Hughson-Sanders. An interesting event of the season was the quiet but beautiful marriage of Miss Iva Belle Hughson and Mr. Alexander Arnold Sanders.

Proceeding the ceremony a delightful musical program was rendered by Miss Thelma Turner, who in her usual charming manner, sang "Until" and "All For You."

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mr. John T. Green, Jr., with violin accompaniment, entered the only attendant, little Mary Alice Seale, niece of the bride.

The bride, attractively dressed in navy blue tricotine coat suit, with accessories to match, and carrying a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses, entered with the groom and stood in front of a large bay-window decorated with swinging baskets of fern and banked with palms.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Jno. A. Brunson, pastor of the bride.

After the ceremony delightful refreshments were served to the guests, who consisted of only relatives of the bride and groom.

The bride, having always lived in Sumter will be missed by her many friends who regret that her marriage takes her from her home town.

The out of town guests were: Mrs. A. H. Sanders and Mrs. Geo. F. Capers, of White Hall, S. C.; Mrs. J. L. McCallum, Misses Marion Utes Julia Quattlebaum and Wilhemna Quattlebaum, of Columbia, S. C.

Wilson-Rembert. Mayesville, April 11—A marriage of much interest to the community was that of Miss Juanita Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Lucretia Wilson, to Charles Rembert, on the evening of March 25, at the home of W. H. Wilson, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Rembert was a student at Chicora college a few years ago, and is a beautiful young woman who is loved by a large circle of friends.

Sumter is steadily increasing by the amount of building going on all over the city.

CONVENTION OF NURSES

Mrs. Edith Stroupe Will Represent Sumter County In Atlanta

Mrs. Edith Stroupe, public health nurse of Sumter county, left last night for Atlanta to attend the convention of the National Organization of Public Health Nursing in that city April 9th to 17th.

This will be a very important, and in fact, largely an international convention of public health nurses, as there will be nurses from Canada, Holland, Denmark, England, France, Italy and other countries present.

There will be many public health nurses present from other South Carolina counties and Southern States as well. Sumter county will be benefited much in having our public health nurse associated with the National Organization of Public Health Nurses, as it puts this county and its nurse into close touch with many opportunities for advanced ideas of public hygiene and nursing, and provides co-operative methods of considerable advantage.

Mill Site Wanted.

A hardwood lumber company that is looking for a suitable location is seeking information from the Sumter Chamber of Commerce as to whereabouts in Sumter or just outside of Sumter, if necessary, a tract of fifteen to twenty acres of land that can be leased. Or possibly with proper inducements, such as reasonable prices, the Chamber of Commerce might interest this prospective new enterprise in buying.

Any citizens interested with probable suitable sites, either for lease or direct sale, will communicate with the Sumter Chamber of Commerce immediately. This company wants to come to Sumter, so they write, but we must furnish suitable site at reasonable rent or purchase price, or the enterprise will go somewhere else.

DEATH

The friends of Mr. W. N. Litch, of Eastman, Ga., will regret to learn of his death Thursday. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. H. P. Scott, of this city.

Reception for Mrs. Newhall.

On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. H. M. Stuckey honored her guest, Mrs. Guy Newhall, of Lynn, Mass., with a beautiful reception at her home on W. Hampton avenue.

The living room and music room were lovely with yellow daffodils and purple and yellow pansies, while the dining room was unusually attractive with its decorations of purple iris and graceful wisteria.

At the punch bowl were Mesdames Ed. Wright and Fred Nisels, while Misses Ellen and Ethel Stuckey served black ice cream and fancy cakes, nuts and mints.

The case of Saunders vs. Blair, which has been on trial in the Court of Common Pleas for two weeks, was concluded this morning with a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs. The verdict sets aside the will of the late Miss Hannah J. McCull on the ground of mental and bodily weakness and duress. A large estate is involved and the trial was the most lengthy and one of the hardest fought that has been before the local court in many years.

Sumter is steadily increasing by the amount of building going on all over the city.

CONVENTION OF OPTOMETRISTS

Annual Meeting to Be Held In Sumter Monday and Tuesday April 12th and 13th

About 125 of the leading optometrists and opticians of South Carolina and some from other States will assemble in convention in Sumter on April 12th and 13th. The rooms of the Sumter County Chamber of Commerce have been turned over to these professional men and women, with the exception of the secretary's private office, and yesterday the elevator was busy in the City National Bank building carrying up a great many large, middle-sized and smaller crates, boxes and bundles of different kinds of optical machines and other paraphernalia connected with the big demonstrations of the convention.

The local host and hostess, Mr. D. L. Williams, Mr. G. C. Cooper, Mr. W. D. Jackson and Miss Hannah Kristianson have arranged a social entertainment program of special interest and pleasure, consisting of buffet lunch at 1 p. m., at the Chamber of Commerce, and a banquet at 9:45 on Monday evening, while the second day's work of the convention will be relieved by a barbecue at Pocollo Springs at noon time.

Officers of the South Carolina Optical Association are: Mr. T. A. W. Elmigren, president. Mr. R. M. Campbell, first vice-president.

Miss Gertrude Mabus, second vice-president. Mr. R. A. Brown, secretary and treasurer.

The John L. Moore Company, Inc., headquarters in Atlanta, wholesale manufacturing opticians, have on display all of the modern optical equipment for the retracting rooms, and modern machinery for the making of glasses, including one automatic beveling machine, the first that has ever been shown. This beveling machine is the only one in the South as it is a snap machine being used for demonstration. The optometrists and opticians of the State of South Carolina should avail themselves of this opportunity to attend this convention as it will be one of the best that has ever been held, particularly from an educational standpoint, as some of the most prominent men in the profession will make talks besides the demonstration that will be given both in the scientific part of the work, and the manufacturing.

The program for the convention is as follows:

- Monday. 10:10 Address of Welcome—Mayor D. Jennings. 10:30 Response. 1:45 Roll Call of Officers and Members. 11:00 President's Address—T. A. W. Elmigren. 11:45 Secretary and Treasurer's Report—B. A. Brown; State Board Report—John T. Wise; Application for Membership; Appointment of Committees. 12:00 Lecture, Routine of Examination from the Standpoint of Ophthalmology and the Relationship of the Ophthalmologist to the Optometrist, Dr. W. Green, M. D., Sumter, S. C. 1:00 Leading the Question Box; Buffet Lunch; Visiting the Exhibits. 2:15 Address, "Modern, Ideal Eye-Routine,"—Dr. W. B. Needles, President, Needles Institute. 4:30 Rest Period. 6:00 Opening of the Question Box. 9:45 Banquet and Musical Program at Claremont Hotel. Optional Full Dress Occasion, otherwise Informal. T. A. W. Elmigren, Toastmaster.

Tuesday. Convention called to order 9:30 a. m.

- 9:30 Rise and Fall of the Crystalline Lens—W. D. Jackson. 10:00 Practical Demonstration—Dr. W. B. Needles. 12:00 Barbecue at Pocollo Springs. 2:00 Business Session. 4:01 Adjournment Sine Die.

OPTOMETRISTS IN SESSION

Annual Convention of State Association Convened This Morning for Two Day Session

The annual convention of the South Carolina Association of Optometrists met at 10 o'clock Wednesday in the hall of the Chamber of Commerce with attendance of about fifty members, representative of all sections of the State. The meeting was called to order promptly on time, the invocation was pronounced by Dr. J. A. Rice, and Mayor Jennings delivered the welcome address, in which he expressed the pleasure the people of Sumter felt in entertaining the association and extending to the visitors the freedom of the city.

The special term of the Court of Common Pleas, Judge M. L. Smith presiding, convened Monday morning. No jury cases will be heard this week.

The Interchurch World Movement and the Doctrine of Balaam. Is there any relation between them?

In recent months the Interchurch World Movement has been coming rapidly to the forefront, and now it occupies a conspicuous place in the ecclesiastical and social world. Already it embraces thirty denominations. Its platform is broad; its program comprehensive, and its activities varied. Wise men endorse it. Men equidly wise condemn it. What is your opinion concerning it?

The pastor of Grace Baptist Church will have something to say of the movement in his sermon Sunday night. His theme will be, "The Interchurch World Movement and the Doctrine of Balaam." All are cordially invited to come and hear him.

Famous Gilbert and Sullivan Light Opera, "Pinafore," to Be Given at Chautauqua

In response to many requests, the Redpath Chautauqua is this year presenting a complete production of the famous Gilbert and Sullivan light opera, "Pinafore." A notable cast, special scenery and costumes and tuneful music, combine to make the Redpath "Pinafore" a grand success.

Three seasons ago the Redpath management presented a complete production of "The Mikado" which was so enthusiastically received that Chautauqua patrons have ever since been asking for another Gilbert and Sullivan opera.

Home Demonstration Department Prepares Recipes.

Who is not interested in the practice as well as the idea of "Save Money on Meat?" If cheap cuts of meat really can be made deliciously palatable, and they can, why not take advantage of the fact even though it may take a bit longer to prepare these dishes? With few exceptions the added length of time required in the preparation, when expressed in money value, is very small in comparison with the difference in the cost of the more expensive cuts of meat.

Meat is the chief source of the protein supply of food. Meats from different animals have somewhat the same general composition, differing to some extent in physical properties and also in the nature of various nutrients.

As to the digestibility it is generally conceded that it is most easily digested when stewed and least easily digested when fried.

Of all the meats, beef is the most common and most widely used, and the most easily digested. As in all meats, the most expensive cuts come from that part of the animal where the muscles are least used, the meat there being fine grained and more tender. Tough meat with long coarse fibers is often very juicy on account of the greater motion of that part of the creature, which causes the juices to flow more freely.

Among the cheaper cuts of beef are: hindquarter flank, can be stuffed, rolled and braised or corned and boiled; aitchbone, can be braised, roasted, stewed; top and lower parts of round can be braised, roasted and stewed; forequarter, chuck, can be roasted and stewed; neck can be used for hamburger steak; ratterround can be used for hamburger steaks or corned or in casserole; brisket, corned; fore-shin can be used in soup stocks.

The following are some tested and reliable recipes.

Beef Stew: Three pounds of round of beef, water to cover, 6 potatoes, 3 carrots, 1 onion, 2 turnips, salt and pepper. Wipe meat with wet cloth, cut in small pieces, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Cut some of fat in small pieces (if meat has no fat use one or two slices of fat), salt pork, and fry out in frying pan. Add meat and stir constantly, until the entire surface may be quickly seared. When well browned, put in kettle, rinsing frying pan with boiling water and let boil five minutes. Then let cook at a lower temperature until meat is tender (about three hours). One hour before meat is done, add vegetables which have been dried. Remove vegetables and meat and thicken the liquid. Boil five minutes; then return meat and vegetables.

Shepherd's Pie: Two cups chopped cooked meat, 1 cup hot water or gravy, 4 cups hot mashed potatoes, 1 tablespoonful salt, 1 cup hot milk, 1 tablespoonful of butter, celery, salt, pepper. Mix salt, pepper, butter and hot milk thoroughly into the potato. Put layer of potato in bottom of baking dish; mix gravy or water with meat, put in on top of potato cover with remaining potato and bake in moderate oven until potato is nicely browned.

Casserole of Rice and Meat: Two cups cooked meat (chuck, lamb), 1 tablespoonful salt, 1-1/2 tablespoonful pepper, 1-2 tablespoonful onion juice, 1 tablespoonful chopped parsley, 1 egg (may be omitted), 1-1/2 cup crumbs (bread or cracker), 4 cup boiled rice. Season meat and mix with crumbs and beaten egg. If necessary add enough boiling or stock to make it moist enough to pack easily. Mould with 3 cups rice, all with the meat; cover with remainder of rice; cover tightly and steam 15 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.

Casserole of Beef, Coodle Style: Two pounds beef from chuck, 1 green pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1-1/2 cup dripplings, 1-2 pound dried Lima beans, 1 cup stewed tomatoes, 1-2 cup onions sliced, 2 tablespoonful salt, boiling water. Cut meat into small pieces; seasoning, sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in flour and brown in drippings. Remove meat in casserole. Add tomatoes, salt, paprika and Lima beans that have been soaked over night and cooked until tender. Pour

HIGH SCHOOL BATEL

Debate at the Between King

By a vote of the judges decided in the debate on the subject of the ownership of the tree upheld the non-representatives, Miss King and Annie Friers, affirmative was represented by Sarah Till and Charles Sumter.

The judges unanimously decided that Sumter's rebuttal was that of Kingtree; but the judges were of the opinion that the decision of victory should Kingtree team on account of the priority of their prepared.

At Superintendent Edmund quest Superintendent Swiffen of the Kingtree schools presided. Jack Chandler and Edward were the ushers for the occasion. It is a matter of regret that the event was so inclement, as those who were present seemed to have enjoyed debate very greatly.

Chamber of Commerce Notes

Every public spirited and hospitable inclined lady and gentleman of Sumter who has the interest of Sumter at heart, and who pride themselves on being interested in the local hospitality and community spirit will show that the justified talk of the Sumter spirit is warranted, should hurriedly notify one of the committees on homes of the Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy that you will gladly entertain one or more of Sumter's invited guests in the persons of our

Sumter will have between five and six hundred visitors, whom we have volunteered to entertain in our homes. This is a duty and should be a pleasure in which every person that is in position to entertain should take part. Sumter is your home, you have local pride and personal interest in seeing to it that Sumter does things up second to none, or you should have that abiding interest in your city where you make your living or where your living is being or has been made for you.

There are hundreds of homes in Sumter where there are extra rooms, and in homes owned by citizens who are financially well fixed and who can well afford to put themselves out some to help Sumter do its very best in entertaining the veterans. This is no time for indifference, and for excuses of various kinds except under exceptional conditions such as sickness. Such excuses as "I have no servants," or "I don't feel able to entertain," etc., are mighty slim excuses for lack of local interest when your city needs your liberality and your local and personal interest in the reputation of your city for hospitality.

This entertainment is not to be necessarily confined to the "rich and well-to-do" classes, either. There are many hundreds of others, who are able to entertain a veteran or two for a couple of days and nights, the wage earning citizens, many of them can entertain one or more veterans.

The Committee on homes for visiting veterans, any one of whom you may notify, or you may notify the Sumter Chamber of Commerce, phone 200, how many you will entertain, are as follows:

- Miss Armida Moses, president. Dr. Anderson Chapter, U. D. C., chairman. Dr. W. L. McCutchen, commander. James D. Flanning Camp Sons of Confederate Veterans, vice-chairman. Ward No. 1.—Mrs. C. L. Stubbs, chairman; Mrs. F. A. Bultman, Mr. Deas Richardson, Mr. F. B. Crech. Ward No. 2.—Mrs. W. C. Boyle, chairman; Mrs. A. S. Merriman, Mr. A. H. Boykin, Mr. J. H. Levy, Mr. Joe Chandler, Mr. E. W. Witherspoon. Ward No. 3.—Mr. J. A. McKnight, chairman; Mrs. H. G. Hirt, Miss U. Erica Pate, Mrs. C. L. Wray, Mr. J. A. Forbes. Ward No. 5.—Mr. P. J. Gallagher, chairman; Mrs. Arthur White, Mrs. Raymond Fowler, Mrs. J. G. R. Wilder.

Confederate Veterans' Reunion

The chairman of the housing committee, which is so faithfully trying to find homes for the five hundred Confederate Veterans to be in Sumter during the Reunion, is Mrs. Walter Boyle, and the vice-Chairman is Dr. W. L. McCutchen.

Anyone who was not at home when the committee called, who has not been seen for any reason, or who has reconsidered a refusal to entertain Veterans, will please leave name and address at the Chamber of Commerce, Ring up 200 and Mr. Raymond will take the information and pass it on to Mrs. Boyle, Dr. McCutchen and their coworkers.

Afternoon Bridge Club

Mrs. Henry Witherspoon was the hostess on Friday to the Afternoon Bridge Club. In apartments bright with spring flowers, tables were arranged for bridge, and after the games were over it was found that Mrs. H. K. Bull was the winner of the prize, an exquisite piece of lingerie, while the consolation, a vase, fell to Mrs. Aore.

Following the games refreshment were served. Those present were: Miss Guthrie, of Richmond; Mrs. Aore, of Greenville; Mrs. Edward Martin, Mrs. A. J. Bynum, Mrs. H. K. Bull, Mrs. C. R. Yeaton, Mrs. O. H. Polley, Mrs. W. R. Phillips, Mrs. A. L. Jackson, Mrs. Leon Scott, Mrs. Jos. Guthrie, Mrs. Warren Moore, Mrs. Bruce Lyman, Mrs. C. J. Dwyer, Mrs. Francis Butman, Mrs. Flanning, Mrs. C. L. Stubbs, Mrs. J. C. Huger and Mrs. John Lee.
