

48 HOURS GRACE.

Huerta Has That Time in Which to Comply.

Diplomatic Relations Will Be Severed and Mexico Will Be Left to Shift for Herself—Does Not Mean War Unless Huerta Strikes First Blow.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Diplomatic relations between United States and Mexico will be severed within forty-eight hours, unless Huerta agrees to the more pressing points of the American demands.

This was learned at State department today from an authoritative source. Severance of diplomatic relations does not necessarily mean war, unless Huerta takes the initiative against the United States.

Secretary Bryan was today notified that Envoy Lind had left the Mexican capital for Vera Cruz, where he will remain until recalled by President Wilson. His mission has admittedly been a complete failure. Charge D'Affaires O'Shaughnessy today informed the State department that President Huerta shows no intention of acceding to the demands of the United States. He recommends that this government withdraw all diplomatic agents and leave Huerta to shift for himself.

The announcement was made this afternoon that President Wilson will make public statement this afternoon relative to the Mexican affairs, will review negotiations of the past few weeks and define the policy of the weeks and definite the policy of the United States.

Germans Expect War.

Mexico City, Nov. 13.—Germans living here have been advised by their legation to leave the country at once. Warnings which have been sent to Tereon and Durango and other towns indicate that the Germans expect widespread hostilities shortly. Every train for Vera Cruz is crowded with passengers and all Americans are arranging to leave at a moment's notice.

Huerta on a Big Drunk.

Mexico City, Nov. 13.—Foreign Minister Moheno today issued an official statement declaring that relations with the United States are unchanged. He says that Envoy Lind did not come in contact with officials of Mexican government and "has gone away without having had a conference with a single Mexican official."

President Huerta is reported to be at his residence on Liverpool street today recovering from a night's debauch last night. All entrances to his house are guarded.

Statement May Be Withheld.

Washington, Nov. 13.—It developed this afternoon that President Wilson may withhold his Mexican statement until tonight or tomorrow.

Vera Cruz, Mex. Nov. 13.—John Lind, President Wilson's special representative in Mexico arrived here from Mexico City this morning and went directly to the American consulate, whither all his goods were removed last night from his hotel. Vera Cruz is comparatively quiet today.

Where is Dictator Huerta.

Mexico City, Nov. 13.—The departure of Envoy Lind is regarded as one of the final steps leading to an open break between the United States and Dictator Huerta's government. The final break may come within twenty-four hours.

Charge de'affaires O'Shaughnessy spent the entire night at the American embassy, sending dispatches to Washington and arranging important State papers. Reports are current that Mr. O'Shaughnessy is packing preparatory to leaving Mexico, but this is characterized at the embassy as "absurd." Provisional Huerta could not be located after five o'clock yesterday afternoon and the circumstance gave rise to a report that he was preparing to leave the capitol. This has been vigorously denied by his friends.

SMALLER CROP; WORTH MORE

CORN CROP THIS YEAR IS NOT AS LARGE AS LAST YEAR BUT PRICE IS BETTER.

Estimated that Crop is Valued at $1,741,353,019 to Producers—Estimate of Other Crops Produced This Year.

Washington, Nov. 10.—This year's corn crop promises to be of the most value of any crop this or any other nation ever has produced, although the department of agriculture's preliminary estimate of production, issued today indicate it will be more than 500,000,000 bushels less in size than the record crop of last year and the smallest since in 1903. Based on the department figures of 70.7 cents per bushel, the average farm value on November 1, the crop, as now estimated, is worth $1,741,353,019, while the value of the 1912 record crop was $1,520,454,000. The previous most valuable crop was that of 1909, when it was worth $1,652,822,000.

The department's preliminary estimate of production today increased by 90,000,000 bushels the estimate made in October and also that made in September. This was taken to indicate that the damage from the very severe drought in the Middle West was somewhat overestimated. The greatest damage from the drought is indicated in the figures for Kansas, where the yield has been reduced to 13.2 bushels, compared with 23 bushels last year; in Missouri, where the yield was 17.5 bushels, compared with last year's 22 bushels, and in Oklahoma, where it was 11 bushels, against 18.7 last year. In Illinois the yield was 12 bushels below last year's yield, in Iowa 9 bushels, in Nebraska 9 bushels, Indiana 3.7 bushels and Ohio 5.2 bushels.

Details of the report follow: Corn: Total production, preliminarily estimated, 2,463,917,000, compared with 3,124,746,000 bushels last year. Yield per acre, 23 bushels, compared with 29.2 bushels last year and 27 bushels, the ten-year average. Average farm price 70.7 cents per bushel, compared with 58.4 cents last year. Wheat: Total production, preliminarily estimated, 753,233,000 bushels, compared with 730,267,000 bushels last year. Yield per acre, 15.2 bushels, compared with 15.9 bushels last year and 14.2 bushels, the ten-year average.

Oats: Total production, preliminarily estimated, 1,122,139,000 bushels, compared with 1,418,337,000 bushels last year. Yield per acre, 29.3 bushels, compared with 37.4 bushels last year and 29.8 bushels, the 10-year average. Average farm value, 54.7 cents per bushel, compared with 33.6 cents last year.

NO CHANGE IN MONEY FIGHT

SENATOR HITCHCOCK MAKES OUTBURST ON FLOOR—PROVES FEATURE.

Says He Will Not Change His Views to Please the President, Nor Will He Enter Caucus if It Binds Him to Its Decision.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The administration's decision to throw the pending currency bill into a conference of senate Democrats today resulted in an outburst on the floor of the senate and a do-rotting session of the deadlocked senate banking committee. Senator Hitchcock, who has been "solid anti-administration" throughout the committee's deliberation declared on the floor that he would not change his conviction even to meet the views of the "President of the United States, and that he would not enter a caucus that would prevent his voting his conviction." Senator Reed of Missouri declared that the time had come to give up hope for an agreement in the committee and urged that non-partisan deliberation in the committee continue. He declared his willingness to abide by a caucus, however, if one was found necessary.

The committee today made two ineffectual attempts to get down to work. In the morning, after waiting an hour for Chairman Owen, Senator Pomerene and Senator Reed, the committee adjourned at the request of the administration supporters to allow time for a Democratic conference. When the committee again met after the senate adjourned, Senator Owen had departed for New York and the other administration senators did not attend. The committee then adjourned until tomorrow.

In conference today the Republicans determined to await the decision of the Democrats. If the latter go to work on the bill in conference, the Republicans will prepare a bill to be submitted directly to the senate. It will be based on the administration bill but will include the various amendments already adopted by the committee which the president has declined to accept.

Senator Kern, Democratic leader, explained during the debate on the floor that the proposed conference would not be a binding caucus and that it was expected that the Democrats would meet simply to "talk over" the currency question. It was stated also that the president understood that the conference did not propose to make the currency bill a party measure.

Another attempt tomorrow will be made to get the committee together for consideration of the bill but little success is expected to attend the effort.

ADVANCES IN MANUFACTURES.

South Shows Great Increase in Cotton Industry—This State is Third.

Washington, Nov. 10.—With an output valued at more than $625,000,000 the cotton mill industry in 1909 among the industries of the United States ranked third in the number of persons employed and seventh in the value of goods produced.

The figures for that purpose, just compiled by the census bureau, were made public today. A striking feature of the report was the discovery that the increase in manufacturing was much greater in the Southern States than in the North.

"The industry is confined almost entirely to the States east of the Mississippi," says the report. "From territory west of that river only 20 establishments having been reported. Massachusetts is the most important State; North Carolina ranked second; South Carolina third and Rhode Island fourth. Georgia, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Alabama, in the order, named, were the States next in rank. In general the percentages of increase in the leading Southern cotton manufacturing States were greater than those in the Northern States."

In the three States, Alabama, South and North Carolina, the report sets forth, nearly 19 per cent of all employes in the mills were children under 16 years of age. In Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island, however, it was found that the proportion of women employed in the mills was much greater than in the South.
