Cumbertand A. M. E. Church Rev. J. P. Washington, Pastor Sunday was Junior Church day

at Cumberland, the anniversary of the Jehovah Society at St. Augustine Episcopal church, Because of the above mentioned anniversary, the congregation of Cumberland was very small as most of the prominent members belong to the above named society. The church school opened on time with a good attendance. After a brief study of the lesson, the pastor gave a brief review as Devotional service began strict on time with Mrs. L. A. Bradby at the piano and the young peo ple in the choir stand. The pastor preached an instructive and edifying sermon on the theme; The True Foundation, His was taken from I Cor. 3:11. The evening worship was highly in-spirational. Miss C. B. Priester, ship college; Miss Fletcher Coh-en, Miss Esther Knight, Bennett college; Mr. Camillus Knight, evangelist from Charleston hav ing arrived to begin a ten nights' meeting, also Prof. and Mrs. C. G. Garrett of Columbia, worshiped with us.

Miss Priester being somewhat fatigued from traveling, the pastor delivered another instructive sermon on the theme Jesus Crowd ed Out. Both Professor and Mrs. Garrett made remarks which were enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Garrett complimented the pastor n'n d congregation for their thoughtfulness in arranging and grouping the young people to-gether and training them for sere in the church.

Among some of the things Mrs Garrett said are the following: was singing ever since I was 12 vears old, but I did not have the apportunity these young people have today. I had to sing with the older members of the church. which I did not enjoy. These "oung people are grouped togeth or where they can sing and talk together. I think this is wonder Somebody was doing some sensible thinking for this is one of he finest arrangements it has een my privilege to see".

P of. Carrett thrilled his hearrs as usual both with humor and fact. Though in the evening of is life. Prof. Garrett is still acive in the affairs of the church.
