TARIFF BILL IN CONFERENCE.

Today Will see Measure in Process of Adjustment to Both Houses' Wishes.

Washington, Sept. 10.—With leaders of both houses confident that it will be back for final enactment within a few days, the Democratic tariff bill as passed by the house and amended by the senate goes to conference tomorrow. The senate conferees already have been named and those from the house will be appointed tomorrow.

Senator Simmons said tonight the conferees would hold their first meeting tomorrow night. Both he and Majority Leader Underwood expressed the opinion that there would be no serious difficulty about reaching an agreement.

TILLMAN NOT BACKING SIMS.

Withdraws Support From Orangeburg Man for Marshal.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Senator Tillman has notified the department of Justice that his official endorsement of J. L. Sims, of Orangeburg, as a candidate to succeed J. Duncan Adams as United States marshal for South Carolina, has been withdrawn. This information was given by the senior Senator this evening in response to a question from The News and Courier's correspondent who has observed the activity of friends of Ex-Sheriff Buford, of Newberry County, and asked Senator Tillman if there was any possibility of his withdrawing the Sims endorsement. In explanation of his course, Senator Tillman remarked that some people had been saying that he was trying to hog both offices, that is the district attorneyship and the marshalship, and he felt constrained to take this action to clarify the situation.

Senator Smith, who had not actually endorsed Mr. Sims, but had agreed to acquiesce in his nomination, was promptly asked what position he would take with regard to the marshalship in view of Senator Tillman's latest move. The junior Senator replied that he had nothing whatever to say for publication.

The indications are that Senator Tillman is concentrating all his forces behind the Thurmond candidacy for district attorney, recognizing the fact that during the past few days Weston has gained grounds heavily. Whether the last move of the senior senator will result in an understanding between him and his colleague or only deepen the cleavage between them remains to be seen.

Many Boys and Girls Leave for College and Preparing to Leave.

Monday marked the beginning of the exodus in large numbers of boys and girls for their various colleges throughout the State. Quite a large number left Monday and others will be leaving for the rest of this week and next week.

Messrs. J. D. Jenkins and John B. Duffie, who enter the first year law school, also left Monday.

INTEREST IN WILSON'S VISIT.

Columbia, Sept. 12.—General interest was manifested yesterday in the possibility of President Wilson spending a day in Columbia during the week of the State fair. No definite assurance that the president would accept was given Senator Smith and E. J. Watson when they called at the White House Wednesday to extend the invitation. There is good reason, however, to believe that he will, as the fair will be held just at the time that President Wilson and a party of senators, congressmen and other federal officials will make a trip to Mobile to attend the sessions of the Southern Commercial congress the latter part of October.

D. E. Eird, secretary of the State Fair association, had written to Senator Tillman on the same day that Senator Smith and Col. Watson had visited the president, asking that Senator Tillman take this matter up with President Wilson at once. In discussing the proposed visit yesterday, Mr. Eird said: "The officials of the State Fair association wish to go on record as heartily indorsing the plan to have President Wilson in Columbia one day during fair week. A speech by him at the fair grounds would be of universal interest in South Carolina, and we are earnestly hoping that he may be prevailed upon to come. South Carolina was once the home of the president, and we still feel that we have some claim over him."

EYES FILLED WITH MOLTEN METAL.

But Strange to Relate the Sight of Mr. George Betts Was Not Destroyed.

Mr. George Betts was the victim of an unusual and painful accident Tuesday afternoon while at work at Mr. W. G. Pierson's mill on the Manning road a few miles south of this city. He was babbling the bearings on a piece of machinery and when the molten metal was poured into a bearing box there was an explosion, caused by an accumulation in the box of water or oil. The metal was blown into his face and eyes, causing painful, but fortunately not serious injuries. The metal entered both eyes, forming films of metal between the eye lids and ball, completely covering the eyes and sealing them hard and fast, so that his sight was entirely obscured. At first it was thought that his eyes were burned and his sight destroyed, and he was brought to the city for treatment with the utmost speed. At the hospital the metal was removed from his eyes and it was then ascertained that his sight had not been destroyed and he will recover without serious impairment of vision. The eye balls, although they had been completely encased in the metal films, were not seriously burned, the moisture that is always present having served as a protection, the thin film of metal that had been formed between the lids and eyeballs having cooled so quickly that the delicate membranes were scarcely blistered. He is still suffering a great deal, and his eyeballs and face are badly swollen, but it is hoped that he will entirely recover within a few weeks.

SPARTAN SHOT BY BROTHER.

Bud Henley Thought to be Fatally Wounded.

Spartanburg, Sept. 11.—Walter Henley shot and stabbed his brother, Bud Henley, at their home in East Spartanburg tonight. They are sons of E. A. Henley, a farmer. The cause of the quarrel has not been learned, but the alleged assailant's mind is said to have been inflamed with liquor. He shot his brother in the chest with a shotgun as his victim was sitting down, it is alleged, and then threw the gun away and slashed him in the abdomen with a pocket knife.

Bud Henley was brought to the Spartanburg Hospital, where it was stated that he probably would die. Walter Henley was arrested by Sheriff W. J. White.

SAYS HE WILL BE ACQUITTED.

Sulzer Declares that All He Wants is Justice.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 14.—"I am going to be acquitted," said Governor William Sulzer tonight at a conference with Ex-Judge D. Cady Herriek, of his counsel, concerning the impeachment trial, which will commence Thursday before the State senate and the court of appeals, sitting as a court of impeachment.

The governor commented on the attitude of "some of the senators" and declared that "this is a trial, not a political fight." He said that "justice is all I want." His statement follows:

"I am going to be acquitted. I will have a fair trial. I have said some hard things about some of the senators and they have said some hard things about me; but this is a trial, not a political fight. They are both judges and jurors and, and I believe most of them are large enough and honest enough to rise above any personal feeling they may entertain toward me because of what I have said about them, and do me justice, and that is all I want."

PARR SHOALS SUSPECT.

Railway Man Has Been Held in Greenville Jail—Denies Knowledge of Crime.

Greenville, Sept. 14.—Suspected of being implicated in the Parr Shoals robbery which occurred September 5, J. B. Tipton, a freight conductor on the Southern Railway, whose home is in Greenville, was arrested Friday afternoon by Detective Stevens of Columbia and Detective W. R. Adams of the Atlanta Branch of the Burns agency. Tipton has a wife and four children. He has resided in Greenville for four years. Apparently he is about 45 years of age.

When seen by the State's correspondent the prisoner denied all connections with the robbery, and gave an account of himself on the day of the robbery. In the morning, according to his statement, he left Spartanburg on a run to Columbia, reaching the latter city shortly before 1 o'clock. He then went to his boarding house, and claims that his first knowledge of the robbery was when he read an account in an afternoon paper in Columbia Friday night. He left Columbia for Greenville coming via Spartanburg.

Local officials did not know that he was suspected of any connection with the robbery, their first intimation of his alleged complicity being his arrest by the two detectives who came here with a warrant for him. The prisoner was turned over to Sheriff Rector and kept in the county jail until this afternoon when an officer of Columbia and other officials took him to Columbia. At the request of officials the newspapers have withheld publication of the arrest until today.

Tipton was very calm while in the local jail and from first to last stated unequivocally that none of his movements were hidden on the day of the robbery, when a paymaster of the J. G. White company was robbed of $16,000. This is the first time, he says, that he has ever looked out from behind the bars. He is originally from Greenville, Tenn. At the time of his arrest he was arranging to take his family to Columbia, where he intended making his future home.
