Sunday at Trinity A. M. E. church was a high day. Bishop John Hurst, accompanied by Mrs. Hurst, and three of their lady friends from Florida along with Dr. D. H. Sims motored down from Columbia and worshipped with us at Trinity.

The Bishop preached a wonderful sermon, and confirmed a board of Deaconesses. Mrs. Hurst was presented a beautiful bouquet by Mrs. Eddie Walker as an appreciation from the Missionary ladies of Trinity A. M. E. church.

After services Brother E. Walker made a welcome address on behalf of the church. Brother Jake Sumpter represented the Baptist church. At the conclusion of the sermon, Mrs. Stella Jenkins, representing the Ladies Auxiliary presented the Pastor a purse of seventy six dollars ($76.00)

Mrs. Hurst spoke very feelingly in her response, and made a wonderful impression upon the members and friends of Trinity.

The music for the entire service was grand. The big Four Quartette assisted other local talent of the church in musical numbers. The choir seems to have been at its best.

After a palatable dinner served at the Manse, the Bishop and his party motored to St. Paul at Liberty Hill church, where he preached for Dr. D. P. Pendergrass.

At the night services Prof. Mitchell, representing Voorhees Institute at Denmark, spoke in interest of the school. Dr. and Mrs. Pendergrass were present and spoke. A supplement of ten dollars was added to the Pastor's gift, making a total of $86. Thus ended a fine day at Trinity A. M. E. church.

Rev. Parker, accompanied by Mrs. Eddie Walker motored to St. Matthews where they attended the Conference Branch Missionary Convention. They reported a fine trip, as well as a fine session.

Mrs. Julia Mae Rhodes is in town from New York, visiting her father, who is very sick.

CHERAW NEWS.

Cheraw was visited by the storm that has been so destructive to many localities. The storm reached Tuesday morning, but was not furious until late at night. Trees were uprooted, the rain fell in torrents, a cave-in was reported on the Seaboard railroad. Crops were greatly damaged, and in the low grounds cattle and hogs were drowned. The water reached a depth of 42 feet in the Pee Dee river. This proved to be the greatest disturbance since 1908.

Mr. Alphonso Poe of this city and a college student of Johnson C. Smith university, gave a practical and profitable talk to the junior and senior classes of Robert Smalls, Monday. Mr. Poe said: "Steam and electricity have worked a transformation in our economic life." This he followed with a few facts showing how the forces had replaced the worker of yesterday and the possibility of their replacing those of tomorrow. The classes were urged to take advantage of the opportunities which they now enjoy. Mr. Poe concluded with a poem on fate.

The funeral services of Miss Rosa White was held at the M. E. church Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Miss White had been sick for several weeks, and her death marks the close of a successful christian life. A large

The B. Y. P. U. is still alive and has a number of boys and girls who are busy trying to keep it so. The program rendered Sunday night was interesting and inspiring to all present. This league is making use of those boys and girls who have attended college, and is offering them an opportunity to do real christian service.

The Kick-Off social given by the Junior League Thursday evening at the Robert Smalls school auditorium was greatly enjoyed and seemed to be a revival through social activities of real wholesome relations among the young people. This social was largely attended and those present made themselves happy imbibing the spirit of the occasion. Several times did the young people waltz gracefully to and fro across the floor by the enchanting strains of music by our gifted Mr. McKay. There were tables for linch, whist, bride and five hundred. Then came the program, expressions from a number of school boys and girls, officers of the league, and Mrs. Green. After the program the guests were served to a luscious repast. Everyone is anxious for the league to continue its hospitality.
