

Red Hot Times

In the City of Union.

We have the Hon. B. R. Tillman, Senior Senator of South Carolina, with us today, who will no doubt interest you, as he has tens of thousands before, whose name and voice has been heard around the globe.

We Bid You Welcome

Thrice welcome, ye thousands of visitors from Union and surrounding counties. May this be a day kindly remembered by you as pleasant and profitable. This is a red hot time, and if you are looking for red hot goods at red hot prices, go straight to Bobo's. Look for the banner across Main Street.

GOSHEN HILL NEWS.

Crops—Zac Rogers, An Old Veteran.

Mr. Editor: I would like to write you a long letter and a good one, but news is scarce down here. I haven't much to write about but the farm; and it has rained so long and so much that we haven't much crop. The past week was a little more favorable for farm work. We were able to plow about three and a half or four days. For three weeks previous to that we were plowed about three days in all. The cotton crop, according to my judgment, is about 60 per cent. of last year's crop. There is a good deal of pretty good corn in our neighborhood. I am just back from a visit to my daughter, Mrs. Paul West, in Atlanta, Ga., and on my way to and from I noticed the crops as carefully as I could, and I find the same conditions prevailing all the way. There are of course, some spots better than others, but the average is very poor.

I met an old comrade in Atlanta, whom I have not seen since the surrender of Lee's Army in 1865. His name is Zac Rogers, who belonged to Jeter's Battery, or Macbeth Light Artillery and we served together three years. You ought to have seen us meet. Such a hand-shaking we did have, and methinks a few tears might have been seen welling up in our eyes and then such another chat we did have until away along into the night. He asked me about all the old boys in Union County, and I had to tell him that the majority of our company had answered the last roll call on earth. I just write about meeting Zac Rogers, knowing this will reach some of the old company, who would like to hear from Zac. He is in the Soldier's Home near Atlanta. Mr. Editor, you can't conceive of the brother feeling that exists between men who fought and suffered side by side during that long and cruel struggle. There is a tie of friendship and affection between them that nothing but death can sever. It won't be many years, even if we live out our allotted time, until the last old vet will have passed over the river.

The best crops I have seen in all my travels are in Bogansville Township from Rice's Bridge to West Springs. I did not examine as to fruitage of the cotton. I speak of the fine weed. I don't mean cotton alone. I mean corn too, and such a quantity of peas and sorghum sold for forage.

Now, that is a small area of good crops compared with the miles and miles and miles of poor crops I have seen. I don't know when our people will get through plowing, for it is raining hard now (Monday morning) and looks like setting in for a wet spell.

I hear very little politics talked down here. The agony will soon be over with the candidates, the lucky ones feeling better, and the defeated ones not feeling quite so good. The best thing to do, is for a man to be content with whatever Providence has in store for him.

Goshen Hill, July 30, 1906.

LOCKHART JUNCTION.

Crops—Picnics—Ice Cream Supper—Personals.

Lockhart Junction, July 30.—It has been a long time since I have written a letter to THE TIMES but at the same time have been thinking of doing so, as it comes to our home every Friday as a welcome visitor. Having a space in the past in the columns of this paper and feeling that I still have a space thought I would say a few words.

It has continued to rain up to this time and it seems that farmers will lay by or have to quit, grass or no grass. This has been a hard year to keep grass down, however crops are looking very well. Corn is real fine on up land, cotton has had too much rain in this section.

The season now has arrived for recreation and rest to all who may want it. And the time for picnics and barbecues and the protracted meeting has begun and a time for the candidates to go around, and a jolly set of fellows they all seem to be; and you know I would like to vote for every one of them, but that is impossible.

Mr. Y. B. Kelley gave the young folks an enjoyable occasion at his home last week; this was an ice cream supper. After the supper they had music on violin, guitar and organ by Messrs. Willard, Kelley and Miss Lula Gault.

Mr. Morris is our new railroad agent at this place as Mr. Snipes has been removed.

I was proud to meet Mr. C. A. Boney at this place the other day, he was representing THE UNION TIMES. We had only a short stay with him as he was waiting the arrival of the train and it soon rolled up and carried him to Union.

Mr. Lee Gault and Mr. Elzie Eaves who are working for the Western Union Telegraph Company as linemen, were at their homes Saturday. Mr. Miller accompanied them.

S. S. CONVENTION AT PUTNAM.

Well Attended on Both Saturday and Sunday—Interesting Addresses.

The Union County Baptist Sunday School Convention met with the Putnam church on last Saturday and Sunday the 28th and 29th. Saturday morning the convention was opened by a short devotional exercise conducted by J. P. Coleman, after which the delegates from the various churches were enrolled.

The speakers appointed to speak on the first two selected subjects being absent and expected to arrive later caused a postponement of those two subjects and the third was taken up and discussed by Bro. J. P. Coleman and Dr. Derieux. The assembly then adjourned for dinner.

In the afternoon the subject of the colporteur was taken up and after quite a lengthy discussion the Convention decided to continue the work up to the meeting of the Association the latter part of August. Then the subject of Baptist resources and opportunities was discussed by Rev. L. M. Rice. After this the subject of education as a factor in the world's evangelization was discussed by S. E. Boney, Thos. Going and L. M. Rice.

Dr. Derieux, assistant secretary of the State Mission Board, was present and made a speech for state missions, and at the close of his speech a collection amounting to something over six dollars was taken.

Sunday morning Rev. B. S. Funderburk, another visitor came in, and the convention decided that in place of carrying out any further discussion of the program Bro. Funderburk be asked to preach a sermon. Bro. Funderburk gave us an able sermon on the subject of "Christ our great exemplar." At the close of this sermon a collection was taken for the colporteur amounting to something over eight dollars. Then the roll of churches was called to secure promises for the support of the colporteur and a sufficient amount was secured.

After dinner the time was given to a meeting of the Ladies Missionary Society, and only a few moments was taken up by the convention for a business meeting. The convention then adjourned to meet at its next appointed time with the Mon-Aetna Church at Union. We wish to extend to the Putnam people our heartfelt thanks for their kind hospitality. All had a good time, and the kindness shown us will linger always in the hall of our memory.
