ALLEN AND BENEDICT TO PLAY CHARITY GAME ON MELTON FIELD

CHARITY GAME TO BE STAGED BY ALLEN AND BENEDICT ON MELTON FIELD SATURDAY.

Strong colored college teams will entertain all Columbia to benefit unemployment situation. Great game is expected as teams are evenly matched.

Allen Yellow Jackets and the fighting "Deacons" of Benedict will meet in a post series game on Melton Field, Saturday, (today.)

The battle between the two colleges is being staged for charity. The entire proceeds will go to the consolidated relief committee and will be used in Columbia of which it is said seventy-five per cent are colored.

Mr. Geo. J. Howell the director of the relief, has the assurance of President Sims and President Starks that the game will be staged and the officials of both schools are co-operative in the efforts to relieve suffering in Columbia. Dr. D. M. Douglass, president of the University of South Carolina offered the use of Melton Field, and four bands will be present to enliven the occasion.

These teams have already played two games. The first was played at the Colored State Fair and resulted in a tie 0-0. The second game was played Thanksgiving Day on Antidel Field in Columbia and Benedict came off victorious by a score 6-0.

Both teams had put up their tugs for the season, and had decided that "we ain't gwine study war no more," but the call of charity was so strong they have come out of their state of hibernation and are having daily practices and are sure to give the public a thrill today on Milton's Field. This is the first game played by colored schools on Melton Field and each team will fight hard for victory. A loving cup and a football will be given to the winner.

Tickets for the game will be sold at the following places: Gayden Shop, Columbia Hi, Davis Hi, Dent's on Main St., Benedict College, Allen University, Lobby Shop, State Office, prices are 50 cents for students, adult $1.00. East side of Melton Field will be reserved for colored and West side for white.

Notice To Agents.

The policy of the business management is to have the very best paper possible. And following out this policy, must have the very best writers and agents. Agents must be honest and prompt. Therefore agents must report promptly to this office. Past due accounts must be settled immediately, or they will be peremptorily removed and new agents appointed to take their field. See to it that your report reaches this office before the 1st of January, 1931.

THE PALMETTO LEADER Extends To Its Readers and Advertisers CHRISTMAS GREETINGS.

Notwithstanding the depression in business, the ever increasing problem of the unemployed, THE PALMETTO LEADER has issued forth carrying good news and glad tidings, brightening the homes and carrying good cheer to the niches and corners.

The growth of this paper, as it refers to its mechanism, its staff of writers and the constant demand by its ever increasing clientele, assures it a permanent place in the capacity it has elected to serve.

THE PALMETTO LEADER endeavors to attract the best writers and reporters. The Editorial staff is composed of the best obtainable. While the contributors to the Editorial Page are as good as the country affords, "Between the Lines," and "Pointed Points" are written by modern scholars whose knowledge is enriched by much travel in this and other countries. This is augmented by the addition of Prof. Kelly Miller of national fame. The Old Gray and New Rider is contributed by a churchman of ability. Church, social and news affecting our schools and colleges is given prominent place; a whole page is given to Sports and edited by one who captained one of the great Eastern teams. Kambellgrams are read with much interest.

Our ambition is to make it a better paper next year, with the idea of progress, "everlastingly keeping at it," and meriting the cooperation of our writers, readers and advertisers. We shall ultimately reach our objective of a bigger and better PALMETTO LEADER, non-Partisan, non-Sectarian, a great weekly paper dedicated to Public Service.

HURRY! HURRY! MAKE YOUR CONTRIBUTION.

The Christmas Seals Sale is almost over; and we are asking that you not let this opportunity pass without making your contribution to support this year to meet the needs of the South Carolina Tuberculosis Association.

Do you not know that the drought and unemployment have ravaged wide groups of our citizens, bringing hunger and lower standards of living? Do you not know that this undermines vitality and develops conditions in which Tuberculosis can easily thrive? There are many appeals for help, but no better way can we spend our money than supporting the work of the South Carolina Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. R. S. Wilkinson, the chairman is being ably assisted by the following workers: Miss E. M. Slaughter, Benedict College; Mrs. D. H. Sims, Allen University; Mr. Wm. Green, Abbeville; Mrs. Louise Callahan, Allendale; Mrs. Florie Sanders, Beaufort; Mr. J. S. Shanklin, Burton; Dr. D. J. Dickson, Barnwell; Prof. J. E. Blanton, Denmark; Miss Louise Foster, Chesterfield; Mr. W. G. White, St. Paul; Prof. I. M. A. Myers, Manning; P. J. Hammit, Walterboro; Mrs. Fannie Dash, Colleton County; Prof. Wm. Bryant, Dillon; Miss Mary B. Simpkins, Edgefield; Prof. W. A. Ross, Winnsboro; Prof. H. A. Peterson, Greenwood; Miss Maggie Bampfield, Yemassee; Prof. L. E. Collier, Estill; Mrs. B. F. Levister, Conway; Miss Mary J. Earle, Ridgeland; Rev. P. B. M. Madana, Camden; Prof. E. E. Riley, Lancaster; Prof. L. C. Jenkins, Kershaw; Mrs. Annie Taylor, Aiken County; Mrs. Russell Smith Aiken; Prof. W. A. White, Gray Court; Prof. Thos. Sanders, Laurens; Miss Mattie Fisher, Bishopville; Miss Mozelle Taggart, McCormick County; Prof. Charles D. Wright, Bennettsville; Prof. U. S. Gallman, Newberry; Prof. Wm. Scott, Walhalla; Prof. Raymond Arnold, Seneca; Mrs. Dora Daniels, Orangeburg and the two colleges; Prof. J. T. Simpson, Easley; Miss Geneva Wallace, Pickens; Prof. S. S. Hammond, Ridge Spring; Mrs. Sarah Humphries, Union; Prof. Wm. Anderson, Kingstree; Prof. E. R. Barr, Greeleyville; Prof. Willie Morgan, York. We have just recently visited or heard from each of these members and the reports are very encouraging.

Tuberculosis robbed South Carolina of 1389 lives last year. This was 117 less than in 1928. It will take less every year as people learn how to prevent it. That is why you are asked to buy the Christmas Seals. Remember that 1300 of these folks died from Tuberculosis were too young to die. And due to the unemployment of our people, many are going to suffer this winter from hunger, cold and shelter. And let us ask ourselves a question as we make our Christmas Budget—Are we going to give to those who do not need or have as much as we; or are we going to translate and transmit our help to the great and unfavored masses?

There can be no real Christmas to real christians knowing that their neighbors are in need. So let us not hold back or hold up or put off until next year. WE MUST RAISE SOME MONEY. We must have some more county nurses; we must have more and better hospitals. We must reduce Tuberculosis and we can not do these things unless we unite against the common enemy Don't forget to send your contribution in. If you can not get in touch with your County Chairman, write or send to Mr. C. A. Johnson, Columbia, S. C., or Miss Eldee Dozier Spartanburg, S. C.

STATE COLLEGE NOTES

Orangeburg, S. C., Dec. 15, 1930. For the holiday recess, school will close the afternoon of December 23 and resume the following Monday morning, December 29. Parents and patrons are asked to cooperate in having their children follow these regulations and return to the institution promptly.

Extension Courses The College through its Department of Education is preparing an extension program in cooperation with the Board of Education of Richland County for teachers working under that system. Several professors have been assigned to work, to begin after the holidays. Persons interested may consult the Superintendent of Richland County or Prof. C. A. Johnson, Supervising Principal of Colored Schools in Columbia.

Miss Rosamond Alston, rendered service in the special institute for teachers of Anderson County, December 13. She presented Methods in Primary Education. Prof. Wm. H. Bell will organize and direct the extension course for teachers of Clarendon County, during the winter. This program was started December 13.

Visitors Mr. E. H. Shinn, Senior Agriculturalist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, spent Tuesday at the College going over plans looking to the proposed summer school for extension workers to be held next summer thru the support of the Julius Rosenwald Fund.

Mr. George S. Schuyler of New York City was a special lecturer at the College December 12. Prof. J. R. Van Pelt of Gammon Theological Seminary of Atlanta spoke at chapel exercises, 11:30 A. M., December 12. Rev. E. L. Baskerville of Charleston was also at the College, December 12th.

State College is the center of the unemployment relief program in Orangeburg County under the leadership of Farm Demonstration Agent George W. Daniels, assisted by the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Marie Burch. Through these agencies the county has been well organized and a constructive program set in motion.

Work is rapidly progressing on the college gymnasium. It is hoped that it will be completed by the last of March. The architectural designs and specifications indicate that the building will be suited to every recreational activity of the College with modern equipment and conveniences. Among its hygienic facilities will be a swimming pool of standard dimensions, which will meet one of the most important demands in modern health programs.

EX-CONGRESSMAN HON. A. FRANK LEVER LATE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

TALKS AT BENEDICT COLLEGE

Col. John K. Aull At Speaking. Talks of Cotton and Agriculture To College Students. Farmers United To Solve Over Cotton Production.

Southern Negro farmers are coming into their own, calling farm conferences and get-togethers for the purpose of cooperating with the Federal Farm Loan Board at Washington in reducing the over production of cotton in the south. With this problem of over cotton production, comes a greater program among the South Carolina Negro farmers in planting more vegetables and fruits because of the iodine content in the foods planted in this State. It was this program as outlined by Seymour Carroll, chairman of the State Negro Committee of the South Carolina Natural Resources Commission at the opening of the conference held at Benedict College Friday morning in the college auditorium.

Col. John K. Aull, distinguished writer and executive secretary of the commission in his short remarks outlined the program of the commission named by the Governor two years ago, telling of its accomplishments and of the great progress it has made since the establishment of the commission. He urged his hearers to eat more and only South Carolina foods because of their food values. Col. Aull was presented by President John Jacob Starks of Benedict College and the Colonel presented former Congressman Asbury Frank Lever, recent candidate for Governor of the State, and now field representative of the Federal Farm Loan Board.

In his opening address, Congressman Lever reviewed the work of the Farm Board, pointing out the fact that the American farmers have oh hand at present more than half of the cotton crop for next year. "The world is able to use about 26,000,000 bales of cotton, with the American cotton farmers producing 14,000,000 bales of cotton, he stated that for the present we have now in warehouses and on farms and in the field about 8,000,000 bales of cotton, a million more than half of the cotton crop for next year.

It is the program of the Federal Farm Loan Board to reduce the 1931 cotton crop, so as to safeguard the interest of the farmers of this country. Closer cooperation, improvements in the farm movement along all lines were points stressed by Mr. Lever. Mr. Lever gave a lengthy talk on the agricultural activities among the farmers of this State. His address was quickly responded to by his audience that was made up of people from every county in the State.

Goes To Orangeburg. At the mid-winter Farmers Conference at the State College at Orangeburg, Congressman Lever stated to the Press as his headquarters on East Gervais street today that he had accepted an invitation to address the farmers and County Farm Agents at Orangeburg, upon the invitation of Dr. R. Shaw Wilkinson, the president. A like meeting was arranged for him at Raleigh, N. C., where he spoke to the Negro County Farm agents of North Carolina at their annual meeting a week ago. Arrangements are being made by friends to have Mr. Lever to speak at the Georgia State Industrial College at Savannah, Ga. Dr. Benj. F. Hubert, a former citizen of South Carolina is now the president of the Georgia State College.

Federal Farm Loan Board. The Federal Farm Loan Board is about to inaugurate a program of cotton reduction among Negro farmers all over the South. The several talks of Mr. Lever in recent weeks is only a beginning of this extensive farm program on the cotton question in the South-east.

CHESTER PARAGRAPH

Snow fell all Tuesday night. Citizens were surprised on Wednesday morning to find it at a depth of 4 or 5 inches.

"Baby Christ ne" the daughter of Mrs. Julia Baum McDonald is spending sometime in Columbia at the home of Mrs. Frank Gladden. Little "Tene," as she is called by all, is missed a great deal in the home of her grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Baum.

The body of Mr. Will Atkins, who died in High Point, N. C., was brought here for burial last week.

Mr. C. Stevenson had an automobile accident on Saturday night on the Lowrys Highway when the radius rod on his car broke. In the car with Mr. Stevenson were a mother and her little children. All were thrown out but none received any injuries except Mr. Stevenson, who sustained a few scratches. The car was almost completely torn to pieces and the escape of the occupants were indeed miraculous.

Mr. J. E. Spann, Undertaker and Embalmer, has bought part interest in the firm of Mr. Woods, of Spartanburg, and is dividing his time between Chester and Spartanburg.

Mrs. Jennie C. Baum received a telegram Tuesday telling of the critical illness of her sister, Mrs. Lucy Green, in a Massachusetts city.

Mrs. Harriet Leach, Mrs. Martha Wright, Mr. Lucius Leach, received the sad news of the death of their brother, Mr. Samuel Leach, in Bennettsville, Monday. Mr. Leach was the son of Mrs. Harriet Leach, and brother of the latter two. They left Thursday for Bennettsville to attend the funeral.

Mr. Frank McFadden, received a message telling of his father's death in Sumter Tuesday.

Mr. Tom Kennedy received a message Tuesday telling of the death of his brother in Gastonia.

Mrs. Sarah Vance died at her home on Simons Street on Tuesday afternoon.

All of these deaths have brought a gloom of sadness to relatives and friends. The bereaved families are extended sympathy in their sorrow.

The Chapel at Bainerd Institute filled Sunday evening to witness a Candle Light Christmas Pageant, given by the Christian Endeavor Society under the direction of Miss Bernice Allen, one of the instructors. It was a beautiful scene as the students marched in, dressed in white, carrying lighted candles, and pausing here and there as they sang appropriate carols. Miss Allen is the older daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. Allen, and is a recent graduate of Howard University. She is English teacher at the above school. The pageant was enjoyed by all present.

The Chester County Teachers' Association was well attended Saturday morning at Finley Hi. All of the officers of last year, were re-elected. Addresses were made by Hon. J. B. Felton, State Agent of Negro Schools; Mr. J. E. Nunery, County Superintendent of Education. After a business meeting.

The teachers listened to the following ladies who spoke on "Summer School Impressions." Mrs. Bessie B. Douglass, Hampton Institute; Miss Minnie Bradford, Columbia University; Mrs. Martha Walker, Piedmont Summer School; Miss Laura Hinton, A. and T. Summer School. After an interesting meeting, all adjourned to meet January 10, 1931.

Miss Emma Walker, is at home from State College.

Finley Hi will close for the holidays, December 23, and open January 7.

The Elks will give Christmas baskets to old and decrepit people of the community, and thus bring cheer to their hearts.

HARBISON NOTES

On Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, December 12, we had a very interesting basket ball game on the Cunningham field, played between the Junior High Class and the Senior preparatory. There were several excellent plays made by both teams, but in the end the Senior Preps subdued the Juniors.

Sunday afternoon there was a Christmas program given by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Sims First Presbyterian Church, of which Mr. John Ira Hall is President. The young people made themselves responsible for a basket to be given to the most needy at Christmas time. This project is being sponsored by the community with Prof. R. W. Bourlware as chairman.

The Y. M. C. A. had its regular meeting at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. We were favored with an address from Prof. A. P. Butler, who gave us some very interesting remarks. He said that he was once, asked the difference between the death of Socrates and that of Jesus Christ. His reply was, "Socrates died as a philosopher; and Christ as a Saviour."

Our Christmas vacation begins the twenty-third of December and ends the first of January.

SWANSEA NEWS

Swansea graded school is very busy preparing for their Xmas holidays we are looking forward to it.

On Saturday night there was a Christmas Strut given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cornel Isaac and everybody here seem to have a lovely time. There was also a trip around the world, given for the benefit of the school. Everybody is entranced by the music which have been purchased for the Swansea graded school. Miss Knox the principal is trying to put the program over.

Miss Thelma Roache was a pleasant week-end visitor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Jeffrey. Miss Lula Mae Johnson was the week-end visitor to Columbia.

The Palmetto Leader

will not issue Dec. 27th, 1930. The Publisher wishes to give the force an opportunity of spending a Merry Christmas, free from the exacting labor of producing a newspaper. Therefore the next issue will be that of Jan. 3rd, 1931.
