CARD OF THANKS

We take this means to thank our many friends for their kindnesses and for their floral offerings at the departure of our mother Mrs. Mariah Timpson. We especially thank the pastor of Jones Chapel church, Rev. A. E. Lomax for his sympathetic and encouraging words.

MRS. LUVENIA TREZEVANT, and the Timpson family.

LOOK OUT FOR THE BIG PAGEANT OF FASHIONS, HEALTH AND BEAUTY, THE GREAT-EST EVENT OF THE SEASON.

A Big Thanksgiving affair to be staged under the auspices of the Columbia branch of the Lucy Laney League of New York City, Tuesday, December 7, 1926, at the Royal thetre. MR. CHAS. C. DAVIS, President of the Lucy Laney League West 133rd Street, New York City.

FAIRWOLD NOTES. We wish to thank Dr. Sims, the veterinary surgeon for his kindness to us. We had a very sick cow last week, and the vet was hopelessly ill. Called Dr. Sims and he came to us at once and saved Bossie. He made the second visit the next morning. When he was asked for his bill, he said, that he had no bill. His services were rendered free to the institution. So in behalf of the inmates, trustees and workers I thank him very much for this act of charity.

Ethel S. Martin, Supt. LE CERCLE ENTRE NOUS.

"Le Cercle Entre Nous" were the guests of Miss Lillian Watts, at her home on Pulaski street, on Wednesday evening November eleventh. The first half hour was devoted to business of the Club. The successful players were awarded unusually beautiful gifts, namely the first and consolation to Mesdames N. A. Jenkins and C. E. Stephenson respectively, artistically designed boudoir pillows. Mrs. M. G. Dickson received a pretty bud vase as booty. A tasty salad course with punch was served.

A LETTER TO SANTA CLAUS.

2206 Senate Street, Columbia, S. C., Nov. 16, 1926. Dear Santa Claus:

You know its nearing Christmas and I just thought I'd send you a little missive to inform you not to forget me.

I have been a good little girl, as mamma says I have, so please don't pass my house by, just stop and leave a few things that sweet girls like to have, a doll, carriage and a doll with eyes of blue; some apples, oranges, nuts and candy too.

Bye, bye Santa, Please answer this Christmas eve. Little Bertha Mae Goggins.

MRS. LAURA ROBINSON FORMER COLUMBIAN PASSES IN LAWRENCEVILLE, VA.

Mrs. Laura Robinson, formerly a resident of Columbia, died in Lawrenceville, Va., Oct. 20th, 1926. She left her home to live in Virginia with her daughter and son in law about 17 years ago. She had been a sufferer for about one year, but bore her afflictions with Christian fortitude. She was one among the first members of 1st Calvary Baptist church, while at home. Those who knew her remember the many deeds of kindness she did while there.

She was buried Oct. 22nd, 1926 from St. Paul Memorial Chapel, amid a host of sorrowing friends. She was loved by old and young.

Her grave was covered with the most beautiful flowers. The services were conducted by Archdeacon James S. Russell, assisted by his son, Rev. J. Alvin Russell. Sleep on dear mother, we shall meet you in the Great Beyond. Pauline Robinson-Watson, daughter, Alex. E. Watson, son in law, Glyndal S. Watson, grand son.

"COMBAT" A TALE OF LOVE TO BE SPECIAL FEATURE AT THE ROYAL THEATRE—THURSDAY THANKSGIVING DAY.

All the poetry and drama of the lumber camp in other words, all the softness and all the hardness of the lumberjack, have been put into "Combat," the Universal Jewel starring House Peters, which will appear on the screen at the Royal Theatre, Thursday, day and night, Thanksgiving.

Moments range from deadly fights to love. From fierce combat, from hate to rivalry in affairs of love, both carried on, by the way, in the lumberjack's own rugged way.

House Peters is the center of all action. He plays a roughneck role, a sort of character in which he stands alone above all other screen stars. He is pre-eminently fitted for this sort of characterization with his immense well formed body, his handsome features and his charming personality. Another person well cast as a contrast to Peters is Wanda Hawley. The small leading lady whose delicate wistfulness is opposed to Peters' rugged strength.

The picture is admirably directed by Lynn Reynolds, and has an excellent supporting cast. The work of C. E. Anderson, as the leader of a gang of lumber poachers, and Walter McGrath, as the weakling aspirant for the superintendency, is well done.

One of the most spectacular forest fires ever screened occupies the most prominent berth of being the climax of the picture. This sequence is well done and is jammed with even more thrills than the earlier part of the picture, which seems to be as exciting as mortal man can make it.

Excellent support is furnished by C. E. Anderson, Charles Mailes, Steve Clemento and Howard Truesdell.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my darling husband, father, son and brother, I. D. Watson, who departed this life November 21st, 1925 at Philadelphia, Pa.

Dearest, precious husband, it's one long year since you departed this life, but one year seems like eternity to me. Oh! how I miss you no mortal knows; and God alone can comfort me in my loneliness and sorrow. Days of sadness still come over me, secret tears do often flow, memory keeps you always near me, though you died one year ago.

THANKSGIVING PRAYER FOR ANIMALS.

The American Humane Education Society of Boston has sent out the following prayer for animals, that is printed here as a suggestion for Thanksgiving Day services to The Palmetto Leader readers. The words are taken from Frederick Rowland Marvin, and can be secured by writing the Society. It is printed on a small card as follows:

Our heavenly Father have mercy, we beseech Thee, upon all animals of whatever kind, but especially upon such as must work for man's comfort and welfare. Give unto us and unto all men a gentle and compassionate spirit, that we may deal rightly with Thy creatures under all circumstances and at all times. Have peculiar mercy, we pray Thee, upon such animals as have brutal owners, drivers and masters. Grant that we may, none of us, increase, through ignorance, thoughtlessness, selfishness, or violence of temper, the suffering of such Thy creatures as must surrender their lives that we may have food. And, guided and directed by Thee, may we practice mercy and show a compassionate spirit in whatever measures we take for the destruction of such animals as must be destroyed for man's safety and welfare. In all our relations to living creatures, may we be just, gentle and kind; gratefully remembering the goodness of God to us in bestowing upon us human reason and sovereignty over all living creatures. These and all other good things, we ask in the name of our Savior who, when upon earth, said of the birds, "Not one of them is forgotten before God." Amen.
