. "Look, he has four legs and four eyes, can't compare with it," he said.

Mr. Pumphrey was walking around his farm. His way lay through a stretch of woodland. He had reached the densest portion when he heard a loud noise coming from a mass of underbrush. He thought at first that something was after one of his turkeys and he cautiously advanced to see.

Drawn up in a natural arena was a large black snake and a weasel engaged in mortal combat. The snake was coiled up, its beady eyes gleaming fire, at intervals ejecting its fangs ready to strike. The weasel was just then on the point of returning to the fray.

Suddenly, with a tigerlike leap, the weasel sprang upon the snake, fastening its sharp teeth in the reptile's back and causing the blood to flow. But before the agile little creature could escape, the snake, with a mighty effort, coiled itself around its body and held it as in a vice. For a few minutes there was great confusion, weasel and snake rolling around so that they seemed to form a single bundle, electrically charged. By a desperate effort the weasel managed to free itself and sprang out of reach.

By this time the snake had apparently become weary of the encounter and wrapped itself around a sapling. Seizing the opportunity to deal a death blow, the weasel sprang forward and sank its teeth into the neck of the snake, severing its head.

Then the weasel proceeded to devour its vanquished foe.—Baltimore Sun.

"When should rape be sowed for early fall pasture?" For early fall feeding I would sow the rape in July in rows like rutabaga turnips and cultivate it. It can also be sowed broadcast, but you will get a better crop in rows. For late fall and winter, sow in early September. Use the seed of the variety known as the "Dorset Horn."—Dorsetshire Farmer.
