

THE HORSE SHOW

The Second Day's Attendance Was Greater Than First.

The Exhibition of Fine Driving and Saddle Horses, Mules and Mule Colts, Was Well Worth Seeing—The Saddle and Combination Classes Were Exceptionally Good.

The second day of the horse show found a large and interested crowd in attendance, among whom were numbers of visitors. The program of events was again up to the high standard of the first day, and all of the classes and riding events were well filled.

The events were formally opened with a parade of the fire department teams, which in itself was of great local interest. The program for the afternoon was carried out without a hitch. The judges were: Mr. Geo. T. Little, of Camden, of breeding classes and the riding contests, and Mr. Robt. S. McCray, of Paris, Ky., of the other arena events.

The complete program, with all entries and winners, is as follows:

THE HORSE SHOW ENDS.

CROWD THE LAST DAY WAS LARGEST OF THE SHOW.

The Program Was the Most Interesting and the Contests Most Exciting Especially in the Roadster and Championship Class, of the Week.

From The Daily Item, Oct. 16.

The second annual show of the Sumter Horse Show Association was brought to a successful close yesterday afternoon with the largest crowd of the week in attendance. The chief interest centered in the fine harness, roadster and championship classes and the contests for the blue ribbons in these events were close and exciting. Horsemen whose opinion carries weight agree in saying that the entries in these classes have seldom, if ever, been equalled in quality in a South Carolina horse show. The star of the entire show was Orlana, the fine harness mare that won the cup in the harness horse class. This mare is owned by John T. Collins & Son, of North Middletown, Ky., and has won ribbons in the big horse shows of Kentucky and adjacent States. But Orlana was not the only horse in the show this week that is "bred in the purple." Taken as a whole the show brought together as fine a lot of horses as could be found in the South.

Another feature of the show that attracted much attention and that is worthy of special mention was the herd of Aberdeen-Angus cattle, headed by a magnificent bull, exhibited by Mr. L. D. Jennings. There was no prize offered for the herd, but to help out the show and to give those interested in beef cattle an opportunity to see the type of cattle most highly recommended by beef cattle breeders, Mr. Jennings had his herd on the grounds throughout the show.
