

ARRESTED AFTER 20 YEARS.

T. A. LEWIS HELD FOR KILLING IN 1895.

Located by Brother of Perry, Slain Man, Prisoner Admits Identity. Taken to Spartanburg.

Greenville, Oct. 12.—Nearly 20 years ago T. A. Lewis, who has been living about three miles from Greenville, killed Albert S. J. Perry near Campobello, and from the time of the killing, which was on Christmas day, until tonight Lewis has been a fugitive. A brother of the dead man finally located the slayer, having hunted for him all these years, and tonight Sheriff Rector of Greenville and Sheriff White of Spartanburg placed Lewis under arrest. He made no resistance and at the jail said he was the man wanted. He explained that he and Perry both then in their teens had a quarrel over a girl; that Perry beat him and finally he threw a rock which struck Perry in the head, inflicting fatal wounds.

Lewis said he would have given up and stood trial long ago but was urged by his parents to avoid this. Their importunings resulted in his keeping out of the toils of the law until tonight. Lewis has a wife and five children who lived with him at his home near this city.

It was Christmas, 1895, that the tragedy occurred. The young man killed was 19 years of age and so was the slayer. Lewis left the country when, nine days after the fight, Perry died. Two of Perry's brothers, William L. Perry and E. R. Perry, searched for him. The latter gave up after a time, but the former has continued to be on the lookout. Finally he received information that Lewis resided near Greenville. He got the sheriff of Spartanburg, as the killing occurred in that county, and then, with the sheriff of Greenville, the two brothers went to Lewis' home.

W. L. Perry had with him the original warrant. Sheriff White had secured several old warrants and also the bench warrant issued when a true bill charging murder was brought in against Lewis. The prisoner was quite calm and told his story, which in many ways corresponds with the story told by the Perry brothers to the officers. He said he had been drinking slightly and that both he and Perry, when they started to renew the fight, reached for rocks.

The Perry brothers agree that the dead brother beat Lewis, but claim that he was befriending Lewis and

RUSSIAN CRUISER SUNK.

GERMAN SUBMARINES SCORE ANOTHER SUCCESS.

Pallada, Torpedoed in Baltic Sea, Goes Down With Her Complement of 568 Men.

Petrograd, Oct. 12.—An official statement issued today announces that on October 11 the Russian armored cruiser Pallada was torpedoed in the Baltic sea by a German submarine and sank with all her crew. The text of the communication, which was made public by the marine department, follows:

"October 10 German submarines were sighted in the Baltic sea. The same day, early in the morning, the submarines attacked the cruiser Admiral Makarov, which had stopped to search a suspected bark flying the commercial flag of the Netherlands.

"A submarine of the enemy launched several torpedoes which luckily missed the mark and caused no damage whatever to the cruiser.

"On October 11 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the submarines of the enemy again attacked our cruisers, Bayan and Pallada, which were patrolling the Baltic.

"Although the cruisers opened in time a very strong fire, one of the submarines succeeded in launching torpedoes against the Pallada, whereupon an explosion resulted and the cruiser sank with all her crew."

The armored cruiser Pallada carried a complement of 658 men. She measured 443 feet and had a displacement of 7,775 tons. Her speed was 22 knots. With the Admiral Makarov and the Bayans, she constituted a group of cruisers known as the "Bayan class."

The Pallada carried two eight-inch guns, eight six-inch guns, 20 two-pounders and four three-pounders, in addition to torpedo tubes. She was laid down in 1905.

THE BOER REVOLT.

ENGLAND ATTRIBUTES TROUBLE TO BERLIN INTRIGUES.

Germans With Rebels, Seceders Also Reported from Cape Town to Have German Guns and Money—Majority of Afrianders Alleged to Be Loyal.

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, via London, Oct. 13.—It has been officially announced here that a command under Colonel Maritz has rebelled in the Northwest Cape provinces. Martial law has been proclaimed throughout the Union.

The rebellion has been brewing since the resignation of General Beyers as commander-in-chief of the Union forces.

As soon as the government realized this situation it sent Colonel Brits to relieve Maritz of his command. Col Brits then discovered that Maritz was commanding German troops as well as his own, and that he had German guns in his possession. Maritz, who had been given the German rank of general, had arrested those of his officers and men who were unwilling to join the Germans and had sent them as prisoners of war to German Southwest Africa.

According to an official statement an agreement was drawn up between Maritz and the governor of German Southwest Africa guaranteeing the independence of the Union as a republic, ceding Warfish Bay and other parts of the Union to the Germans, and undertaking that the Germans should invade the Union only if Maritz asked them to do so.

Maritz boasted that he possessed large supplies of guns, rifles, ammunition and money obtained from the Germans, and that he would overrun the whole of South Africa.

"In view of this state of affairs," concludes the official statement, "the government is taking most drastic steps to quell this rebellion and punish all rebels and traitors according to their deserts."
