The Sumter Watchman was founded in 1856 and the True Southron in 1866. The Watchman and Southron now has the combined circulation and influence of both of the old papers, and is manifestly the best advertising medium in Sumter.

The candidates for City Councilman will speak at the mass meeting in the Court House Tuesday night. The great interest in the approaching election insures a large attendance and a rousing meeting.

The mass meeting should be made an open forum and citizens who desire information should go prepared to ask questions.

Gov. Blease never had a wilder hallucination than his idea that Blease or Pollock will withdraw from the Senatorial race, neither will Smith quit. Is it possible that Blease's hint about somebody withdrawing foreshadows his own determination to bolt the primary and run in the general election? If he does his Marlboro Union Republican colonel may be able to rally the negro vote into the Blease ranks.

John G. Richards, Blease and Simms rave over the disgrace it is for an illiterate man to make his mark on the enrollment book, but they fail to show that it is a greater disgrace than for the same man to make his mark on his bank check or on a real estate title, mortgage, note or other legal paper. The fact of the matter each and every objection to the personal enrollment requirement, is the rottenest sort of demogoguery and is as silly as it is false.

Who Will Leash for Me "My Yearling Sport?"

(In humorous vein.)
The most conspicuous thing abroad these days is "the Yearling Sport."
Of course you suppose this is not because of his size but there is where you are mistaken, which I will show you, if you are just as patient with me as with "My Yearling Sport."

In the first place he is confident that he is it, and takes occasion on all occasions, be it as he prances down the road with the other calves amid a great cloud of dust he has raised (can't you see him now tossing his head in the air or pawing the earth while he almost stands on his head in trying to raise thunder.) Now moving sidewise, now backward, co-vorting, hindering progress, menacing, scaring small people, their terror, threatening all, or in the meadow with the greater cattle, where he attempts feats great bulls of Bashan never dreamed of, goring the mighty monarchs of the forest or trying to lay bare the windfalls of the ages, while often, with almost utter disrespect for anything, he makes fearful havoc of all the proprietries.

And all this comes because he never had a rope on in his life, or, if so was never made to feel it.

He has mistaken rudeness, his chief, if not his only stock in trade, for smartness, and so seeks to impose it on all he meets. He occasions a lot of uneasiness, inconvenience and trouble without seeming conscious of it, taxing forbearance and patience to the limit. One would scarcely dream he was possessed of a conscience.

Oh, who will leash for me "My Yearling Sport," and with a few rude knocks awaken in him a sense of his folly, danger and shame? With care if you essay the task, you may escape without a hurt, not that he is so good and tame, of habit. Were it possible he would be a horrible wild bull, but with tact you may prevent that and save a very man and will not that be reward sufficient for all your exertion, toil and care. "Hagood."

Embroidery Club Meeting.
Friday afternoon Mrs. Jno. D. Lemmon was hostess to the Emery Embroidery club on Liberty street from 5 to 7. After embroidering for awhile, delicious cake and ice cream were served.

Among those to enjoy the evening were: Mesdames R. L. Gantt, E. C. Lord, Jno. Lemmon, W. A. Kinard, Donald Auld, Jack Clark, Eugene Stansill, D. F. Morgan, John Brown, Leland Crouch, Bossard Britton, Ben Cantey and Misses Ruth Britton, Lila Brown, Olive Brown and Dorris Crouch.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Clark.

Pre-nuptial Entertainment.
One of the very pleasant pre-nuptial entertainments given in honor of Miss Marie DeLorme and the members of the bridal party was the dance given at the Sumter Club on Tuesday evening by Miss Natalie Norman, following the rehearsal. Dancing was enjoyed for several hours and delightful refreshments were served.

Taking Big Chances.
It is too great a risk to depend upon neighbors or sending for medicine in case of a sudden attack of bowel complaint. In almost every neighborhood someone has died from cholera morbus that could have easily been saved had the proper medicine been at hand. Then think of the suffering that must be endured until medicine can be obtained. The safe way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has never been known to fail and has undoubtedly saved the lives of many people. Buy it now. It only costs a quarter. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

D'ORME-TAVEL MARRIAGE.

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING OF POPULAR YOUNG SUMTER LADY.

Wedding is Followed by Magnificent Reception Which is Largely Attended by Friends—After a Trip to Tallulah Falls They Will Make Their Home in Atlanta.

A wedding of more than State-wide interest, because of the large circle of acquaintances and the popularity of the contracting parties, was that of Miss Annie Marie DeLorme, daughter of Mrs. Mary Boucher DeLorme and Mr. William Knox Tavel of Atlanta, Ga., which occurred at the home of the bride's mother, No. 9 East Bartlette street, at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, the Rev. D. M. McLeod, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church to which the bride belongs, performing the ceremony. The decorations were of the most elaborate order, and furnished a magnificent setting for the beautiful ceremony which was performed.

The whole lower floor of the house was decorated in green, southern smilax and ferns and other potted plants being used bountifully, and pink, beautiful roses furnishing the color scheme of decoration. The potted plants were placed on bank at one side of the room and the handsome candelabra, in which burning candles were interspersed between and among the plants, furnished a beautifully soft and mellow illumination in the marriage room.

The refreshment room was also elaborately decorated with ferns, and candles afforded light. The tables were banked with ferns and roses, which carried out the color scheme in minute detail.

The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock. The house had been merry with the chatter of the friends present, when the strains of the wedding march were struck up by the orchestra and the bridal party descended the stairway to the marriage room, the bridesmaids coming down one stairway and the groomsmen coming down another and meeting at the door of the marriage room. The beautiful bride came in with her uncle, Dr. Archie China, who gave her away in marriage to the groom, who was attended by his best man.

In front of the improvised altar the two made their vows and pledged their troths, (the simple but impressive ceremony of the Methodist-Episcopal church being used by the Rev. Mr. McLeod.

The attendants were: Maid-of-honor, Miss Lucile DeLorme, the sister of the bride, and William M. Roseborough of Atlanta was best man, the bridesmaids and groomsmen entered in the following order: B. K. DeLorme and Miss Theodora Bennett; W. W. Kirk and Miss Natalie Norman; A. C. DeLorme and Miss Eleanor Tavel; C. S. Anderson and Miss Boucher DeLorme.

The bridesmaids wore white shadow lace dresses with pink ribbons and carried large bouquets of pink peonies and maiden hair and asparagus ferns. Miss Lucile DeLorme, the maid-of-honor, was beautifully dressed in a gown of white silk lace over pink charmeuse. She carried a lovely bouquet of pink Killarney roses and ferns.

The bride was attired in a hand some gown of white charmeuse with real lace drapery and decorated with pearl ornaments. She wore a veil of real lace made en traine. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, white peonies and white bride's roses and ferns.

At the wedding were the members of the immediate families of the contracting parties and a number of intimate friends and relatives. After the wedding a large reception was given by Mrs. DeLorme to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Tavel.

The Reception.

The guests upon their arrival were met at the door by Mrs. R. S. Hood, and introduced to those in the receiving line, Mrs. M. B. DeLorme, mother of the bride, Mrs. J. J. Watson, of Columbia, Mrs. Archie China, Mrs. H. W. Bennett, aunts of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas China, Mrs. C. H. DeLorme, Mrs. Jennie Carroll, Mrs. Laban Carroll, Mrs. C. S. Kingsmore and Mr. and Mrs. Tavel, for whom the reception was given and who received the congratulations of the large number of friends who attended the reception.

In the dining room Mrs. J. M. Knight, Mrs. C. G. Rowland, Mrs. C. T. Mason and Mrs. R. H. Lockwood presided and entertained the guests, while they were partaking of refreshments of ice cream, cake and champagne.

Punch was served from three bowls two on the porch, which was enclosed and elaborately decorated for the occasion, and one in the middle room. Those who graciously served punch to the guests were Miss Jennie Wabsh, Miss Theo Lopez, Miss Holly Brown, Miss Leonora Willford, Miss Estelle Crowson and Mrs. W. S. Benton. Throughout the reception delightful music was furnished by the orchestra. Immediately following the reception, Mrs. Tavel donned a handsome traveling costume of dark blue with a becoming black sailor hat, and the happy young couple made their departure on an evening train for Tallulah Falls, Ga., where they will stay for several days, when they will leave for Atlanta, which place will be their future home.

Mrs. Tavel is one of Sumter's most popular and accomplished daughters and she will be much missed in the future by her many friends here. Mr. Tavel occupies a very responsible position with the I. B. McCrary Company of Atlanta. He was formerly, for a number of years after his graduation from Clemson College, a resident of Sumter and has many friends here. Both have the best wishes of their large circle of acquaintances. Attending their popularity was the large collection of handsome and costly presents which were received by the young couple.

The out-of-town guests were: Miss Eleanor Tavel of Charleston; Mr. W. M. Roseborough, of Atlanta; Mr. W. W. Kirk, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. R. H. Lockwood and daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Lockwood of Charleston; Miss Jane Johnston, of Charlotte, N. C.; Miss Ellen Meehan, of Asheville; Mrs. Jennie Carroll, of Rock Hill; Mrs. Laban Carroll, Mr. J. D. Carroll, Mrs. J. J. Watson, Mrs. R. E. Campbell, of Columbia.

His Indigestion Cured at Last.
After spending hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment for indigestion and constipation, with only temporary relief, C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark., was permanently cured by Chamberlain's Tablets. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Rocky Bluff Notes.

Rocky Bluff, July 13.—The Fourth passed off very quietly here. There was a Sunday school picnic at the Baker school, which was attended by nearly the whole community, several from Sumter, Oswego and other places being in attendance. The children's exercises were good, there were also speeches made by several, among the speakers being Rev. Attaway and Dr. S. C. Baker and Messrs. R. D. Epps, R. B. Belser and others of Sumter.

Misses Edna and Lena Ross of Rembert spent a few days with Miss Kate McLeod recently.

Mr. J. J. Hatfield and family, Mr. M. E. Capell and family and Mr. W. F. Baker and family attended the Sunday school picnic at New Hope, all reporting a good time.

Mrs. Griffin and children of Sumter spent last week with relatives here.

Miss Gladdis Wells spent last week at Privater.

Mr. Willie McLeod and family spent yesterday at Mr. L. L. White's.

Miss Annie Lou Newman spent Saturday with Mrs. W. F. Baker.

Mr. J. J. Hatfield and family spent Sunday at Mr. J. S. Kennedy's in Sumter.

Mr. W. F. Baker and family spent yesterday at Mr. M. E. Capell's.

Mr. C. L. Baker spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives near Camden.

Miss Leo McLeod is spending this week with relatives in the Jordan neighborhood.

Miss Eva Hatfield is spending some time with relatives in Sumter.

Miss Annie White is visiting at Concord.

There was also a family picnic at Mr. Sumter Watts' on the Fourth, which proved a most enjoyable affair.
