BEAUFORT CO. TR. SCHOOL

Conservation Week Observed

As most high grade schools, this school is keeping alive by strongly celebrating all holidays in the form of programs, etc. On Friday the Education division of the Five Year Plan of which Miss Edith Jackson is chairman, again presented a program. Speakers were little Carrie Singleton, Messrs. Samuel Singleton, George Saxon, Miss Victoria Frazier and Thelma Shanklin.

The Pre-Thanksgiving services were conducted by Miss Victoria Frazier, second grade teacher. At the usual vesper hour each student read a verse of thanks from the Bible. Teachers also took advantage of this service and each uttered a verse of thanks. The climax was reached when Miss M. Perry recited an original poem. "You cannot be happy unless you make some one else happy," Prin. Shanklin.

The people in this community have decided to put the above statement into practice. On Thanksgiving day those who do not have are supposed to dine with those who have. This special effort is made with the hope that the Thanksgiving spirit will prevail throughout.

Distinguished visitors were Mr. Hunt and Mr. Evans of Washington, D. C. These men were special guest speakers at St. Helena Island Farmers' Fair.

PENDLETON NEWS

Silver Spring was highly entertained on the last Thursday in October at the home of Mrs. Pickett.

After the program was carried to the C. C. hotel by Mrs. Pickett and delicious chicken salad, hot tea, ice cream and cake were served. Silver Spring wants Mrs. Pickett to know we highly appreciate her hospitality.

FRIENDSHIP A.M.E. CHURCH

Rev. C. A. Williams, Pastor We had as guest our District S. S. Superintendent, Mr. Philip Bennett who instructed the lesson. The point stressed was "A Sure Foundation". And being sure of the material used in erecting a foundation spiritual, and socially. Mr. Bennett also worshiped in the morning services.
