JONESVILLE

24.—There was several good rains in this community last week and the crops are making good headway. Some fodder is being pulled and cotton will be opening soon. The people are dreading the price of cotton, but we had better not cross the bridge before we get to it.

It was just thinking of the many dangers our human beings are subjected to. Not long since a negro was going around on a crutch; he had been kicked by a mule. Then a young man came along with a broken arm, which was broken by a base ball. Then a negro chaffeur had his arm kicked by an automobile. The baseball foul can hit you from either side and the straight ball can hit square from the front; the automobile always kicks from the front, but the mule will always plug you from the other end. These are not all the dangerous and devilish things to hurt humanity. The hateful, devilish submarines will cost its eyes, if it has any, and will strike below the belt or the water line, while the Zeppelin will go flying overhead and pour out its infernal missiles upon innocent people in the night time. The Zeppelin makes me think of the wrath spoken of in the 16th chapter and 21st verse of Revelations, when the seventh angel poured out his wrath upon the earth. It seems there is not a safe place on land or sea. The safest place I have seen lately was a storm pit near West Springs on the side of the road.

On August 15th, Dr. W. O. Southard celebrated his 64th birthday. All of his children and grand children were with him, except one son-in-law, Ensign S. H. Geer, U. S. Navy, now stationed at Manila. It was a happy occasion for the Dr. and Mrs. Southard, and a shower of remembrances from both northern and southern relatives and friends were received.

B. A. Morgan and S. J. Nicholls, candidates for Congress, spoke here Saturday and they had respectable audiences and good attention.

Mr. J. K. Breedin spoke in the Baptist church Sunday on prohibition, and our people were much interested. They will certainly vote a good majority in favor of it on the 14th of September.

Mr. J. M. Gault and family after spending several days in camp over at West Springs, returned home last week, feeling much improved.

Mr. James Whitlock and family are camping at West Springs this week. Misses Carol and Lois Brown of Greenwood, after spending awhile in the mountain country of North Carolina, are visiting their uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Southard. Mrs. Geer gave a theatre party for them on Tuesday evening.

Misses McWhirttr and Inez Spears have returned from the exposition. Knight Foster and Jim Gregory, two colored men, have bought an automobile which adds two more to the many already in town. Smike, our friend and correspondent for The Times, was in town Saturday.

Mr. Stewart spoke from the hotel porch here yesterday in the interest of prohibition.

KELTON

Kelton, Aug. 23.—We are having fine sunshine weather after several days of cloudy, rainy weather.

I attended preaching yesterday at old Bethlehem church, when Mr. J. B. Wilson preached to a large congregation, estimated at four or five hundred people. He held the congregation spell-bound for over an hour with one of his masterly sermons. He holds up well for one of his age. He preached on the Jonesville circuit in '74, and has many warm friends in this county to welcome him in their homes. The meeting will continue through the week, at 11 o'clock, and at 8 p. m., daily.

Mrs. D. Lester Gault gave birth to twins last Friday. The babies are doing well, but Mrs. Gault is critically ill. Her sister, Mrs. Hoyle Gault, gave birth to twins some two years ago. It does look like the Ridge is preparing for war in time of peace, or as the old North Carolinian said, he believed in home immigration.

Mrs. J. R. Copeland will leave today to visit her parents.

Mrs. Dr. Carwyle and daughters, Miss Mary, are visiting their many friends in Kelton and Jonesville. Dr. Carwyle lived at Kelton twenty years ago.

Mr. Arthur Gault, Kelton's R. F. D. carrier, accompanied by Mrs. Gault, took a trip to the mountains and to Rev. Sam Creech's.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Little returned last week after spending several days in Mississippi with Mrs. Little's father, Mr. Fondon. He reports poor crops in Miss.

Mrs. Susie Coleman, and children, of Jonesville, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Harriet Gallman.

Mr. Giles Sanders' little son who has typhoid fever is very sick. He has a trained nurse with him.

Rev. John C. Farr, of Lexington county spent several days recently with his relatives and friends in this county.

Rev. J. P. Copeland is slightly ill but able to be up and do his preaching.

A man has to go some these days in order to get what's comin to him—or in order to escape it.

OAKLAND

Oakland, Aug. 25.—After having enjoyed several idle weeks out of the field and many pleasant visits to friends and relatives, the farmers are again being called to the full realization that farm work is awaiting their attention. Much fodder has been pulled and the weather is ideal for this kind of work. Cotton is beginning to show some of its white fleece beneath the green leaves and by the first of September, the harvesting of this crop will be in full force. Comparing the crop with last year's crop it is rather backward, because last August at this date, farmers were picking cotton right along.

It seems that the temperance rallies which are being held over the county, are not very acceptable to the men, considering the number that attend. Yes, the fight is on, but the weakest and puniest soldiers are to be found among the men. I do actually believe they think the proposition too great an undertaking and from what one can hear them say, a century from now on will be plenty of time to take up this prohibition question, that the land might be rid of this dastardly evil. But mind you, if this evil curse continues another hundred years, the devil himself will be mortally ashamed of having had a hand in the business.

The addresses made by Rev. L. L. Wagon and Rev. L. M. Rice, at the temperance rally last Saturday at Duck Pond church were of a very high standard and those failing to come and hear these addresses will surely feel a deep regret for not taking interest enough to attend. The day was very pleasantly spent. A grand and sumptuous dinner was another feature that added pleasure to the occasion.

Mr. J. K. Breedin, secretary of the State prohibition committee, gave a fine address to a large congregation at Duck Pond last Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

Rev. D. W. Garvin, delivered a very impressive sermon to the young people of Oakland school last Saturday night. If it will be heeded, they will certainly not go wrong.

Mr. J. G. Young, Jr., in company with several others are enjoying a camping expedition at Black Springs on the Forest this week.

Miss Louise Littlejohn, of Spartanburg, is isiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. E. Black.

Miss Eunice Bobo returned home Friday after spending several days with relatives near Lockhart.

Miss Annie Lee, of West Springs, spent the week-end with relatives Mesdames F. M. Hinson and Leroy David, of Bennettsville, are spending some time with their mother, Mrs. Belle Goudelock.
