From The ally Item, Feb. 10.

Mrs. J. J. Team died this morning at her residence, No. 22 W. Calhoun street, at 2:30 o'clock, after a long illness. She is survived by her husband, J. J. Team, two sons, A. A. and Robert Team; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Sanders and Misses Nan and Mae Team. The funeral services and interment will take place at the cemetery tomorrow (Friday) morning. The body will leave the house at 10:30 o'clock.

Death of Andrew W. Eargle.

Newberry Observer.

Mr. Andrew W. Eargle died suddenly in Sumter Saturday night, and his body was brought to Newberry on the 1:05 Coast Line train Monday for burial in Newmont cemetery, Rev. H. H. Jones conducting the service, the officiating acting as pallbearers: G. W. Kinard, John Kinard, Cliff Inabinet, Jeff Mcgrove, J. J. Eargle and S. T. Matthews.

Mr. Eargle was 40 years old and leaves a wife and five children. He was the son of J. P. Eargle of Delmar, who survives him, and who was present at the burial.

The deceased came to Newberry from Saluda county several years ago and ran a store on west Main street. He also held at one time the position of engineer at the Newberry cotton mill, succeeding Mr. J. M. Foster. His wife was a daughter of Mr. Foster. Mr. Eargle is survived also by three sons and three brothers. Among his relatives is his cousin, J. J. Eargle, of this city.

At the time of his death Mr. Eargle was engineer of the Sumter Ice and Lighting Power Company. His dead body was found at his post of duty Saturday night by his fireman, and it is the opinion of his relatives and friends that his death was caused by electrocution, supposedly by his coming in contact with a live wire, although the verdict of the coroner's jury is that he came to his death by causes unknown to the jury. The body was examined by seven physicians in Sumter, all of whom pronounced it physically sound, except one spot on a finger which showed, in the judgment of his friends, where it had been burned by the wire.

Notes of Winacky.

Winacky, Feb. 7.—The farmers made good use of the fine weather in January and have most of their lands prepared. The oat crop is looking well, although small for the season.

We were glad to see an account of the great meeting at Lake City conducted by Rev. B. F. McLendon. He has many warm friends here, whose interest and prayers follow him wherever he goes.

Mr. M. L. Williams and J. C. Ledingham left tonight for Conway to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Agnes Gattin of that place.

The flour mill now being assured, the thing Sumter county needs is a regular market for surplus grain, hay, hogs and cattle produced in the county. Lack of a certain market is the chief obstacle in the way of crop diversification. If a farmer cannot convert his crops into cash, there is no inducement to cut loose from the cotton program.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETING.

Interesting Session Held With District Secretary Present.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of Trinity Methodist church met in the Sunday school room Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

After a short business session the meeting was turned over to the District Secretary, Miss Jessie Curtis, who outlined plans of work and gave helpful suggestions on how to make the meetings more interesting.

She suggested a membership campaign to increase the membership, but it was finally decided that each woman present would try to bring to the March meeting, one woman who was not present at the last meeting.

She organized a mission study class, with Dr. Mary Peery as leader. "The King's Highway" is the name of the book to be studied.

Several musical numbers were rendered, after which an informal reception was held, and light refreshments served.

About fifty ladies were present.

FLOUR MILL ASSURED.

Company Organized to Erect and Operate Modern Roller Mill.

Secretary Reardon released for publication today the following very gratifying information.

"Through the efforts of Mr. Henry J. Harby, of Harby & Company, incorporated, of Sumter, S. C., the necessary capital stock to establish an up-to-date roller mill for grinding wheat has been secured, and the city of Sumter will furnish a suitable site for this enterprise on the land on the old C. S. and N. railway headquarters now in possession of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company and this city.

It is understood that Mr. Perry Moses, Sr., will be the general manager of this enterprise.

I have been instructed to call a meeting of the stockholders of this enterprise at Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow, Thursday afternoon, February 10th, at 8 o'clock to elect officers and to transact such other business as may be necessary.

Mr. H. J. Harby, realizing that it is absolutely necessary for the business men of Sumter to do something to furnish the necessary and convenient grinding facilities for wheat in a central location like Sumter, decided to cooperate with the Sumter Chamber of Commerce in this matter. He went around himself and handed some straight talk to a number of Sumter business men. Result—a flour mill for Sumter.

The details of the plan of organization have not been worked out fully as yet, and will not be until the stockholders meet and elect a directorate, but the necessary money has been guaranteed and the City Council guarantees the site, so that the flour mill is an assured enterprise which will be in operation in ample time to grind the 1916 harvest of wheat.

Mr. Harby has demonstrated on numerous occasions his value to Sumter as a public spirited, and progressive citizen and successful business man, but this latest achievement of his in interesting himself to the extent of canvassing this city for subscriptions to the flour mill, and getting the necessary money but adds to his past activities and usefulness.

Those of the Sumter business men who have invested their money in this flour mill deserve credit for their enterprise and public spirit.

Those who know Mr. Perry Moses, Sr., and of his success as a business man and a manager of business enterprises, feel satisfied that if he can be induced to assume the management thereof, the Sumter flour mill will prove a success financially, and otherwise."

The Sumter Chamber of Commerce is gratified that this flour mill in Sumter is now assured."

The cases against S. J. Wilmer and Success Burrows ended on Tuesday afternoon when the jury returned a verdict of guilty against each of the two men. The case of Willie Johnson, colored, charged with the murder of Eloise Johnson, his wife, was taken up in sessions court this morning and resulted in the direction of a verdict of not guilty by the court upon the completion of its case by the State, the solicitor offering no objection to the motion of the defendants to direct the verdict for acquittal. Johnson was alleged to have knocked his wife down and beat her, causing internal injuries from which she died, but there was not sufficient evidence to prove this contention.

The case of Loring Huggins, charged with the abduction of Kathleen Skinner, a young girl about 14 years of age, occupied all of Wednesday afternoon, and went to the jury this morning shortly after court convened. The jury was still out when court recessed for dinner. SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING.

BUILDING CODE ADOPTED AT SESSION LAST NIGHT.

Fire Limits are Extended and Present Fire District is Made Closed District in Which Only Non-combustible Materials may be Used in Building—Code Complies with Recent Act and Sumter May Derive Share of Insurance Fund.

At a special meeting of council last night which lasted until a considerable while after midnight a building code similar to that recommended by State Insurance Commissioner McMaster was adopted, and under the provisions of the act Sumter may come in for a share of insurance money for the aid of the fire department. The fire limits were also extended and the present fire limits were made a closed district in which only non-combustible materials may be used in building.

The code suggested by Commissioner McMaster is one similar to that which has been in use in North Carolina for the past ten years and been found to be effective. The vital points of the new code adopted by council are the necessity for permits for building, quarterly inspections in the fire limits and at least one inspection each year of the whole town. There are also requirements for buildings, such as thickness of walls, foundations, joists, flues and chimneys, exits from moving picture shows and other public buildings, storage of ashes, oily rags and explosives.

At the council meeting last night Messrs. E. H. Lynam, city electrician, J. W. McKiever, A. J. Ard, J. M. Harby, Engineer W. L. Lee and Lieut. P. P. Finn of the fire department were present in an advisory capacity. The code suggested by Commissioner McMaster was gone over thoroughly and with a number of additions and changes was adopted. By its adoption Sumter is in line to receive a part of the proceeds from the insurance fund for towns which comply with the law in this respect.

The present fire limits were extended to cover in a general way the city, north to Calhoun street; east to the Darlington branch of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, south to the Atlantic Coast Line railroad and west to Council and Church streets. The present fire limits are made a closed district. They are bounded, north by Canal street, east by Harvin street, south by Bartlette street and west by Sumter street. In the closed district only non-combustible materials may be used in the erection of buildings and roofs; while frame buildings may be erected in the fire limits outside of the closed district, but must have non-combustible roofs.
