The Dillon District Conference

The Dillon District conference convened May 11, 12 at Floydale, S. C., amid a setting of sublime peace and serenity that is characteristic of its able and efficient leader, Elder L. A. Wells and his five ministerial and laymen coworkers.

Organization was immediately gone into and a precedent was established in the manner of the conference unanimously electing Levi DeLaine secretary of the meeting.

The splendid wife of the presiding elder Mrs. L. A. Wells was likewise elected organist and served most efficiently.

In his opening remarks our beloved presiding elder set forth some admonitory remarks asking that the brethren allow only peace and blissfulness to invade our meeting, thus depicting the type of gentleman we have as a leader, and we are justly proud of him.

The financial reports of the various charges were above the keenest anticipation and the district reported 100 per cent financially.

Thursday afternoon the color of the meeting was enhanced by the visitation of several of our leading dignitaries of our church. First to come were Drs. R. L. Pope of Sumter; J. L. Benbow of the Kingstree district and A. P. Spears of the Marion district. Each of these men thrilled the conference by their remarks, pulsating with oratory, logic and truths.

More splendor and eminence was added a few minutes later when our esteemed Bishop Flipper and his entourage consisting of Drs. E. F. G. Dent, J. S. Coe, T. J. Miles, J. M. Harrison, J. E. Thomas and Prof. C. G. Garrett graced the edifice with their presence and were introduced to the body.

Bishop Flipper was eloquent in his dissertation upon "The Duty of a Minister is to preach". He said "to preach Jesus Christ instead of so many big words and philosophical characters"; also "the essence of preaching is energy and it must be done with force, no one can feel a sermon you can't feel yourself". "Regardless of culture and refinement of the individual, when the word of God is forcibly injected into the heart they'll move for joy".

Dr. Miles spoke of his aspirations for the Biskopric. Dr. Dent said his hat is in the ring for the presidency of Allen university.

Prof. Garrett spoke voiceferously for Drs. Dent and Miles, also for the return of Bishop Flipper.

REV. A. M. MEANS, Sparta, S. C.

BETHLEHEM BAPT. CHURCH

Rev. Eddie Davis, Pastor

On Sunday we had a glorious time, the entire day, it was a continuation of our wonderful revival being conducted by Rev. A. M. Means, of Sparta, S. C. The conductor of this meeting has poured out Gospel truths each night, among his most impressive sermons, these are the themes: "The Only Cure for Dissipation," "Clean Out Your Well," "As a Man Thinketh So Is He," "The Hope of the Christian Church," and "If Thou Knewest." The latter message was delivered Monday night by the minister's brother Rev. R. P. Means.

On Sunday, our pastor delivered two soul stirring messages "The World Needs Joy" and "Hell is a Dry Town." The Usher Board contestants made a very nice report at Union Baptist Sunday afternoon of $188.00 and we wish to thank those that helped in this effort. On Friday night we will close this revival with our regular order of services and baptism.

Long may this man of God live to preach truths to men and women, saints and sinners. Our spirits have been renewed; our spiritual strength increased and many added to our fold of Christian faith. Mrs. Davis' mother, brother of Elloree and sister of New York, dined at the parsonage last Friday and motored back Friday night.

Rev. B. S. Taylor responded to all of the above speaks on the behalf of the conference.

Four very appropriate sermons were delivered at the conference by Revs. McEachen, B. S. Taylor, McClam and S. Chism.

Among other prominent visitors were Revs. J. M. Jackson, Rouse of Lumberton, N. C.; Rouse of M. E. church, Little Rock; J. H. Holman, M. M. Martin and Rev. W. E. Richardson, Florence station, who came as an authorized emissary of goodwill from the Florence district in the absence of Dr. Janerette. He delivered his mission after which Rev. N. S. DeLaine responded.

The meeting was beautifully terminated by an attractive program and timely resolutions and we all are looking forward to commencement at Allen where we shall expect to return to fundamentals and not issues and men. Again Dillon District conference moves into history.

Mrs. Florine E. Hurst Endorses Dr. E. F. G. Dent For President of Allen Univ.

After reading three articles on the placing of a head at Allen University; being a true loyal Christian of the A. M. E. Connection for twenty-eight years and my late husband an itinerant elder from pioneer days; having built churches that are operating today; I do feel that I can boldly have my say in all interest of this great denomination, founded by Richard Allen, which proved that he was one of the greatest colored men who ever lived—and I believe will live.

The writer of one article mentioned who he thought would, if elected, would ally the strife—but believe me the only alleviations in the minds of race Christians is to elect Rev. E. F. G. Dent, the one of our broad-hearted Christians, the Bishop suggest ed or placed there. Those harping about E. H. McGill and his widow were and are only posing.

This great A. M. E. denomination in my native state needs clean cut christians at the head Let all get nearer to Christ, that we may treat our fellow men right We have a Bishop of the first water, so hold him and his word UP.

THE STATE OF OUR CHURCH SCHOOL

By Lewis W. Holman A Layman

We are living in a state of suspicion and distrust of racial antagonism and hatreds, and it is in the highest degree unfavorable to the progress of Missionary efforts. Those who bear the Christian Message to day are subject to an almost fatal disadvantage when the group to which they belong is the object of deep rooted dislike. We the members of the A. M. E. Church and of the State of S. C. and supporters of Allen University desire to be deeply pondered in relation to the whole situation of our school.

Christianity has been permeating the lump of human life for nineteen hundred years but the problem is not less acute now than when Jesus began to live and to preach good will to all men. Race strife is not less violent in so-called Christian lands than it is among those who have not had the blessings of the Christian religion.

When we look at some facts in the events of our school it seems almost to be a question whether even Christianity can solve it. If not, we still claim that Christianity has the element of universality adequate to bring in to one family all the peoples of the world here as well as hereafter. Christianity is the manifestation of a Spirit, an attitude of Mind, a dynamic force. It is an ideal put into human problems with a view to its solution. It is a power at work within the problem itself. It is not, then, primarily, something towards which men move, it is rather something with which men progress in the direction of their possible achievement, individually and socially. The Christian Spirit must enter into the very men and women who are most obstinately antagonistic to others who are of that same faith and must change them into real brothers. The mountains vision must be made actual in the midst of imperfect of the valley below as it stands today, the Christian solution must take all facts of human nature and experience into consideration in order that betterment may result. Biology, History, all the past are involved in the obstinate fact of race.

There is a "biological drive," a "cultural drive," there is also a "Christian drive." These must be lent humanity to come more uncooperated in order to help the vider the influence of good will to all men.

The Christian spirit must solve the problems from within the fact of human nature, strife, bitterness narrowness or confess defeat.
