FINLEY HIGH NEWS.

By A. D. Johnson

Chester-Finley High Blue Jackets and Sims High Tigers battled to a 0-0, deadlock at the Chester County Fairground before about 1500 people on a rain soaked field. The Blue Jackets threatened the Tigers goal four times but were not able to cross the mark. The Blue Jackets closed the season with two defeats by Sterling of Greenville and the Mather Eagles of Camden. The Jackets will be ready to make a record in the Palmetto State next fall.

The boys around Finley are all thinking about basket ball. Watch the Purple Five go through the State like a Tornado.

ST. ALBAN TR. SCHOOL

A large number attended the production meeting in the Agricultural building on Monday night. A larger number is expected on Thursday night. Prof. Denny is in charge of the discussions.

Prof. John P. Burgess spent the night on the campus Thursday of last week, and expressed himself as being pleased with the improvements around the school.

The attendance continues to improve each day. New students continue to register on the campus—the girls' quarters are about to their capacity.

Those appearing on program last week were Miss Anna Mae McAllister and Little Misses Mattie Mae and Willie Lou Miller.

The boys and girls are expected to play a game of basket ball in the near future.

Tucker-Pogue Marriage Beautiful Affair

Miss Marjah Louise Tucker and David Solomon Pogue were married Wednesday evening November 24, 1937 at six o'clock in Bethel A. M. E. church. The Rev. S. H. Lewis, pastor of the bride, read the vows.

Pails, white lighted tapers in "andelabra and two large baskets of white chrysanthemums effectively decorated the chancel for the interesting event.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Lila T. Bates at the console of the organ rendered a delightful program of nuptial music, including: "Narcissus" by Nevin and played softly during the ceremony "To a Wild-Rose" by McDowell. "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was used for the professional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional. Mrs. Laura Maney of Columbia, classmate of the bride sang, "How Sweet to Know" by Vanderpool.

The usher-groomsman were: Edward H. Smith, Sumter; William T. Nelson, Camden; Joseph A. Gresham, Anderson and Fletcher Janerette, Columbia.

The bride-maids were: Misses Helen E. Powers, Asheville, N. C.; Mary F. Smith, Jessye W. Smith, Greenwood, all cousins of the bride and Miss L. Bivir, Greenville, classmate of the bride. They wore moire taffeta dresses made with wide skirts, new square neck line slightly pointed in front with puff sleeves, in colors of gold, blue, peach and rose. Their bouquets were of chrysanthemums. Miss Ruby Boykin, of Sumter, was the maid of honor, her dress of green moire taffeta was made along the same lines as the maids. She wore a Juliet cap of gold sequins with a veil and carried a bouquet of Talsman and yellow roses.

The bride who was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Bessie Powers Tucker, wore a wedding gown of antique ivory satin, made with high bodice, scalloped neckline. The long, full sleeves ended in a point falling over the wrists and the graceful skirt extended into a very long train at the back.

Her double veil of white tulle was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible showered with fern and lilies of the valley.

Isaiah P. Pogue, Jr., of Sumter, cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man.

Mrs. Tucker, mother of the bride, was charming in her dress of powdered blue lace fashioned

TWILIGHT SOCIAL CLUB.

St. Matthews—The Twilight Social Club met at the home of Miss Nora Felter. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss O. B. Addison. Devotionals were conducted by the chaplain, Mrs. Rosa Goodwin. The president took charge. Old and new business was discussed. After the business affairs many games were enjoyed. The hostess served hot chocolate and cookies. The meeting adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. Goodwin and Fannie B. Guinyard on Tuesday, Dec. 7.

AIKEN COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

By Richard F. Boulware

The Aiken County Colored Teachers' Association held its last meeting for the year at the Aiken Graded school on Saturday, December 4, at 10:30 a.m.

The usual trend of devotional program was had and the teachers immediately went to the various groups for class room discussions of the many appropriate subjects concerning the teacher, the child and the parent.

The groups, very alert and full of enthusiasm, created much interest in the discussions. Stimulating interest in the PTA was discussed in one group. Different individuals expressed their opinions of how better P T Associations can be had and how the attendance may be increased to a desirable number. "Arrange for a varied program in PTA so that a continual interest will be kept" said a member of the group. In carrying the meeting to another point, facilitation of teaching the alphabetics to the children was brought about inasmuch as they are not taught in sequence as they have been taught.

After the groups completed their discussions, the teachers again gathered in the meeting room and listened to Miss Alice Shuler, Asst. Sec. of the Association, who clearly illustrated how to keep the register in proper condition so that the teachers might have no dilemma in making out their monthly and annual reports. Much information was gotten from Miss Shuler's illustration and the exchange of ideas and knowledge given by different members of the Association lead to very good understanding in making out reports.

Miss Justine E. Wilkinson, the Jeanes teacher of Aiken County, urged the teachers to sell as many Christmas seals as possible as the result goes to better health building and to the benefit of Tuberculosis.

Through the Jeanes teacher, a playlet of health was given by the ninth and tenth grades of the Schofield school in behalf of the Aiken County Tuberculosis Association. The playlet was directed by Mrs. L. A. Brady; it opened with Prof. Edward Morgan playing "Silent Night," it was conducted in a broadcast form. The characters in the playlet splendidly brought out the necessity of good health; it was very efficiently carried out and highly enjoyed by the Association.

with a short coat of the same lace, having short puffed sleeves, high neckline finished with a scalloped Peter-Pan collar, and a row of lace-covered buttons fastened the coat in front. Her corsage was of pink rose-buds.

Mrs. Marie Pogue, step-mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of black velvet and crepe. Her corsage was of red roses.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride's mother entertained at an informal reception at her home on Pendleton street for the wedding party and friends.

In the dining room, the large wedding cake, with its miniature bride and bridegroom decoration, made the centerpiece for the lace-covered table. During the evening ice cream and cake were served to the guests.

Receiving with the bride and groom were the bride and groom, with wedding attendants. Among those assisting at the reception were: Mesdames Laura Maney, Gladys Daniels, I. P. Pogue, Marie Pogue, Louise Garv, Willie Watson, Howard Williams, Carrie Hampton; Misses Mary Pogue, sister of the bridegroom, Thelma and Genevieve Smith, Ernestine and Dorothy Pogue and Mr. Theodore Simmons. Miss Maude E. Johnson had charge of the bride's register.

Mrs. Pogue, much admired member of the younger society set of Columbia is the only child of Mrs. Joseph Andrew Tucker and the late Mr. Tucker, her mother being the former Miss Bessie Mae Powers of Greenwood. The bride was educated at Allen University and S. C. State College and is a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. She is employed as secretary to the president of Allen University, Columbia.

Rev. Pogue is the only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Pogue of Sumter. He received his education at Johnson C. Smith University in Charlotte and is a member of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity. He is pastor of the Salem Presbyterian church in Anderson.

After spending Thanksgiving Day with the bride's mother, the couple left on Friday to Anderson where they were entertained that night by the members of the Salem Presbyterian church with a lovely reception at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Burris. On Wednesday they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. P. Quarles with a delightful miscellaneous shower.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY AND PROGRAM BY COUNTY COUNCIL OF FARM WOMEN.

Aiken.—The Council of Farm Women held its Annual Achievement Day and Program, Saturday December 4, 1937 in the Public School building of Aiken. A room decorated with smilax and hand made roses was very pleasing to one's eye as a background for the best exhibits from 12 communities in the County. The exhibits were carefully selected and arranged so that each Community would have a booth. The exhibits consisted of neatly made sport and afternoon dresses, candlewick bed spreads, stenciled dresser scarfs, table runners and pillow cases, embroidery work quilts, rugs made from burlap, old stockings and scrap pieces of material, oil floor lamps, iceless ice boxes and scrap books made by 4-H'ers. Choice selection of canned fruits, vegetables, preserves, jellies, jams and pickles added much to the beauty of each booth.

The outstanding feature of the day was the ending of the Ball Canning contest. This contest was put on early last summer. The fruit and vegetables canned in quart size jars were judged from the following points: attractiveness, quality, quantity and variety. Those having met the requirements were: (fruit) first, Mrs. Effie Schofield, Wagner; second, Mrs. Addie Burris, Ocean Grove; third, Mrs. Fannie Stevens, Mossy Creek; Mrs. Lola Isaac, Wagner; fourth, Mrs. Pinkie Johnson, Pleasant Hill; (vegetables) first, Mrs. Sallie Burris, Ocean Grove; second, Mrs. Inez Weatherbe, Windsor; third Mrs. Lou Williams, Wagner; fourth, Mrs. Cleo Allen, Windsor; fifth, Mrs. Ester Jeffcoat, Wagner.

Among the many spectators and visitors to view the exhibits were the County Teachers of Aiken, Miss Bessie Harper, District Home Agent; Mrs. Marian B. Paul, State Negro Home Agent and Mrs. Frances Thomas, Negro Home Agent, Columbia.

A short program added a decided amount of interest to all present. The main speaker was Mr. A. R. McCollum of Schofield School, Aiken, who made a very impressive address on Rural Land

The next meeting will be held January 8, 1938, at 10:30 a.m., at the usual place.

NEWS IN AND AROUND

WASHINGTON, D. C.

B. J. O. Hall

Washington, D. C.—Mr. Roosevelt went several days off the coast of Florida after his short illness and returned last Monday.

Congress seems to be in no mood for work at all. The main bills that the President expects them to pass seem to hit snags. If Congress doesn't do something in the next week or so the extra session will have merited but little.

The old white goose has begun to shed her feathers around the District, which puts an end to the pleasant autumn weather which we have had.

Prof. I. M. A. Myers Librarian of Allen University and executive secretary of the State Alumni Association, was here last week to attend the conference of the Farm Security Administration. While here the A. U. club had a call meeting in order that Mr. Myers might convey the progress of the school and the plans for further progress.

He told the club about the $3500 immediate drive which was on for two specific projects and one was the Library. A splendid talk he gave which interested everyone. Then the President opened the house for free discussion, after which Mr. Harold Johnson made a motion that the club give a certain sum. It was seconded by Mrs. Whatley. The sum was $45 for the Library.

The Southernairs, the colored most outstanding male quartet of the radio, performed before a crowd of 2500 Friday night 3, at the Metropolitan A. M. E. church sponsored by the Colored Post of the American Legion.

Mr. Edward Wilson of Florence S. C. and a '37 graduate of State A. and M. college of Orangeburg, S. C., is making his home here.

Miss Azora Martin is ill in hospital, but she is some better, hoping to be out soon.

escaping. He advised all present to divide their home surroundings into three areas; namely, public, private and service. These areas should be developed in an informal or formal way. He further stated that even the shrub or flower growing in the forest can be made a healthy leafy shrub and blossom more if only care and cultivation is given them around the home, school and church grounds. His illustrations were so realistic that a special project will be developed on exterior beautification.

Prizes were presented to the winner of the Kitchen improvement project and to the winners of the Ocean Grove Community Fair. First and second awards of blue and red ribbons were given the communities having the most attractive booths.
